He said no, he just needs to change his mindset. He said he still probably doesn't think of butrans when he should let alone Hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	3/25/2015	Introduction to dr-followed up on Butrans pt on AARP-dr said copy of $20ish was too high-redirected to Purdue patient assistance program in hopes to get patient on Butrans because dr said its the only choice for the pt with OA-thanked him for thinking of Butrans and agreed with him great choice for pt-also reminded for tramadol pt meeting threshold-dr said that's a great choice as well and rxs it there; OxyContin-dr said he likes it to keep number of Percocet reduced when transitions to OxyContin
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	3/25/2015	Gave him maria profule and reminded him that butrans is the only schedule 3 ER opioid on the market...its a once weekly patch. If he doesn't want to write c2 pills, this is an appropriate option for patients in around the clock pain. He said he just has to start thinking of it.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/18/2015Kathy, in reading this call note you wrote, "If he doesn't want to write c2 pills, this is an appropriate option for patients in around the clock pain." What is the implication here? What could it be read as? Can you please clarify what you meant? Thank you!LARAWKA's response on 07/19/2015He has told me in the past and on this call that he is not really writing for medication that is C2. Simply pointing out that butrans is a c3 ER opioid that might be appropriate for some of his patients in. around the clock pain.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/20/2015Thank you Kathy. There is nothing in the note that says this is what he said. Similar to the other call note, the is an "instead of" case without using those words. You do not want to imply that if he doesn't want to write a CII, he may write a CIII? Why would he do that if the potential for abuse and misuse is the same? I hope you can see the implication here. Does this make sense?LARAWKA's response on 07/20/2015Yes-CHUDAKOB added notes on 07/21/2015Thank you
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	3/25/2015	Dr told me that he has to discontinue Butrans on a male patient who had been on Butrans for the last 6-8 months. Dr said that the patient had red blistered marks on every application site he had placed Butrans on. Discussed the incidence through MVA about AEs with Butrans and dr said the incidence is much higher for rash than the MVA states. Discussed that he has other options if patients can't tolerate Butrans and that hysingla may be an option or even oxycontin. Discussed Jane profile and then reviewed oxycontin patient types.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	3/27/2015	Told dr about hysingla ER attributes again and asked him if he thinks he product can be useful for patients he currently has on Norco around the clock? Dr said he can but said that Norco isn't only cheaper but easier to get through insurance. I told dr that right now for commercially insured patients it can only be $25 a month. Dr said he knows but most of his patients in chronic pain are on medicaid or medicare. I told him I understand but told him for now to just identify one commercial patient that fits the patient identification. Dr said ok. Reminded about Butrans patent types and conversions.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	3/27/2015	Dr said that he wanted to use Butrans for a patient but shortly realized that it wouldn't have worked because dr said the patient was extremely hairy and would need to remove the hair from the application sites weekly. Dr said he has a few more he is going to try Butrans on. Reminded him of the tramadol patient and asked for continued prescribing. Discussed hysingla ER as a possible solution for the hairy patient where the Butrans patch might not have been appropriate. Dr agreed and I told him to use it for those Norco patients who are taking it around the clock and still in pain. Reviewed dosing, conversions and exp,ained abuse deterrent tiers from FDA.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	3/30/2015	Using portfolio piece reminded her of products appropriate for patients in around the clock pain. Butrans has very good managed care coverage and is still the only C3 ER opioid on the market. Asked her if she has identified appropriate patient for Hysingla. She asked to me remind her about Hysingla. I did and she said that she will keep in mind. this is a very busy Monday morning for her today and she had to run.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	3/30/2015	Quick call asking if he will attend Hysingla program. He said he has to check with the "boss" to see if that date works. Reminded him that it will be a good opportunity to discuss patients in around the clock pain and one of the new options With abuse deterrent characteristics that he has for that patient. Reviewed Hysingla quickly and handed him initiation guide for butrans but we were interrupted, and he had to leave.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	3/30/2015	He was behind today and looking up information so didn't have time to talk. He will be out of town beginning April 12 through the end of the month so he can't attend the Hysingla program. He thinks he knows enough about it from me. Quickly reviewed portfolio piece and appropriate patient type for ER meds like oxycontin and Hysingla.

	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/30/2015	I told dr I'm glad he has continued to find great patient success with Butrans. I asked if he has used Butrans for patients on Norco? Dr said he has many. I asked him if there might be a way to use hysingla for those patients that may not tolerate Butrans because of the number of patients he has told me about in the past about patients experiment rash or blistering? Dr said no because the clinical evidence doesn't show positive results for long term use of hydrocodone. Dr said the buorenorphine doesn't show that. Dr said he might use it in a certain circumstance when a patient needs more than 20mcg of Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	3/30/2015	Met with med asst at front window. Left 4/9 speaker invite for Dr. Ashraf as well as NP's Kristy Perusko and Penny O'Brien Black. Also left Hysingla ER fpi. titration guide. Quickly discussed Purdue 3 product portfolio for patients who meet Extended Release opioid indication.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	3/30/2015	Met Michelle for the first time and told her about all three products and explained hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions as well as when and where to use. Told her about Butrans and OxyContin and provided her with initiation and titration guides. She said she will look over the information. Marsha Fox said that she is not credentialed to prescribe yet and she's currently working on the E-prescribing for her.
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	3/30/2015	Discussion with dr about writing products for his patients and when he writes which product. Dr said that it's very difficult to get hysingla approved right now and that Butrans is a very effective and tolerable product that gets approved easily. Dr said he's continuing to write oxycontin in the hospital and in his practice for those already on IR oxycodone or percocet. I told dr to please write what he believes is the most appropriate product based on each individual patient. Dr agreed and said he will find continued use for each.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/31/2015	Reviewed indication, opened with insight hydrocodone. Dr said she doesn't write much opioids. Reviewed indication and she did agree that she has a few patient profiles like Jane. Working with just one patient and a small patient population that may be appropriate. We discussed giving patients options that meet our indications. Dr agreed that the dosing frequency of Butrans and hysingla is something of interest to her. Talked about all three products and specifying who might be an appropriate patient for our products using the Jane profile a few different ways. Dr said abuse deter properties is of interest to her. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including the ones being promoted. Reviewed managed care. Dr said hysingla was of interest to her and she could see herself using it. She said he only hesitation would be managed care. Gave her grids and did. Y best to encourage the trial of the product for appropriate patient.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/31/2015	Follow up on some of the managed care plans for Hysingla.mI asked if he is willing to write hysingla with its current managed care. Dr said he would prefer to wait till it got more coverage. Lori the office manager and I align with nthenrd told him that they have the patients insurance plans that are covered on our products for the most part, nothing is 100 percent, Lori the office manager helped trying to talk the dr into trying it. The manager said she would identify a few patients if the dr said ok. Dr was not sure he wanted her to do that. We talked about the coverage in med d for Butrans as a back up if hysingla didn't go thru. He apparently thought that was funny. Reviewed starting dose of Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	3/31/2015	Dr told me about his most recent patients he put on hysingla. Dr said that two of them couldn't get it because it was too expensive and another got it for a month and then blame too expensive. Dr said that that patient really liked hysingla after the first month as well and then couldn't afford it. I asked Shar about those patients plans and found out they were all Medicare D except for one which was a medical mutual self pay plan and was just too expensive. Discussed commercial insurance as the plans to stick with for now to make it affordable and for patient access. Left him with the Sonia profile and Butrans Helen profile and asked for continued business.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/31/2015	Reviewed hysingla and attributes and asked about stocking but said no. Reviewed abuse Deter properties in labeling and gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including ours.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	3/31/2015	Met with pharmacy mgr Natalia. Discussed Purdue single entity, extended release portfolio. Discussed extended release opioids in general and if Natalia is open to dispensing - whether it be CII like Butrans or CII like OxyContin and Hysingla ER. Reinforced abuse deterrent properties for both Hysingla and OxyContin. Natalia says she has no issues dispensing any of my products. Left 4/9 speaker invite. Natalia says no scripts yet for Hysingla. Met with pharmacist Mel who was no familiar with Hysingla ER. Left Hysingla ER pharmacists guide, FPI, and invite to 4/9 speaker program. Mel asked what type of pain? I told him product is NOT for acute pain; discussed indication. He asked what pain level ie on scale from 1-10? Replied we don't have any data defining that - and repeated indication. Discussed, left OxyContin & BUTRANS pharmacist guides as well.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/31/2015	Discussed indication and attributes of Butrans and hysingla.dr agreed to attend dinner program for hysingla. Gave fair balance of abuse potential of all opioids and reviewed abuse deter properties and read indication. Dr said he hasn't tried either of my products but the meeting ight be helpful because he wasn't comfortable writing them.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/31/2015	Reviewed hydrocodone insight and then we talked about what singer comfort level prescribing opioids for month after month pain patients. Dr said she doesn't have many pain patients and she prefers to send them out when she does. Reviewed the indication and went over abuse deter properties too. Reviewed the cox 2 patient in pain and uncontrolled and the tramadol patient for butrans. Dr identifies with these types of patients. So we reviewed Butrans.mshe has not written it. We talked about the scheduling and managed care. Talked about Hysingla and reviewed attributes. Dr asked about steady state of Butrans and hysingla. I addressed her questions. She didn't think she would need use for an extended release product. Dr felt she only sees acute pain patients. But found he information helpful she said.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	3/31/2015	Morning snack appointment and selling PUrdue 3-product portfolio; Dr Laham expressed his concern with formulary coverage. I told him not to worry as i will continue to update his medical staff/prior auth coordinator on formulary wins. Left green Protect your meds at home brochures. Dr states he cannot make my April 9 program, but he's encouraged his RN and Nurse Practitioners to attend. Next: met with Denise Guinto, updated with new savings cards (expire 3/31/16) and Denise states Dr. Laham just wrote Hysingla ER 40 mg for a female patient who lives in Hudson. I had her look up patient. Checked iPad and NO pharmacists in area have Hysingla ER 40 mg in stock. We decided to call Hillcrest Atrium pharmacy to order 40 mg. I told her patient should have in 24 hrs if Warren orders this am.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	3/31/2015	Told him that he has options for his patients that are treating their around the clock pain in 4 or so hour increments. Oxycontin for Oxycodone IR patients and new Hysingla for IR Hydrocodone patients. And what makes that option more interesting are the ADP. Made sure to give fair balance after explaining a use deterrence. He appreciated the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Richmond Heights	OH	44143	3/31/2015	Dr Natesan was not in office yet. Discussed with medical assistant at front window , Purdue 3-product portfolio- scheduling/indications; and 4/9 speaker invitation on our most recent product, Hysingla ER. (left invite for Dr H Balaji as well)
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/31/2015	He came back to know about Butrans and Hysingla. Reviewed attributes and indication. Dr asked managed care and that was addressed. I asked hhw he treats pain patients that refill every month. Dr said he doesn't have many and the. Explained he had been using Hydrocodone but it is harder for his mail away patients now. I brought up Butrans as a possible solution. Reviewed the scheduling and the refill status. Did give fair balance on abuse potential for all opoids including my products. Dr said he didn't realize that Butrans was schedule three and refills still exist w extended release opioids. Reviewed initiation guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	3/31/2015	Asked about cover my meds.reviewed products and attributes.ngave fair balance on abuse potential for all opioids including mine.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	3/31/2015	Lunch-introduction to dr-Oxycontin-dr said likes to keep oxycontin tablet count down as low as possible-usually 3-4-when converting to oxycontin-only concern is some Medicaid programs are tough PA-redirected to Caresource and dr said she tries to get pts to subscribe to Caresource if they have a choice; Butrans-dr said she likes it when it's covered-usually switches to it when pts have been on low dose Vicodin or Percocet-discussed Tramadol pt reaching 200-300 mg-dr said she is concerned about seizures with high doses of tramadol and agreed its a great pt for Butrans; gave new savings cards for both products
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	4/1/2015	I discussed the option of hysingla for those patients already on hydrocodone and reviewed doses, conversions 1:1 with hydrocodone and appropriate patients types. Dr said he's forgotten about it. Dr said that he recently started a couple of patients on Butrans where one of them actually asked for an ER option while on 200mg of tramadol. Dr said was taking Norco a couple of times a day and started on a 5 mcg patch. I told dr that hysingla would also be a good option for that patient. Dr agreed and asked about coverage which we then discussed.
PPLPMDL0020000001

PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/1/2015	Deanna the nurse said the dr didn't switch the patients because they were fine on their norco. I reviewed the conversion and asked that she forward that I was here today with the dr and to give him the information.

	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	4/1/2015	Short discussion with dr about discussing the option of q12 oxycontin for her patients on IR Oxycodone or percocet around the clock. Dr said she agrees she needs to do that more. I told her about hysingla as yet another option for this taking Hydrocodone around the clock. Reminded her she has said she has quite a few patients already on hydrocodone. Reviewed attributes, dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/1/2015	Reviewed with her our portfolio piece and appropriate patient type for each med. Spent more time introducing Hysingla, detailed patient type and formulary information. She feels that oxycontin should be reserved for patients who really need it. She didn't know anything about butrans. Reviewed appropriate patient type, dosing and administration and formulary coverage, highlighting the med d patient
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/1/2015	Specific message today with the appropriate patient and conversion, touched in managed care. Closes with if he had any hesitations for not writing hysingla. He said no. I encourage trial in a few patients w Medco or summa as insurance plans as an example and encourage coupons to be used. I asked if there was anything he needed to know from me today. He said no and I thanked him for his time. Hallway call.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	4/1/2015	Highlighted the appropriate patient for oxycontin and hysingla today. Reviewed dosing and conversion. Dr said he will write it. Discussed managed care and coupons

	Barberton	OH	44203	4/1/2015	Discussed attributes of the product hysingla and OxyCotin. No scripts have shown up. They don't use cover my meds but they have it on their computer but aren't familiar with it. They have a prepopulated fax that goes to the offices if a pa is needed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	4/1/2015	Called to check if they had any prescriptions of hysingla and if they have stocked the 20mg dose. Matt told me that they have not and will wait to see a prescription.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/1/2015	Reviewed that ER meds like oxycontin and Hysingla are probably appropriate for a couple of his patients who are in pain 24 hours per day. I know it's not a lot of your patients, but there are a few that are taking 4 or more IR? He agreed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	4/1/2015	Met with exec director Erica Sheldon. Dr Shall will be doing surgery only. He will NOT be managing meds. This is an ambulatory center & preps patients for surgery only.
PPLPMDL0020000001	East Cleveland	OH	44112	4/1/2015	Reviewed portfolio with Latoya. No new information learned on this call.
	Akron	OH	44333	4/1/2015	Good discussion about when he's using my products. Dr said that he will use Butrans as his first line ER opioid especially for a patient on tramadol or low dose vicodin. Dr said that because it's been so hard to get oxycontin approved, he would most likely move to hysingla next and his patients on it really like it and are getting good relief. Dr said if he has a percocet patient that needs an ER opioid he may go to hysingla as well. Dr said he looking forward to using it for his medicare patients and the patients who can't tolerate Butrans due to rash. Discussed new copy cards and left them.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/1/2015	No new information learned on this call.
	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/1/2015	Doctor said that he as written for Hysingla about two times so far. He admitted that he still thinks of zohydro first. I asked him about his preferences. He said he would prefer Hysingla because of dosing and ADP. He tried it in patients who were taking 5 or so Norco and needed more medication. He was unaware of it not going through so as far as he knows insurance covered it. I reviewed formully coverage for Hysingla. He likes the portfolio of ER products we have and thinks that they are good options for some of his chronic patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	4/1/2015	Dinner-introduction to dr-she said she is very conservative and careful in prescribing opioids for her practice-dr asked about abuse potential with Butrans versus tramadol and I said there are no head to head studies and both can be abused-redirected to osteoarthritis pts not being controlled on cox 2s and tramadol-she said she would go to low dose Percocet-asked her to prescribe Butrans instead before going to Percocet-dr agreed that would be a better choice for NSAIDs and tramadol and will look in her practice-went over Caresource PA and she said she will definitely look for those pts; oxycontin-dr said she was concerned about abuse-went over abuse deterrent study and reasons Purdue took high road to do study and re formulate it-dr agreed that was great thing Purdue did and hopes all opioid companies will do the same-asked her for her Percocet pts reaching 3-4 tabs to convert-she agreed to look for pts in her practice
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	4/1/2015	Dr told me that he started a patient on Butrans in November of 2014 on the 10mcg dose. Dr said in Decemeber of the same year he titrated her dose to 15mcg. Dr stated that she had a follow up the beginning of March and presented with blistering and severe rushing at all application sites. Dr said he discontinued the product at that point. I told dr that I will report the AE. Dr said its the first time he's had a patient had an experience like that and is is confused as to how after a patient had been on Butrans for 3 months that it didn't happen until then. Reviewed copy cards,dosing and when and where to use. Discussed hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions and asked him to gain some clinical experience with commercial patients. Discussed his commercial plans and where the oath of least resistance is from a payor perspective.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	4/1/2015	No new information learned on this call. Left 4/09 Speaker invite.
	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	4/1/2015	Met with executive director, she states Dr C and Dr Shall will not be involved in any way with managing meds, as this is ambulatory center & prepping patients for surgery. Note: before end of April need to fill out form to have Dr. C removed from database.
	Mayfield Village	OH	44040	4/1/2015	Met with pharmacist Steve. He says Dr Park has been writing extended release opioids. Also that I should speak with Dr Shall at The Laser Spine Institute. He has been getting customers from that group recently. He says once daily hydrocodone and q12 h OxyContin makes sense for patients who meet ER opioid indication. Reinforced Butrans, CII, 1 x week patch for opioid naive or patients taking 3-4 Tramadol daily, who need more analgesia.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/1/2015	Highlighted hysingla attributes and indication. Talked about a use deter properties of OxyContin and hysingla. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/1/2015	Saw briefly at window-followed up with lunch in Streetsboro-needed new savings cards for both products
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	4/1/2015	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Hysingla ER for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, Said ok, refers to pain mgmnt or David PA
	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	4/1/2015	Asked dr park what does he use for a patient who has already tried non opioids and is in pain. Which specific product or molecule does he like. He responded oxycodone, Hydrocodone and Tramadol. Discussed conversion from IR opioids and change of delivery system, keep on same molecule, since he knows they already tolerate.(Oxycodone to OxyContin q12h and hydrocodone products to Hysingla. For Tramadol patient, Butrans is an option, I can discuss with you next visit. Dr says he stays away from opioids in over 65 population due to concern with respiratory depression if patient taking benzodiazepines and other products concomitantly.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/1/2015	Dr said too busy to talk-call before I come in next visit and he will talk to me-quick product mentions
	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/1/2015	She said that she has a patient in mind for Hysingla and has discussed it with the doc. She didn't know what his insurance is. I reviewed formulary situation with her. She has some patients on more IR than she wants so and has been researching ADP and feels that for the patients taking more than 4 pills per day, they shouldn't have all that IR and believes they should be converted it ER. Reviewed appropriate butrans patient type for who to keep an eye out for, for ex med d patient. She did mention that she would ideally try Hysingla before oxycontin, it's unfortunate that insurance plans have different ideas than she does,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/2/2015	No new information learned on this call.
	Lakewood	OH	44107	4/2/2015	Discussed Butrans and the schedule three status and the mail away patients. Reviewed attributes and fairbalance on abuse potential of all opioids. Dr asked about coverage for hysingla, I reviewed the specifi few plans. Dr said he would not write it until it had med d coverage. Worked with the office manager on cover my meds.nshe said she would not ever use it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/2/2015	Review of insight hydrocodone and talked about patient under 80mg morphing equivalent he trusts to treat with an opioid, schedule here with opioids and highlighted the schedule 3 status
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/2/2015	Told dr I want him to keep Butrans and hysingla on his radar and discussed appropriate patients for each product. I asked if he could use Butrans for his NSAID and tramadol patients and Norco around the clock patients for the q24, ER hydrocodone without APAP. Dr said he's got some patients in mind and asked about insurance coverage. I discussed which plans he sees and the status of the coverage and told him to stick with commercial insurance for now.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/2/2015	Reminder on hysingla and Butrans. Talked about the hysingla patient and attributes, if patient is rejected and switch is still needed I suggested Butrans s for that appropriate patient. I reminded that the script could be faxed over and did not have to be hand delivered.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	4/2/2015	Spoke with Seth and discussed hysingla ER attributes and when and where to use it and most appropriate patient types. Seth said that he hasn't dispensed any more recently and is filling Butrans though and just filled one from Karen Hodakievic

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	4/2/2015	Spoke with Patricia(Pat) and introduced hysingla. P&T said she has had information mailed to the pharmacy about it. Reviewed attributes, dosing, conversions. Pat said the area they are in is synonymous with drug abuse and is glad to know hysingla is abuse deterrent. Discussed insurance coverage and copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/2/2015	Talked with dr about how his patients are doing on Butrans and asked him for some recent clinical findings. Dr said most patients do very well with Butrans and having good pain relief with little side effects except for some who get rash. Dr said the main problem is that it needs better insurance coverage. I told him he's going to see more issues because of his volume of prescribing. Dr agreed and said it still needs to be better. I told him that I am working with the administration to streamline the prior authorization process.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	4/2/2015	Discussed hysingla ER attributes again and asked him if he feels the product has a place in his practice? Dr said based on the amount of patients on a Norco yes and asked if they can get it. I told him he needs to focus on his commercial patients for now. Dr said that's going to be a problem because most of his patients on pain meds are medicaid, BWC or medicare. I told him I understand but they don't make up 100% of his pain patients and asked for just one who's appropriate. Discussed the option of Butrans for patients on NSAIDs or tramadol and on them around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	4/3/2015	Presented dr with formulary grids as requested for commercial, Medicare and medicaid for him to place in his exam rooms. Reviewed the coverage status and asked him if he can make it work based on his patient population? Dr said it looks pretty good and asked about CareSource. Reviewed PA criteria for CareSource. Dr said he will have Jenna hang them up in his exam rooms and wanted the conversion guides to go with them. Reviewed appropriate patient types and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	4/3/2015	Reviewed with dr what Bonyo requested for Butrans. Dr said she thinks it's a good idea because they have way too many patients continuing on IR opioids like Norco and Percocet. Discussed the conversions and appropriate patient types. Dr said she wanted a conversion guide and put it in her lab coat.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Middleburg Hts.	OH	44130	4/3/2015	Discussed his use of oxycotin and what he's using. Dr said he had a patient last week that had been on oxycotin for many years and had been getting the authorized generic and the pharmacist told the patient they were out of that dose and couldn't order any more. I explained that it may have been true based on their ability to order limited doses at limited quantities. I told dr that maybe the patient could just go to another pharmacy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	4/3/2015	Reviewed hysingla ER attributes again along with the doses and conversions. I asked dr if he believes he has some currently IR Norco patients that may be appropriate? I told dr that last time he told me he has lots of Norco patients. Dr said he thinks he can find a few. Discussed commercial insurance and the reality behind it with possible prior authorizations based on specific employer groups.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	4/3/2015	OxyContin-discussed when reach 3-4 tabs of Percocet instead of going higher switch to same molecule-asked dr does this makes sense and will you look for pts in practice to switch today-dr said it does make sense and asked for new savings cards; Butrans-asked dr when get to 2-300 mg of tramadol and pt still having inadequate pain relief will he prescribe Butrans for those pts instead of going to Percocet and Vicodin-dr said that is where he looks for pts-went over CareSource since it's his largest plan-dr agreed to rx it more in those pts; gave new savings cards for both products

PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	4/6/2015	Butrans-discussed Elderly OA and low back pts who have been on Celebrex and tramadol and what about Butrans next-dr said that makes sense before going to Vicodin or Percocet especially elderly taking a lot of tablets and a 7 day patch would be more convenient will look for pts in practice to transition to Butrans; oxycotin-asked at what point does she consider moving a pt from Percocet to something else-dr said once gets to 4-5 looks to switch normally to oxycotin for ATC pain relief and said it makes sense to keep on the same molecule
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/7/2015	Spoke to deans, she said the dr has not written any scripts. She discussed the product with dr. Jennifer and that dr said she won't write it cause of managed care and it was just hydrocodone and if it's not broke don't fix it. I suggested that the system is broke. That misuse and abuse are reality and something to be warned about for all opioids. I asked is price really the most important attribute to treating pain? Deana said it shouldn't be but it is. I reminded her of her valuable service by identifying patients with the commercial plans on hysingla that don't require a pa to try and minimize call backs. We talked about butrans- managed Medicaid that they aren't taking any more and med d plans like aarp and silver scripts that don't require a pa. She told me she would communicate my message to the dr, she is off on Thursday, which means if I didn't go today it was my best shot at seeing

PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/7/2015	Reviewed attributes of hysingla. Talked about abuse deter properties of OxyContin and hysingla but did give fair balance on abuse potential. Asked the pharmacist her thoughts on why outside of cost would driving norco to be written for atc continual pain instead of extended release options. I asked if norco was out of stock would they make the hysingla recommendation given the appropriate patient? She asked cost. I asked about relay health and talked about the top plans we had coverage. Her answer was probably not. I asked do you recommend generic? I asked her to review the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	4/8/2015	Lunch. Reviewed Cover my Meds - she stated to give flashcard to Diana; which I did and presented after lunch. With Dr. Roda, reinforced appropriate patients for OxyContin; reviewed dosing, strengths, and abuse deterrent properties. Discussed appropriate patients for Hysingla. Dr Roda admitted since product is so new, she forgot how to dose. Went over q 24 h dosing, titration and conversion. Focus: commercial patients for now (trial, savings) Reinforced butrans access and coverage with commercial, Medicare D, and prior auth for Medicaid. She gave me a "maybe" for Thurs 4/9 speaker program. Asked her to consider Hysingla ER today, this week for patients we discussed.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/13/2015	Dr said he continues to have a hard time getting oxycontin covered by insurance but still gets one or two new starts a week. Dr said that is having success converting patients from IR oxycodone or percocet and the patients like only having to take it twice a day. Discussed patients for Butrans and hysingla. Dr said he will continue to write Butrans first even if a patient is on Norco. Dr said that if they are taking under 40mg of Norco he will go Butrans and anything over will probably convert to hysingla. Dr said he will no longer use Zohydro because he thinks hysingla is a better product. Reviewed copay cards and cost.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/13/2015	Quick hello in Fairlawn and told her that I would like her to continue using oxycontin especially using it to convert patients already taking oxycodone around the clock and still in pain. I told her we haven't really discussed the option of hysingla ER for those already on Norco who have pain around the clock. Dr said she's seen the information I've left previously and said it sounds like a good product even though she's not used it because it's not covered well. I told her for now to focus on commercial insurance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	4/13/2015	Focused on Jane profile and reviewed commercial insured for hysingla and caresource for Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	4/13/2015	Gave dr the Helen profile for Butrans and the Jane profile for hysingla. I told him that each of these patients are ideal candidates for each of the products. I told him not to allow patients on tramadol around the clock and in pain to move to Norco. I told him that they may be suited for Butrans. Reviewed Jane profile and asked for prescriptions from him for patients like her.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Broadview Heights	OH	44147	4/13/2015	Doctor isn't afraid of treating pain, but is more likely to prescribe our portfolio it's the patients in the hospital. Reviewed portfolio and positioning. Described abuse deterrent characteristics of Hysingla and oxycontin, with fair balance. Described butrans appropriate for patients first opiod or tramadol failure. Asked him how he typically incorporates new medicine in his practice. He said he likes to spend time reading and researching med before jumping into prescribing it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Broadview Heights	OH	44147	4/13/2015	Using portfolio piece first reviewed patient types for each product. Asked him if he would like a bit more information about any of the products. He chose Hysingla. Spent time introducing it and showing pill page and describing that Norco patient. He said that the problem with pain medicine I that ideally by the time you commit to putting a patient on an opiod , it is for a while. Ideally that persons job may be impacted and he isn't sure they should be driving cars either. It is a dilemma. He takes the progression with pain meds very slowly but tried to avoid it altogether. He will consider starting patient on butrans as first opiod and referring to pain management on that medicine.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	4/14/2015	Started off with the hydrocodone insight and discussed how hysingla is an excellent option for those who are currently on Norco around the clock and in pain. Discussed attributes, dosing and conversions, FDA tiers for abuse deterrence and trial and copy cards. Dr said that he has an AARP patient he wrote for hysingla and did it because of the patients risk of liver toxicity based on the high dose of Norco. Dr said they are currently doing an appeal and said he feels confident it will go through due to health risks. Reviewed when and where to use hysingla and Butrans and told him that hysingla is a good option for those who can't tolerate even Butrans due to an AE. I told dr to also use Butrans for those tramadol patients around the clock. Discussed oxycontin dosing and appropriate patients and new copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	4/14/2015	Quick review of OxyContin/Hysingla ER for those appropriate patients that are failing on present therapy that require around the clock analgesia. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	4/14/2015	Quickly saw doctor through the window. Handed him butrans patient tear off sheets and asked him if he he has given butrans a try for patients as he refers them to pain management as we discussed at our lunch. He said that he has and it is too soon to tell how it is goign. Told me to check back. Pulled through tear off sheets, gave him my card to call if there is anything I can do. Handed him invite to Hysingla program
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	4/14/2015	Leveraged the follow up on the hysingla program but he said he could not attend. Focused on trying just one patient who has commercial insurance, reviewed attributes.mdr said he will try and remember and I reminded him that's what I was here to help do. I asked if he has tried Butrans in caresource patients yet? He said he didn't know. Highlighted dosing and formulary. All thru window today.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/14/2015	Discussed how hysingla can fit in his practice those even the few Norco patients who are in Pain around the clock and also possibly those who are on IR oxycodone with the same issues or can't tolerate it. Dr said he might try it and said that it won't be covered. I explained how it's for now commercially insured and the coverage is based on employer criteria. Reviewed attributes and dosing with conversions. Discussed new oxycontin copy cards and asked him to continue writing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	4/14/2015	Reviewed Hysingla in detail and doctor said that she has patients on no more than 20 Norco for a short period of time. She won't write for oxycontin and she won't write for Hysingla. She is having success with butrans other than some stress with PA's. She thinks that it is a good option rather than pills.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/14/2015	Taled about hysingla program today. Highlighted managed care w cover my meds. Talked about dosing and attributes of Butrans and hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/14/2015	Handing doctor portfolio piece, asked him which of these he would consider prescribing for a patient taking 3-4 Norco per day, who is in chronic pain, and still not satisfied with their pain relief. He smiled and said that is a conversation for next time, but he likes my thinking.....he said he is. Thinking of butrans, so he does listen.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	4/14/2015	Highlighted managed care and cover my meds. Highlighted one patient to try with Butrans that is med d or caresource and appropriate using the Helen profile. I asked questions like- what does it mean for the patient to wear a patch that they have to change every 7 days to them? If you offered hysingla to the right commercial all insured patient him would your patients react to a once a day medication to try and control their pain. Today was about the patient and coming up with questions that did not imply but to make him think. Dr only talked about price being a stumbling block. When I reverted to Butrans and our coverage the. He told me he was a man of habit. He is coming to hysingla dinner,
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/14/2015	Reviewed hysingla ER attributes, dosing and Conversions. Discussed how the product is abuse deterrent and where and when to use the product.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/15/2015	Quick discussion about hysingla and Butrans copy cards and asked if she would have some patients already on Norco who would fit the indication of hysingla? Elise said she probably has a few. I asked her why she's waiting? Elise said she needs to remember it and knows I'm in every week so she will do her best.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	4/15/2015	Doctor said that a few patients are saying that hysingl costs close to $200 at the pharmacy and refuse to pay that. He said that the direction is to write fewer pills and Adp are the future and he will continue to prescribe it for his patients. He still likes butrans as an option instead of pills.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	4/15/2015	Reminders for both products and look for pts within practice
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	4/15/2015	Quick messages for Butrans and hysingla and told her to use Butrans for those patients uncontrolled on tramadol or Norco and reviewed conversions and discussed attributes. Discussed the option of hysingla reviewing its attributes and Jane profile. Explained private insurance coverage and using it if a patient in Norco might be a way to do a 1:1 conversion. Dr said ok and she will try to keep it in mind.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	4/15/2015	Spike with Tom and Jason about hysingla and told them I want to keep it on their radar. Discussed the attributes, dosing and conversions and discussed commercial coverage. I asked Tom who he sees prescriptions from and he said Western Reserve Pain, Dr Shah. And some from Vucetic. I asked about commercial plans they see? Tom said they have a lot of private insurance because of the area they are in.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/15/2015	Gave dr more hysingla savings cards and reminded him and elise about the trial card as well and how they work. I asked dr for more hysingla business especially for those he might currently have on Norco around the clock. Dr said he may have a few. I asked if they would fit the indication and he said yes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/15/2015	What information does he still need from me in order to find appropriate Hysingla patient? He has the appropriate patient, he has written a few.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	4/15/2015	Discussed managed care and dosing and focused on appropriate patient type.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	4/15/2015	I told dr that he now has three ER opioid options for his patients in daily, around the clock pain. Told him oxycontin is suited well for one already on oxycodone and told him to use the 10mg dose I told him Butrans is ideal for his patients on tramadol who have medicaid, Medicare and commercial plans. Showed him the hysingla initiation and titration guide and asked him if it would make sense to use in his practice for those on Norco? Dr said if it's covered. I told him for now it's commercial covered and he has patients with plans who can get it. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/15/2015	Quick hysingla discussion with Steve discussing attributes, dosing, conversions, steady state and use of breakthrough pain medicines(IR) if necessary. Steve said he's been mailed information and thinks it's a good product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	4/15/2015	Reviewed portfolio and gave fair balance on abuse potential of all opioids including Purdue products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	4/15/2015	He likes the idea of once daily Hysingla with adp and no Tylenol for his patients. He writes oxycontin but would prefer once daily dosing. He finds that he has to write oxycontin q8 and if Hysingla is once per day he would prefer that. I clarified the recommended q 12 dosing of oxycontin which He is aware of recommendations. He is working with me to schedule time with Drs Keppler and Stickney to update them on Hysingla. He has chosen oxycontin in the oac because of delivery system and no Tylenol. He tried butrans in the past, but found that the patients he wrote it for didn't like the patch because it didn't work with their lifestyle, they lived in Florida or Arizona and the patch didn't stick and here we too many uncontrollable.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Sagamore Hills	OH	44067	4/15/2015	Using portfolio piece asked him to remember these meds when he sees a patient in around the clock pain. Specifically pointed to Hysingla asking if he had 30 seconds to hear a bit about it mentioning the common factor w oxycontin and hysingla is abuse deterrent characteristics and ER delivery system.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	4/15/2015	Quick discussion in hallway and told him I'd like him to discuss the q12 oxycodone option for those on IR oxycodone or percoet. Dr said that's a really tough sell because of the oxycontin name. I asked dr if patients have told him that IR is that his stigma? Dr said a little of both. I asked what his Hangul is and he said we can discuss next time. I reminded him about the hysingla option and told him where and when to use.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	4/15/2015	Quick call with Dr. Wiener, as he was leaving early for an appointment. Met with Kim (OM) and med asst Stacy. Reinforced Purdue portfolio of products available for patients with daily, around the clock, long term pain. Discussed with Stacy, that until I get them new, hard copy Butrans trial/savings cards- she can go to Butrans.com website and print out. She should instruct patient to call toll free number on front of card to activate, PRIOR, to them going to the pharmacy. That will make things run much smoother for all.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairview Park	OH	44126	4/16/2015	Discussed the indication of our products and talked about appropriate use. DR said he really like Butrans, we talked about his managed care And trying to use Butrans in areas he hasn't tried like with caresource and med d patients. Dr agreed. Talked about hysingla,he asked if dr Kabarra was writing it and talked about referring to him. Dr did agree that he has a few patients that might be appropriate and then asked cost. We asked commercial patients and the coupons. Reviewed attributes of our products. Dr said he prefers not to write OxyCotin because of the name. We talked an outnabuse potential for all opioids including my product and covered abuse deter properties of OxyCotin and hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	4/16/2015	Quickly reviewed opioid naive patient type in our studies as an appropriate patient type for butrans....to think of it as first opioid after cox2 or NSAIDs. Using sonia, tried to discuss Hysingla patient type but we were interrupted and he had to leave.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	4/16/2015	Reviewed OxyContin every 12hours,along with Hysingla/Butrans formulary grid review, Initiation/Titration and savings cards. Said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients that have coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/16/2015	Reviewed portfolio he now has in arsenal for his patient in pain, 2 with abuse deterrent characteristics. (Although still a useable) he is finally getting in the habit of check oars. Reviewed opioid naive patient type from the studies as appropriate patient for butrans. He likes the idea of Hysingla and is keeping it in mind, reviewed formulary coverage for both.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	4/16/2015	Quick review of OxyContin every 12hours along with Hysingla ER for those patients failing on present therapy that require around the clock analgesia, Said ok will consider for appropriate patients that have appropriate
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/16/2015	Linda told me that she recently started a patient on hysingla who had been taking about 4 Norco a day. Linda said she hasn't seen the patient back yet but hasn't heard anything so she assumes all is good. I reviewed the dosing and conversions and asked for continued prescribing. Reviewed Butrans dosing and conversions and asked for new starts from tramadol.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/16/2015	Discussed the opportunities at hand for her and the rest of the providers in he office for each product. Made apparent the vast opportunities for hysingla based on the volume of Norco patients she has and how many are most likely taking it daily and around the clock. I asked dr geiger if it makes sense to write ER opioids for patients taking IR opioids around the clock and have pathologies that precipitate chronic pain? Dr said he agrees but said its not that simple because insurance companies who regulate what is written dictate what prescribers write. I told dr if he has sound clinical evidence as to why the current medicine isn't working and why another may be more appropriate then wouldn't he do what's necessary to get it pushed through? Dr said sometimes if it's a battle worth fighting.

Made apparent the vast opportunities for hysingla based on the volume of Norco patients she has and how many are most likely taking it daily and around the clock. Sandra said she agrees but there is a lot of resistance from the patient having to pay more and getting them through insurance. Discussed hysingla for commercial patients for now outlining dosing, indication, conversions. Told Sandra to use Butrans for her BWC patients and it's the path of least resistance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/16/2015	Told dr that I know hysingla is right up his alley because it's a once a day hydrocodone with no APAP and he can use it for those already on Norco but in oain and taking it around the clock. Dr asked if it's truly a once a day. I showed him the section from the MVA and discussed it. Dr said ok. Told him to just try it on an appropriate private insurance patient. Reminded him to also use Butrans when patients are on tramadol around the clock.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/16/2015	Asked Holly the pharmacist what types of insurance plans they see the most of? Holly said that they have a pretty even split between private insurance, medicare and Medicaid. Holly said that all Discount drug Marts have dropped UHC community plan. She said that they have one patient on Butrans from a dr in Twinsburg and have just titrated to 10mcg. Discussed hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/16/2015	Discussed new hysingla product reviewing attributes, dosing and conversions. I asked if he dispenses Norco and he said yes. I told him its a once a day hydrocodone without APAP and abuse deterrence and if he would stock it. The answer was not until ey see a prescription. Reviewed Butrans attributes and asked him if he has any patients on it? He said he has a couple and has the 5 mcg on the shelf.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/16/2015	Talked about hysingla and Butrans attributes and finding the right patient to try it on. Discussed managed care and talked fair balance about abuse potential for all opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/16/2015	Opened discussion with dr by talking about oxycodone and hydrocodon insights. I told her I know who has patients already taking IR opioids around the clock and she has three great ER options. Discussed oxycontin dosing and q12 dosing and then asked her to get some clinical experience with hysingla and discussed attributes, dosing and conversions. Dr asked about insurance and said she would like to use it for medicare. I discussed commercial insurance options and that maybe Butrans would also be a good option for her medicare patients. Reviewed dosing and conversions from Norco. Dr said that sounds like a good option.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Warrensville Heights	OH	44122	4/16/2015	Using portfolio piece through the window, quickly reviewed products meant for patients on around the clock pain. Highlighted the abp but that they can still be abused.

	Stow	OH	44224	4/16/2015	Discussed Butrans and asked him based on his prescribing of it where and when he's been initiating it in his treatment plan? Jon said that he has been using it either after tramadol or Norco and said he knows it's not best useful for those failing multiple and to treat his train wrecks. Discussed Helen profile and then told him about BWC for Butrans and the opportunities that are there for that. Reviewing hysingla again discussing the multiple commercial insurance plans available and to focus on patients on Norco on a daily basis who are in pain. Jon asked about 24 hour use and reviewed MVA plasma hydrocodone section. Asked him to write more.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Middleburg Heights	OH	44130	4/17/2015	Reviewed portfolio piece. She said she has about 5 patients on IR and will generally refer to pain management. We discussed that this information is good to discuss just in case she sees that one patient who might be appropriate. She was mildly interested in butrans. Reviewed it's as first opioid Nd appropriate before tramadol. She agreed that it made sense in that patient type. She will keep in mind but can't make any promises.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	4/17/2015	Reviewed portfolio piece and each products positioning. He was most interested in butrans. Reviewed it in detail including initiation, titration, placement of patch, formulary etc. He was concerned with drug interactions and contraindications, we reviewed it in the FPI. I think he was considering butrans for his wife and her back pain. He wanted savings cards and is going to give it a try. Discussed abuse deterrent properties and fair balance as I introduced Hysingla and talked about oxycotin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44221	4/17/2015	Spoke with pharmacist Mike about hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions along with trial and copy cards. I asked Mike if he's dispensed it and he said he has three times for dr Cremer. Mike said he thinks all three were the same patient where the patient started on 40mg and then titrated to 60mg then 80mg. I asked Mike if he has the 20 or 40 and he said he will wait until he sees prescriptions and they get it in nxt day.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	4/17/2015	Told dr at front counter and asked him if he could identify just one patient a week who's already on oxycodone IR and is in pain around the clock? Dr said he'll try but he doesn't have too many short acting oxycodone patients. I told him I'm just asking for one. Reviewed hysingla opportunities in his office for those around the clock Norco patients and gave him the initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Copley	OH	44321	4/17/2015	Spoke with kristen the pharmacist about hysingla ER discussing attributes, dosing and versions as well as abuse deterrence properties and copy cards. Kristen asked about what happens when a patient attempts to crush it? I told her that the name is resistex and the product will turn into a gelatinous substance and becomes much more difficult to pull through a needle or snort. I reminded her that the product not unlike oxycotin in that it is abuse deterrent, not abuse proof. Kristen said she's seen some information in the mail on it and thanked for for telling her more. Reminded her about Butrans and discussed attributes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	4/20/2015	Talked about cover my meds. Possible Inservice w the staff another visit. Highlighted Butrans and hysingla dosing and attributes.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	4/20/2015	Spoke with Matt the pharmacist and he told me that he had his first hysingla preacriton recently and ordered it in next day which the patient was happy with. I asked Matt who write it and he told me Dr Ali. Discuss hysingla attributes and his process when the product requires a pa. Matt said he thinks the patient had a Mediciare plan after I discussed the copy cards.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	4/20/2015	Discussed dosing and attributes of products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	4/20/2015	He is still pleased with the results he sees with butrans. Doctor isn't remembering Hysingla. He likes the idea of a once per day at low doses rather than dosing multiple times during the day. He saw 2 patients earlier today that would be appropriate for Hysingla. He said he will contact them and get them to try Hysingla instead of the Norco he prescribed
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	4/20/2015	Followed up per our last conversation. Talked about Butrans and managed care. Reviewed hysingla attributes.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/20/2015	Doc found out that his receptionist has been up to something. He was very distracted by that. He did say that the patient he tried Hysingla for was probably not an appropriate patient for it, since the patient is only on 3 low dose Norco per day right now. He is seeing fewer patients now, but is aware of my product portfolio and has patients taking oxycotin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/20/2015	Quick hello at front counter and told him to write oxycotin more frequently the moment a patient is taking IR oxycodone around the clock and in pain and to remember the option of hysingla for those patients who have commercial insurance and on Norco around the clock. Dr said ok. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/20/2015	Spoke with Gilbert about hysingla, Butrans and oxycotin. Gilbert and Sue told us about a patient of dr Vucetics had a very difficult time finding hysingla and Gilbert started the pa the vucetics office completed it and the patient got hysingla and had cvs Caremark insurance and paid nothing for the first month. Gilbert talked about going the extra mile for the patient so they get what they came in for. Discussed sometimes the difficulty in getting new meds covered and how he's in touch with the office to get it done. Reviewed Butrans copy cards and getting the trial offer on line. Reviewed oxycotin as part of he pain portfolio.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/20/2015	Told dr that I spoke with Gilbert at rite aid in Fairlawn and he said a patient of his came to his pharmacy to fill hysingla. Dr said he started her from Norco and said that he's still trying to figure out when he's writing Butrans and hysingla. Dr said he's thinking that 4-5 pills a day will be Butrans and over that will be hysingla. Discussed patient types and when to write.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/20/2015	I told dr that he has had some really good success with Butrans in the past but I have the feeling things have changed recently and asked hi if anything has changed? Dr said that he has had some patients who have built up tolerance with the product and have told him it's either not working anymore or not working for the full 7 days so he's gotten away from it. I told dr that all opioids have the potential for tolerance build up and my hopes would be that he would titrate the dose or use a IR opioid or non opioid analgesic for breakthrough. I told dr that he has the ideal patient types for Butrans in that for BWC and told him they are paying 100%. Reviewed the conversions rom tramadol and hydrocodone. I asked dr for those patients and he said ok. Discussed hysingla attributes, dosing and 1:1 conversion from Norco. Dr asked about patient access at the pharmacy and I told him I would provide the pharmacies that are currently stocking to Marsha and she can put together a list.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	4/20/2015	I told dr that the last time I was in I gave her a Butrans initiation and titration slide guide and she put it in her lab coat. I reminded her about Butrans as the option for patients whom are on IR opioids around the clock and reviewed its attributes, dosing and conversions. Dr said she will remember as long as it's covered. I told her to use it for commercial insurance, Caresource with pa criteria and medicare D.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	4/20/2015	I asked dr out of his patient populations commercial, Medicaid and medicare, which population does he find most difficult to treat? Dr said medicaid for sure then medicare then commercial. Dr said that the medicaid patients are the most demanding and therefor most difficult to treat. Dr said the medicare at least will listen to you and are open for discussion. I told dr that for his medicaid population Butrans is ideally suited for the Caresource patients and reviewed prior authorization criteria. Dr said that he write a Butrans recently for a medicare patient whom had been on many other opioids including dilaudid and started her on 10mcg and is doing very well. Discussed hysingla patient types and to write it for his commercially insured patients and if he had perocet patients that they are suited for oxycotin q12 if they are in pain around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	4/20/2015	Discussed dosing and attributes of hysingla. Reviewed abuse potential for all opioids including Purdue products.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	4/20/2015	I told Monique that dr Bonyo said he needs a ER opioid that can help him and his practice with the problems he's been having with the volume of patients wanting IR opioids and thinks Butrans can be that product as long as it's covered. I reviewed with Monique the Butrans attributes, dosing and conversions and told her to focus on patients who are on tramadol on Norco around the clock and wanting refills or escalated doses. Monique said she has a patient who has Buckeye who has been on multiple opioids in the past and can't even get lidoderm patches approved. I told her that based on the patients history, she should write Butrans and it will be a pa and to make sure Val completes it. Monique write the Rx in front of Barry and I told her I will follow up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/21/2015	She said she is still choosing butrans for appropriate patients with good success. She wants to hear more about Hysingla. Reviewed information and appropriate patient type and she said she still needs to review it with Doctor. nickels.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	4/21/2015	Met with Denise Guinto first. She states Dr. Laham is trying to write Hysingla more but it's not covered on many plans, and even with savings card; it's still $100/150 per month and their patients cannot afford that. One example was female patient, born 1961, covered on Med Mutual with PBM of Medco. Denise did not realize patients on Med Mutual need a PRIOR AUTH for Hysingla and have to go through a lot of steps first. Also - the pharmacist at patient's CVS faxed script back to Denise/Dr. Laham stating: even with savings card, Hysingla will cost $150 per month for the patient. I reviewed the best plans with both Denise & Dr Laham for Hysingla access. Butrans formulary status. Oxycontin formulary status focus. Despite continued access/formulary issues with Hysingla, Dr. Laham says it's a good product, and will continue to write.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	4/22/2015	Provided dr with the new product portfolio piece and discussed the candidates appropriate for each product. Oxycontin for those on percocet around the clock, hysingla for those on Norco around the clock and Butrans for those on tramadol around the clock. Reviewed hysingla attributes, dosing and conversions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/22/2015	Elise told me that she attempted to write hysingla for a patient who has a rash with Butrans. Elise said UHC commercial would not approve hysingla and said its not covered. Elise told me today that she has a patient who came in for a Follow up appointment on Butrans and presented with a rash at each application site. Elise said she discontinued Butrans. I told her that unfortunately that's was the situation but she had the right idea to try hysingla. I reviewed plans with EHR and product attributes and told her to continue prescribing.

PPLPMDL0020000001	North Olmsted	OH	44070	4/22/2015	Discussed dosing and attributes of products. Reviewed abuse potential of all opioids including Purdue products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	4/22/2015	Doctor said the direction for opioids is not to write for more than 3-4 IR meds. Any appropriate new starts can start on ER like Hysingla and oxycontin. It is challenging to switch patients from therapy that is working for them to an ER option. He does see himself writing more and more Hysingla in the future because of the single dose, single entity. Truly insurance is what is limiting when patients come back saying they don't want to pay $150 out of pocket even with the savings card. Butrans is something he needs to think of for patients more often and early.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/22/2015	Quickly through the window handed over the pain portfolio piece showing him the options he has for ER meds 2 with abuse deterrent properties, 7 doses and no Tylenol and butrans which he is familiar with.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/22/2015	Quick call. She has her eye out for appropriate Hysingla patients because she thinks that abuse deterrent properties are a very important feature in the pain market. She would prefer to write abuse deterrent meds rather than larger quantities of IR meds. Reminded her about butrans for patients before c2 opioid pills...

Discussed hysingla attributes and asked if they have dispensed it and she said she thinks they sent it back. Lauren said Bobby sent it back last week. I confirmed shipping back hysingla with Barry Klein and he confirmed they have not seen any prescriptions and he must send any medicine back with in three months in order to get a full refund from McKesson. Barry said after 3 months he only gets about 70% back. Barry said the BWC P&T committee meets next week and hysingla is on the agenda.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	4/23/2015	Discussed all three products using new product portfolio piece. Discussed Butrans ideal patient candidate with tramadol around the clock. Reviewed dosing, titration, conversions and copay cards. Discussed the option of hysingla with attributes like no APAP, QD dosing and abuse deterrent properties. Reviewed FDA tiers for abuse deterrent labeling and then discussed commercial insurance coverage. Discussed oxycontin having very similar attributes in single entity opioid, abuse deterrent labeling, and 7 dosage strengths for flexibility in titration. Dr said that hysingla sounds like a great product and he has a few on Zohydro that are happy with it but said the QD dosing and abuse deterrent properties may make him switch them. I asked for just one patient and will follow up.

Janet didn't say much but needs to get back to her patients. Nothing else learned.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/23/2015	Short discussion about identifying new patients for Butrans and to look for those taking tramadol around the clock and still in pain. Reviewed new copay card situation and deal with trial offer. Dr said he can work with that and really likes Butrans with good results. Discussed hysingla as the other option for those on noco around the clock and in pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/23/2015	Doctor doesn't believe in high doses of pain meds. He tries very hard to get to the root of the pain and manage it on the lowest possible doses of meds. He has good success with butrans and finds that coverage is much better than it used to be. He seems to be inheriting many of other docs patients who are on Caresource and high doses of hydrocodone IR? He would be more comfortable prescribing Hysingla then keeping them in current therapy. He said he will try it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Twinsburg	OH	44087	4/23/2015	Reviewed portfolio piece and his ER opens for patients in around the clock pain. Two have abuse deterrent properties and 7 doses to choose from. Doc spent a few minutes discussing what he sees with that patient type, likes these options but had to get back to his patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	4/23/2015	Spoke with Seth the pharmacist and discussed new Butrans copay cards and getting the trial offer at Butrans.com. Seth said they have many patients on it and he's glad to know about the change in cards. Seth said they have a couple of patients in hysingla now and the second one they filled went through without much trouble.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	4/23/2015	Discussed hysingla and Butrans with Andrea and asked her if she's seek lots of tramadol and Norco? Andrea said she fills it all day long. I explained where each of the products can be used by reviewing Butrans and hysingla attributes dosing and conversions. I asked her if she will stock hysingla and she said she will once she sees a prescription.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/24/2015	Quickly mentioned that if he sees any patients who take 3 or so Norco and still need more pain relief he may want to consider ER med like the new Hysingla. He said he would like to hear more but not today. Handed him portfolio piece.
PPLPMDL0020000001
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/24/2015	presented attributes of hysingla and butrans. focused on the lower does and managed care. Dr said she won't write for hysingla if its too complicated to get thru managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	4/24/2015	Told Donna I need to speak with drs manning and McRoberts about hysingla. Both drs came to window and I reviewed all hysingla ER attributes, dosing, conversions and patient savings. Exp,ained abuse deterrent properties and no APAP. Dr said it wounds like a good product. I left him with the initiation and titration guide and the Butrans conversions guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	4/24/2015	Quick hello in Green and told him we ned to discuss hysingla. Dr said he has the information I've left and will let me know if he has questions. I told him it's necessary I educate him on the product. Dr said he will contact me if necessary.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	4/24/2015	Led off discussion with drs by using he product portfolio piece discussing the similarities between oxycontin and hysingla. Both have 7 doses, abuse deterrent properties, single entity opioids and same indication. I reviewed patient types candidates for all products and reviewed profiles for each after reviewing dosing and conversions. I told he doctors that with the three ER opioid options they have, they should fit almost all the patient types they have in their office. I asked the dr if she can think of just a patient or two for each product? Dr said she can and just hope that they get covered. I told her to identify thrifft patients first then we can discuss coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/24/2015	while speaking to the ma's about hysingla and Oxycontin and its abuse deter properties, doctor came to window. I asked his opinion of what was more of interest to him copay cost or abuse deter properies. The dr said both...I suggested for the uncontrolled tramadol patient then he consider butrans as an option if appropriate. Highlighted managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	4/24/2015	Told Donna I need to speak with drs manning and McRoberts about hysingla. Both drs came to window and I reviewed all hysingla ER attributes, dosing, conversions and patient savings. Exp,ained abuse deterrent properties and no APAP. Dr manning said that it sounds like a great product and really likes the QD dosing. Dr asked about insurance and I explained commercial coverage. I asked dr to try it clinically in a working patient on Norco
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	4/24/2015	Led off discussion with drs by using he product portfolio piece discussing the similarities between oxycontin and hysingla. I reviewed patient types candidates for all products and reviewed profiles for each after reviewing dosing and conversions. I told he doctors that with the three ER opioid options they have, they should fit almost all the patient types they have in their office. I asked dr Orgel if he can refute that statement and prove me wrong in any way? Dr Orgel said he agrees completely and thanks that's a great way to look at my products. Dr said he likes them all and will try to get hysingla going.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/24/2015	We talked about what fears does he have for starting a new product like hysingla that isholding him back from trying it. Dr said he thinks it will work, but he forgets to write it and he is concerned his patients won't want to take a once a day product. I asked why they would want to take anything several times a day/atcd? Dr didn't say much. Left reading materials.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	4/27/2015	I asked if the prior authorization has been processed for the patient she started on Butrans who had Buckeye? Monique said that she has not heard anything yet and she sees that as a good sign at this point. I reminded her where and when to use and then reviewed hysingla attributes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	4/27/2015	Discussed patient he chose Hysingla for and discussed what options might have been appropriate for a patient only taking Norco 1-2 times per day but wanting something different. Gave him patients to think about for our product portfolio to help him differentiate them in his mind. Reviewed Senekot s as appropriate for patients with an opioid because of constipation associated w opiate use that he wasn't aware of. He has written two letters to workers comp encouraging approval of Hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/27/2015	Confirmed lunch for next Monday and reminders for OxyContin when approaching 3 tabs of Percocet to transition and caresource for Butrans
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	4/27/2015	Quick hello and asked about trying Butrans for caresource appropriate patients after Tramadol. Talked to staff about mange care and whabisinthe best way to have the dr remember the new product. They said just be here to remind him. I will bring breakfast Wednesday for more time and try n increase frequency.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/27/2015	Dr told me that he has a patient on Butrans 10mcg after being titrated to it from 5mcg. Dr said the patient told him that the most recent prescription he got didn't provide the same amount of analgesia and also said "it looked different". Dr said the patient went to the pharmacy and they were no help. Dr asked for my expertise with the situation and I told him it could be an issue with that specific lot number or possibly the patient has built up a tolerance to the 10mcg and titration might be necessary. I explained to dr the design of the patch and how the buprenorphine is mixed in with the adhesive which the dr said he did not know. I mentioned that hysingla might also be an option and reviewed its attributes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Middleburg Hts.	OH	44130	4/27/2015	Doctor will not write for oxycontin. He sometimes wonders if opioids help with pain or just give patients euphoria. Reviewed Hysingla appropriate patient, dosing and titration. He said he is more likely to find a Hysingla patient than oxycontin because he prefers the hydrocodone molecule. Quickly reviewed butrans patient and c3 scheduling.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	4/27/2015	Highlighted attributes and appropriates patients for our products. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	4/27/2015	Spoke with Steve the pharmacist and outlined the attributes for Butrans and hysingla. Steve said they have some patients on Butrans but have not dispensed hysingla. I asked if he believes there is a demand for it and Steve said he can't think of why a once a day hydrocodone wouldn't be used.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44224	4/27/2015	Dr doesn't like to go beyond 5-6 tabs of any opioid-if pt still needs higher dose will transfer to pain management-asked about tramadol pt approaching 200mg or norco pt approaching 3-4 tabs will she consider transitioning to Butrans-dr said she would-also went over caresource which dr agreed she has and what the pt has to fail to get the Rx filled-agreed great pt and will look within her practice-gave Butrans formulary grid
	Parma	OH	44134	4/27/2015	Reviewed formulary situation with Hysingla. He has a hand full of patients in mind for Hysingla and has to wait for them to show up for their monthly visit. He reinforced his belief in buprenorphine molecule and feels that it is not as addictive as Hydrocodone and Oxycodone. We told him it is an opioid and therefor does have the potential for abuse and addiction. He is seeing less workers comp and is concentration on the addiction and pain management part of his practice.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	4/27/2015	Talked about abuse deter properties of OxyCotin and hysingla. Discussed the appropriate Percocet patient and OxyCotin, tied in managed care. Dr dint say much but sounds good.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	4/27/2015	OxyContin-reminder when get to 3-4 tabs of Percocet to transition to OxyContin-dr said that's where he typically Rx's it-dr asked for abuse pamphlets for his pts-gave him some geared for pts and also for him; Butrans-went over when approaching 200mg tramadol and need to go to ER opioid plus caresource coverage-dr agreed to try it on one pt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	4/27/2015	Quick call with Karen. Note: Dr. Reed left early; Dr. Roda is off/sick. Met with med asst Diana, she asked about my "new product" and then went to look for literature left from someone. She asked: Is your product Zohydro? I replied, no. My new product is Hysingla ER, a once daily hydrocodone with abuse deterrent properties, no acetaminophen. We also discussed Butrans savings card exp date of 3/31/15; and printing out of Butrans cards, until I get them hard copies. Left my business card for calls on lunch cancellations: NOTE: lunches only on Mon and Wed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	4/28/2015	Told dr I had one point for each product starting with Butrans. I told dr that he should be using Butrans for any and all patients on tramadol around the clock and in pain. Mentioned that Norco patients are also good candidates however those patients can also be appropriate for hysingla. Discussed Butrans new savings cards and reminded him of hysingla dosing and conversions from a norco. Asked dr to use oxycontin as he sees fit and a percocet patient in pain around the clock is an excellent candidate but also may be appropriate for hysingla.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	4/28/2015	Showed dr the new portfolio piece with our products. Butrans, hysingla and oxycontin. I won't lined it for him and explained where and when patients are candidates for each. Dr said we do kind of have the market when it comes to pain. I told him to please write Butrans for those on tramadol around the clock and hysingla for those on Norco around the clock. Dr agreed and said he just needs to get hysingla paid for. I agreed and told him I will make a formulary grid specifically for his practice. Dr said that will help.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/28/2015	Doctor said that 80 percent of his practice is acupuncture, but he still requires Pharmacologic approaches. Used maria profile to discuss specific patient for butrans and the option of butrans as patients first opioid and it c3 classification. He has more comfort with Oxycodone molecule than hydrocodone.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/28/2015	Discussed specialized formulary grids for products with Kare and dr and discussed each grid and where each product can be placed in the practice. Told dr and Kare that the grids need to be placed in each exam room for ALL the providers to help streamline where the products are covered and where they are not. Provided Butrans copy cards, hysingla initiation and titration guide and oxycontin titration guide.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	4/28/2015	Lunch. Discussed/showed speaker booklet/slide deck manual. (I received UPS) Dr Lahama stated he already recieved in mail. We discussed coverage and patient access for Butrans and he says he's been writing more Butrans and that Butrans has the best coverage of all 3 products. I told him to remember OxyContin has been out for years and also has favorable commercial, Med D and Medicaid coverage, for the majority of patients. He also states he hopes coverage for Hysingla will improve soon. I asked him how is the safety and efficacy for patients currently on Hysingla? He says patients are doing great, no reports of side effects, and no need to titrate dose (s) yet. I asked where exactly he is getting hysingla covered? He says he can't recall, but will do some research and then call me. NOTE: he is leaving for vacation, will NOT be back until May 11 or 12.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	4/28/2015	OxyCotin-asked dr at what point does he go from a short acting opioid to an long acting opioid-dr said it's very dependent on the patients past medicine history and very individualized-dr said he really likes Purdues products and prescribes them whenever possible; butrans-dr said he is writing more because it's easy to prescribe for patients taking short acting opioids and also opioid naive patients
PPLPMDL0020000001	Warrensville Heights	OH	44122	4/28/2015	Reviewed product portfolio and appropriate patient types for each product. He was most interested in Hysingla and butrans. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	4/30/2015	Doctor said that he needs us to pay for him to go to Las Vegas for a pain conference and was hoping we could pay for it. If he is going to treat for pain he needs to learn more. I told him that I could help . He said he appreciates the information from me but should still get more. Told him that we can't pay for his Vegas trip but I can bring him lunch and we can talk in detail. Reviewed portfolio and ER options for his patients. Two with abuse deterrent properties and 7 doses and the other appropriate as patients first opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	4/30/2015	Lunch-OxyContin- dr said he likes going to OxyContin especially when pts are referred to him on other opioids-dr said he likes getting them on a 12 hour dosing schedule to control their opioid load; Butrans- Drs nurse and nurse practitioner asked for me to get dr onto prescribing more Butrans because they both like it-dr said most of his pts are on higher doses of opioids and that makes it difficult to prescribe-went over elderly pts not tolerating NSAIDs and ultram pts approaching 200mg-dr agreed great pts for a 7 day patch-also went over care source pts since one of his top plans and dr agreed to prescribe it there-left both savings cards
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/1/2015	I was at the window reviewing butrans savings card changes and Hysingla appropriate patient types, dosing options, ADP and which plans it is covered on since I know they won't do prior authorizations at the moment. Call was fairly quick

PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	5/4/2015	Brought in 2 patient profiles for dr Bashor today. Told dr I have 2 viable ER opioid options for him for those patients on Tramadol or Norco. I told dr that the next time he has a patient like Helen on tramadol and its being taken on a daily, around the clock basis to convert to Butrans and reminded starting doses and coverage. I told dr that for hysingla, to focus on 2 mc plans which should be Aetna and Caremark. I told him for now it is a product for the working class and discussed e Jane profile. I told him to just use it clinically to allow the product to prove itself. Dr said he will use and it has already but chose a medicare patient and it was too expensive. I asked him to keep looking for the right patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/4/2015	Reviewed quickly information in common with oxycontin and Hysingla and appropriate patient type. She said she tries not to treat her patients in pain but does write a little Hydrocodone. She is aware of Hysingla and will keep it in mind for the patient already taking 3 pills per day and needs more relief.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/4/2015	Dr appreciated brochures I left last visit and will keep me up to date if needs more; OxyContin-asked for Percocet pt approaching 3 tabs to transition to OxyContin-dr said he likes it there and will; butrans-reminder about care source pt with u controlled pain on tramadol
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/4/2015	Short discussion with dr about the ER options available for those who have daily around the clock pain. Used the portfolio piece to review all product attributes, dosing, conversions and appropriate time and patient type to use. I asked her to just think of he products as options available when a patient on an IR opioid is in pain and wants more IR opioid and to use them then. Dr said she is coming around to my products are really likes Butrans and has some patients she will try it on.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	5/4/2015	Talked about the uncontrolled patient that would be appropriate for OxyCotin and hysingla. Dr stated he couldn't remember what plan the patient had he gave hysingla but he did say that he wrote one and it was commercial insurance. I asked or another patient to get experience writing it. Scheduled a lunch for a deeper conversation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/4/2015	I asked what types of pain does she see in the practice everyday or the medicines she sees most? Mackenzi said that the most common type of chronic pain is low back pain and she sees a lot of Norco and percocet. I asked her if she has prescribing privileges yet and she said not yet. Discussed e new portfolio piece to explain all three products. Led with Butrans reviewing attributes, dosing and conversions and when and where to use. Hysingla attributes, dosing and conversions, plasma concentrations from MVA and when and where to use. Oxycontin attributes, dosing and conversions. Discussed cost and copy cards for each product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/4/2015	Lunch-Dr said he likes to prescribe it after 3 tabs of Percocet-doesn't feel comfortable going beyond 3 tabs-went over abuse deterrent study and dr said he feels comfortable prescribing OxyContin and likes abuse deterrent properties; Butrans-discussed elderly pt on tramadol/cox 2 not getting pain relief and/or not tolerating-asked dr does he feel confident prescribing it there and he said yes-went over coverage especially care source and dr agreed to prescribe it for one pt-had pt this afternoon coming in on almost everything and not being controlled on lidocaine patch-lower back pain and OA-said perfect pt and will follow up this week with pt
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/4/2015	Discussed all products with drs Bachtel and Reed about all products using the portfolio piece explaining oxycontin, hysingla and Butrans attributes, dosing, conversions and patient profiles Helen, Jen and Maggie. Dr said that he would like to write Butrans but forgets about it and even that it's a Purdue Product. I told him we have discussed it over a dozen times and that he needs to keep the initiation and titration guide wither on his workstation on in his labcoat to help keep it on his radar. I asked him if he believes hysingla is a product he will write and why he hasn't already? Dr said it just takes him time and he believes it's a good product. I asked him to just gain some clinical experience with it in the right patient and allow it to prove itself. Dr said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/4/2015	Few short words with Seth as he was very busy. Reminded about hysingla 7 doses, q24 and no APAP. Seth said he's filled 2 prescriptions. Reviewed copy card and trial offer

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/5/2015	Discussed oxycontin dosing and his need to titrate through the 7 doses. I made the comparison between oxycontin and hysingla with 7 doses, abuse deterrent and both single entity. Dr said he doesn't have the norco patients for it. I told him if he has some that don't respond to oxycontin? Dr said not really. I told him that would be an opportunity for hysingla ER.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/5/2015	Discussed upcoming hysingla program and provided him invites to hand out at his discretion. Dr said he will give one to all providers and their nurses if they feel it's necessary for them to attend. Dr said hysingla is working very well in his patients and is pleased with the results but said he just needs improved coverage. Quickly told him to keep his eye on he Butrans ball and keep that product moving. Dr said it's a lot easier to get approved especially for CareSource and BWC.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/5/2015	We talked about the abuse det properties of hysingla and OxyCotin. And talked about the conversion from hydrocodone to hysingla, also talked about Butrans and oxycoctn dosing

PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	5/5/2015	I- Butrans clinical trials and managed care. OxyContin start principles. Hysingla dosing and managed care. W- having trouble getting Hysingla through managed care
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44312	5/5/2015	Dr said he was about to call me because he needs more hysingla copy cards. I asked him why and he said he's written about 10 prescriptions so far but only has gotten one through. Dr said say that some of the patients had medicare and it was just too expensive and others needed pa's of multiple IR and ER opioids prior to getting hysingla. Discussed plans with dr and asked him to write for specific plans and to keep using. Dr said he's using mostly for Norco patients and even those on very low dose as well. Dr said Akron General has instituted a new Opioid contract where all patients sign a contract and he must due an opioid risk assessment which he's in favor of. Dr said he's putting all patients on IR opioids on ER opioids as long as they are taking them around the clock. Reminded of Butrans patients types and doses and then invited to the program on 5/19.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/5/2015	Talked about the patient dr 2 had coming into fill a script of hysingla and asked that she stock the 30mg today. She said no. PPLPMDL0020000001	Norton	OH	44203	5/5/2015	Talked w all the office staff regarding cover my med. they use it and like the system. We talked talked about the commercial patients for hysingla and reviewed caressource regarding Butrans. Reviewed the patient he choose for hysingla. It was a male who had failed several pain medications in the past they could not remember the plan he had. Dr signed up for hysingla.com so he can get coupons incase they are not available. We reviewed attributes of our products. used the patient profile to help identify patients he has in the office. Dr said caressource is growing in his office and many are on pain meds. Reviewed indication, abuse deter properties and gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids. I asked the dr to try 5 patients this week for hysingla. Dr said maybe one. He will be gone for a week next week on vacation.

I told him about the appropriate patients taking tramadol or Norco around the clock and I will follow up next week and I will be interested in hearing about his new starts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/6/2015	I showed Joe the portfolio piece and told him about each product discussing attributes, dosing and conversions. I asked him why he would go outside any of our ER opioid products for a patient that needed to be placed on an IR opioid? Joe talked about how difficult it's becoming for physicians to write opioids and the AGMC Protocol. I told Joe now that he's in a specially market he can justify the use of opioids for appropriate patients and then discussed who's appropriate when they are in daily, around the clock pain. Joe agreed so I told him to write oxycontin, Butrans and hysingla.

	Westlake	OH	44145	5/6/2015	Discussed reviewing cover my meds w staff and coordinated date. Reviewed w nurse a question they had regarding a rejection on Butrans w a med d patient. After reviewing it turned out to be a plan we did not have coverage on. Reviewed w dr the appropriate hydrocodone patient whom is uncontrolled and potential for hysingla. Dr asked me to work w nurses to identify the right patient. Dr said he up was having success w Butrans and he felt it was working and will continue to use it. I highlighted the uncontrolled Tramadol patient and caresource. Dr agreed to write more product given the right insurance.n

	Akron	OH	44333	5/6/2015	I asked dr what he would do for a patient that presents on 30mg a day of hydrocodone? Dr said he would go to Butrans. I asked him why not hysingla and he said he feels more comfortable giving patients a patch rather than a pill. Dr said that the psychological component of a pill vs a patch is very distinct and the patch doesn't have much of that psychological component. Dr said he will use hysingla when the patient doesn't want a patch or feels the patient might do better with a pill. Dr said he has had no issues getting hysingla approved. I asked dr to keep writing all products.

	Akron	OH	44320	5/6/2015	I asked Monique and Val again about the patient she placed on Butrans and if there was a pa necessary. Val said she hasn't seen anything for that patient and dr said she needs to follow up with the patient to ensure she's received it. I told her that's a good idea and to let me know. I told her she has a lot of opportunity for Butrans based on her level of patients on IR opioids around the clock and asked her if I'm correct in saying that? Monique said that I am right and she does need to take advantage of it. I told her there is a formulary grid and conversion guide in each exam room and to use them. Monique said ok and she will look into it more. Left her the hysingla initiation and titration guide and to use it.
PPLPMDL0020000001
	Stow	OH	44224	5/6/2015	Dr told me that she has written 2 prescriptions for hysingla recently. One for a patient taking Norco around the clock and has medicare and Medicaid with buckeye and wanted to know if it will be approved. I asked dr and her nurse Ney what prior medicines the patient has been on. The patient has failed NSAIDS, tramadol, Norco and has been on oxycontin. I told Ney to Process the PA. The other patient was on MMO. I explained the criteria and told dr to consider oxycontin or Butrans and discussed conversions from Norco. Dr said she's had a great success with Butrans on a 38 yr old man with district fibrosis and in severe pain and had not been on any medicines. Dr said she started with tramadol with little pain relief. Dr said that she realized he was in severe pain around the clock and started Butrans 10mcg with 1-2 Norco a day for breakthrough and doesn't need to use his Cain to walk anymore and has very little pain and dr said it changed his life. I asked dr for continued prescribing.
PPLPMDL0020000001
	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/6/2015	Dr called me and said he has a patient who took an oxycontin copy card to the pharmacy and the card was denied because it was expired. Dr said he wants me to get him new cards. I arrived to office and told dr that the cards with 3-31-15 expiration date should still be valid and the pharmacy should have ran it. I explained the new cards and told him to give that patient a new one just to be safe. I also told him about the new Butrans copy cards and to write it.

	Akron	OH	44312	5/6/2015	Coffees-butrans-dr teased me about ' riding the butrans train' and I asked him if he is all aboard?! Dr said yes and I reminded him of smooth trip from tramadol pts not getting adequate pain relief to butrans focusing on the conversion side rule-dr said he likes butrans because he really doesn't like prescribing opioids in high amounts; OxyContin-reminded dr of good coverage and reducing opioid load in Percocet pts from 3-4 tabs to q12hr dosing and dr said he really likes OxyContin because of that plus he likes the molecule
	Akron	OH	44312	5/6/2015	Coffees-OxyContin-went over conversion page in cva and asked him does this make sense to him? Dr said yes and likes the fact he can cut down the total opioid load for his pts as he gets nervous with higher amounts of Percocet-asked him for his continued support in transition to OxyContin and he said yes; butrans-dr said cliff in recently to help get pt on butrans with coverage problems-kuddos cliff!
PPLPMDL0020000001
	Stow	OH	44224	5/7/2015	Showed dr the portfolio piece and told him for most of the IR opioid patients who are on them on a daily,around the clock basis oxycontin,hysingla and Butrans can fit the ER choices. I told him that SummaCare and Carmark are plans that he can write hysingla for when the Norco is being taken around the clock. Explained Butrans and oxycontin dosing with appropriate patient selection and asked him to just TRY Butrans so it can prove itself to him. Dr said ok.

	Stow	OH	44224	5/7/2015	I showed dr the portfolio piece and told her she has three distinct ER options for almost all the IR opioids she sees. Explained the patient types for each product and told her that Oxycontin is a 1:1 conversion from IR oxycodone or percocet and to convert appropriate patients. I told her with hysingla, she should focus on two SummaCare and Carmark which are covered private plans. Dr said that's good to know. I reminded her that Butrans is ideally suited for her Caresource and Medicare patients who are on tramadol and Norco. Dr said thanks.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/11/2015	Follow up from last visit regarding Butrans and caresource patients. Dr said he wrote and I confirmed the one so far went thru w the staff. The other one is awaiting pa approval. I explained to the prior auth person how caresource works and the process.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/11/2015	I showed Dr the Butrans Helen profile and I asked him if he would identify just one patient with a similar profile and write Butrans? Dr said ok. I asked if he has any reservations in using it clinically? Dr said no. I invited him to the hysingla program on 5-19.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	5/11/2015	Spoke with Jessica and Sue about hysingla and Butrans attributes and managed care coverage. Jessica said they had a script recently for hysingla from Elise Leone. The patient needed 30mg and needed to order it but got it in the next day. Invited Jessica and Gilbert to the program on May 19

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	5/11/2015	Spoke with pharmacist Brian about hysingla. Brian said he has seen mailers on it. I reviewed all attributes, dosing and conversions. Discussed private insured patients and copay cards with trial offer. I asked Brian if he had questions and he didn't with no comment.

	Stow	OH	44224	5/11/2015	Followed up with dr and her nurse Nay about the 2 patients she started on hysingla. Got PA forms that have already been filled out for ESI and for a dual eligible UHC community plan and medicare patient. Dr said she just signed the PA forms today and will be sent tomorrow and asked me the patients chances. I told dr that I'm not sure but feel good about the ESI patients and the prior meds that have failed. I asked for continued identification for hysingla patients with private insurance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/11/2015	Talked about how often they fill hydrocodone to be taken atc. She said a lot. I focused on what hysingla is and the indication. Talked about fair balance of not for use in acute patients. Discussed abuse potential for all
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	5/11/2015	Asked the pharmacist what his thoughts regarding abuse deter properties and once a day dosing w hysingla. Discussed fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including our Purdue products. Talked about dosing and if patients complain about taking extended release opioids, he said no usually it's the price they complain about. I asked if they tell the patient the after you ran insurance thru to tell them the price or do you list the cash price. Answer was it depends. Reviewed attributes of our products and highlighted the coupons for hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/11/2015	Talked about what options norco patients have when they need an atc opioid. Pharmacist listed out a few products, even OxyCotin. I reviewed indication and talked hysingla. Covered attributes and gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/11/2015	Quick review of Hysingla ER and oxyContin for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, said ok will consider if appropriate but is sending most patients to pain mgmt.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/12/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER/Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, formulary opportunities, savings cards. Said ok will continue to look for appropriate patients that she can switch to ERO.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/12/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER/Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, formulary opportunities, said he is on board and will recommend to clinicians for appropriate patients that they can get covered.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	5/12/2015	Handed portfolio piece through the window, reviewed ER med options and asked if he has found patient for Hysingla. He asked me to review it again. I started to discuss appropriate patient type, he was called away. I handed him initiation guide and formulary sheet. Told him to find a Patient taking 3 or more Norco who still needs analgesia, they could take one Hysingla. Commercial patient is best possibility for coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/12/2015	Doctor was sitting at her desk didn't want to be interrupted. I told her I was leaving information on our portfolio of products for patients in around the clock pain. Hysingla is the new one daily Hydrocodone with ADP.....left initiation guide.....
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/12/2015	Using portfolio piece reintroduced myself to Linda since she has been out of town. Reviewed product positioning for each product and then asked her if she has heard of Hysingla. She said that she knew it was on its way. I reviewed complete details of product and let her know that Doctor nickels supports its use. She inquired into coverage So I showed her formulary grid and asked her to concentrate on commercial plans. Asked if she has patients that might be appropriate for Hysingla and she said absolutely!

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/12/2015	Quick window...handed him portfolio piece and said that He has good options for his patients in around the clock pain. Butrans is the only c3 ER opioid on the market pulled thru med d formulary. Reminded him that there is now an ER Hydrocodone, Hysingla, once daily....he thanked me
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/12/2015	Dr came to window. I asked him what has been holding him back from writing hysingla? Dr said he needs reminding, and I reminded him of my weekly visits and asked if he gets his literature. Dr said he does t read much of the materials left by reps. Highlighted the working adult uncontrolled on norco and offering to the patients. Dr agreed to find someone to write hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/12/2015	Quick window call. Left literature for Josie. Discussed my 3 single entity, extended release opioids for patients who meet ER opioid indication.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	5/12/2015	Discussed with dr the importance of proper selection of patients for hysingla and Butrans. Reviewed Norco around the clock and in pain for hysingla and low dose Norco and tramadol for Butrans. Dr said his hysingla patients are doing really well and he's always looking. Dr said he just titrated a Butrans patient to 15mcg because the patient said it is working but has needed to take more breakthrough Norco. I told dr it sounds like he did he right thing. I asked for continued prescribing and then invited him to the dinner program which he said he might attend.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44040	5/12/2015	While waiting for Pharmacist Victoria, there was a patient wanting to refill an OxyContin rx. The patient wanted the script filled today. Victoria stated to patient that she DID NOT have OxyContin in stock of that dose. She did NOT tell the patient she could order that strength. I asked Victoria about OxyContin and I said CAN you WILL you order OxyContin? She said yes, the patient in front of me wanted the OxyContin TODAY and she told the patient she will have to check elsewhere. She wouldn't provide any further information. (It may have been an OARRS?? Issue; not sure) discussed/left 3 product trifold & Hysingla ER initiation & titration guide for Victoria.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/12/2015	Impromptu breakfast. Dr E states she just placed a patient on Hysingla ER, she hopes it's covered/patient can afford. Reminded her to offer to only those patients on commercial insurance for now/I will continue to communicate formulary wins in future. She continues to have good success with OxyContin. Butrans she says she is "afraid to use." She's unfamiliar with buprenorphine molecule, not sure where/when to use Butrans. I replied: Butrans, a CIII, 1x week patch; is suitable for opioid naive or AFTER patient has been on 3-4 Tramadol daily; and they need additional pain relief. Left Butrans titration guide. Dr Anna says she will continue to manage opioids for EXISTING PATIENTS ONLY - any new patients asking for pain meds will be referred to pain specialty moving forward.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	5/12/2015	Invited dr to the program on 5/19 and dr said he would like to come with his wife the office manager and will check his schedule. I asked dr if he's tried hysingla clinically and he said not yet but did just titrate a patient from 10mcg Butrans to 15mcg and the patient is doing well. I asked for continued prescriptions and reminded dr where and when for him to write hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	5/12/2015	Lunch. Dr Laham says he tried to write Hysingla yesterday for Anthem patient. I reminded him that Anthem requires step edit for Hysingla ER/reviewed details of step edit. He said that instead, he placed patient on OxyContin. He continues to have good success in terms of efficacy with all 3 products. Coverage/access is only limiting factor.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/12/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER/Butrans for those patients failing on present therapy requiring around the clock analgesia, formulary opportunities, Savings cards, said ok will continue to consider/prescribe for patients that have
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/13/2015	Door was open and dr was at the desk. He said what was new. I said I was here for your uncontrolled norco patients who are appropriate for the nice a day hysingla option. He didn't remember a thing about it. Reviewed a few attributes like managed care and dosing and asked if he would offer it to a patient this week w commercial insurance. Dr would not say yes just smiled. I said its just a matter of time before some norco patient is appropriate for a longer deliver system and get familiar w hysingla so you will be comfortable writing it. I scheduled a lunch...dr has been hard to see lately.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	5/13/2015	He said that he thinks he is beginning to prescribe more Hysingla. He said that he has 10-12 patients on Hysingla. So far, they are all doing well. He said he knows that I want him to prescribe more and he is but it takes a while to convince patients to switch and learn to deal with the managed care issues. I thanked him for his support and told him and Marian that I am here to help them in any way. I'm can follow up with pharmacies or whatever they need....
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/13/2015	Opened with points from previous conversation-. Clarified that last time he said he was using atc opioids in his older patients and he said he was going to try hysingla which he has not done. I started off with his over /Med d silvers scripts patients for Butrans. Reviewed dosing and asked if he could focus in trying ine appropriate patient on either med d or caresource this week given they are appropriate and in need of a change to their current meds. Dr said yes. The question with the unresolved norco patient if he would be willing to give it to the patient. Dr said he needed time to remember dosing. Reviewed attributes. Dr said he has a small patient population appropriate for extended release products. I said understood and we agreed that he would try one to gain experience.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	5/13/2015	He has been traveling quite a bit and he feels like his patients are all old and dying and maybe he should retire. He sees patients in pain and thinks there is a place for Hysingla in his practice if insurance will cover it. He finds that insurance companies dictate what he should write. We discussed PA's where he can state his case for why he chooses the medicine he prescribed and find that often it is approved. He thinks that he will have an equal.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44106	5/13/2015	Umbor of appropriate patients for Hysingla as oxycontin but most patients prefer the IR. Reviewed similarities of oxycontin and Hysingla and used PHII to discuss appropriate patient. Meh said he will write for a couple of

Said ok will continue to prescribe and consider for appropriate patients that have coverage
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/13/2015	I was speaking to Laura the office manager about the drs usage of Butrans or hysingla. Laura stated she didn't ink he write any. I attempted to ask about cover my meds, but the dr walked into the office. I said hello and told him I was to see if Butrans had a fit with his appropriate pain patients this week. Dr said he doesn't use "the stuff". Left information.

PLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/13/2015	Discussed if they will stock hysingla. And they said no. I asked about their policy on new patients trying to get hysingla and what do they do? They said it can be ordered. We talked about attributes and abuse potential for all opioids. Reviewed managed care.
	Akron	OH	44333	5/13/2015	Elise told me that she is having a Very difficult time getting hysingla approved. I told her I hope she's keeping it for her private insured patients for the product and she said she is. Discussed the plans important hi to her business and she said UHC and Medical mutual. I told her they are both tough plans to get hysingla peopled for unless the patient has multiple IR and ER opioid failures. I told elise to look at the Rx insurance and she said she doesn't and won't do that because she only sees the medical that's posted and it's too difficult to get that done. I told her then to focus on Tricare,ESI, and Caremark. She said that's good and thinks she has a Tricare patient for it now. Discussed her success with Butrans and how she should continue to identify the right candidates. Oxycontin for those already on the IR molecule.
PLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	5/13/2015	He wrote another Hysingla this morning. Vicki is working on the PA right now. We discussed strategies to write the Pa so that it gets approved. He likes the option of Hysingla but several have been rejected and he will be much happier when it is covered on more plans. I thanked him for his support. Asked that he not forget about appropriate oxycontin patient while he gets clinical experience with Hysingla.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/14/2015	Discussed the program next week at Twisted Olive. Dr said his mid levels need to register and are coming. PLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/14/2015	Tried to see the dr today but it didn't work out. I highlighted to the office manager hysingla and asked for an apt. She told me to call next week and she would find an apt for me.
	Rocky River	OH	44116	5/14/2015	Saw dr thru the window. Highlighted his familiarity of the molecule oxycodone and the dr agreed he uses OxyCotin for his older patients. Covered coverage for med d coverage and asked how oferts le is he with Hydrocodone? Dr said about the same. I mentioned our previous conversation about him trying to write Hysingla but it was rejected. I asked him to try again and offer hysingla to those uncontrolled commercial Norco patients. He said ok, I said I would follow up next week to see how it's going and he said that was fine. He did me think. Trying to write Butrans more often.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/14/2015	Confirmed attendance to Ali program next week for hysingla. Greg said he thinks the product will be really taking off once it gets covered on medicaid and Medicare. I told him I understand however there are working patients that have around the clock pain and currently taking Norco. Greg said he agrees but they are just harder to find. Greg said that Butrans is doing very well and patients love it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	5/14/2015	Reviewed pain portfolio and he wanted to hear more about butrans. Introduced scheduling, appropriate patient type, initiation and titration, formulary and med d coverage. Reviewed the opioid naive study inclusion because he feels those are the patient he would prescribe butrans for. Meh said he will give it a try. Spent a short period of time reviewing Hysingla and OxyContin and their similarities but he probably won't have patient for those at this time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	5/14/2015	Lunch. Asked Paul for patients on hydrocodone combos, for whom he's thinking about titrating, to consider, for those covered on commercial insurance, conversion to Hysingla ER. Discussed OxyContin after oxycodone, or opioid naive start dose 10 mg dosed q12 h. Discussed Butrans for opioid naive or after Tramadol. Asked Paul to keep in mind today, tomorrow. He will BE OUT Of office next Mon, Tues. Back in office Wed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/14/2015	Talked about how they handle new patients needing hysingla and it not being in the shelf. There was a hesitation but they said it depends on the Ors report.mi asked how often they check it and they said for new patients usually every time. We talked about indication and I asked if this describes some of the immediate release opioid patients currently that fill every month. They said yes, I highlighted the lower doses and asked the. To stock them but he said no. Highlighted attributes of the other products and gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including Purdue products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/14/2015	Talked about attributes of the product ts, take about the tramdol insight and asked if they thought those numbers lined up to what they see. They said no, I asked what was off. They said most tramdol are acute in their pharmacy. I talked about Butrans and dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/14/2015	Spoke with pharmacist Shelby about all products. Introduced her to hysingla and reviewed all attributes, dosing and conversions. Shelby said she just filled a Zohydro this morning for a doctor in Cleveland. I reviewed the patient type appropriate for hysingla and reviewed trial offer with copay card. Shelby said she likes the q24. Reviewed Butrans copay cards and attributes for Butrans and oxycotin and abuse deterrence for oxycotin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	5/14/2015	Roman is very excited about Hysingla because of once daily dosing (and reaching peak at around 16 hours) and abuse deterrent properties. He thinks it is a great option for many of their patients and using tylenol for breakthrough. He doesn't believe that oxycotin is a true q12, some patients need it q8. The patients he would write butrans for are older and spend half of their time in Florida and has concerns with patch in warmer climates. He prefers pills and fewer of them to treat pain. He wants me to call on the nursing home he goes to because he wants to get clinical experience with hysingla there.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	5/14/2015	Using portfolio piece, reviewed portfolio and product positioning. Doctor said he likes to give patients the least amount of medication to treat their pain and thinks that's ideally IR meds are not the way to treat pain. He likes oxycotin q12 dosing but thinks that q24 is even better. He thinks that abuse deterrence is important and was happy to hear that oxycotin and Hysingla have those properties. Pulled through the formulary and which patients are best to try Hysingla. He said he will try it. There are too many variables to consider with butrans, he doesn't think that orthopedics is the best place for butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	5/14/2015	Dr Nageeb said "I tried to write your long acting vicodin a few times, but it was NOT covered." I replied, it's Hysingla ER, once daily hydrocodone with no acetaminophen, abuse deterrent properties. I communicated he should only offer Hysingla ER at this time to patients covered on commercial insurance. Assured him I would communicate future formulary wins for Hysingla ER to his nursing staff. Discussed patient type and how to access OxyContin; discussed patient type and good coverage for Butrans on commercial/Medicare D and Workers Comp plans. He asked that I leave some Hysingla cards at Willoughby location. He didn't realize Hysingla had a trial offer/then future savings. He was pleased with the trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/14/2015	Lunch-Butrans-dr said he is concentrating on prescribing it in caresource pts falling tramadol-agreed excellent pts since its his number one coverage plan; OxyContin-dr prescribes it mostly in cancer pain pts-redIRECTED to pts on Percocet approaching 4 tabs and looking for ER opioid with same molecule-dr agreed better choice and has always looked at it as a last resource type pain med-dr said will look for Percocet pts to transition over to
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky river	OH	44116	5/14/2015	Worked the introduction from the previous discussion. Talked about how familiar she was with OxyCotin and it's managed care, she agreed. I encouraged a trial of hysingla in the commercial insured for those patients she wants to keep in the Hydrocodone e molecules, she told me that the insurance will be the problem. She said she likes to write products she knows has coverage to avoid hassles but she still said she would try to write a few and see how it goes. I suggested if appropriate she could always go OxyCotin or Butrans if Hysingla does go thru and appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/15/2015	Quick review of Hysingla ER/Butrans formulary opportunities, savings cards said ok will continue to consider/prescribe for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	5/15/2015	Good discussion about Butrans and hysingla as well as oxycotin. Reviewed profile piece and outlined each products with where and when to use. Dr said he's been having more success recently getting Butrans approved and is happy with that. I asked him if he's using after tramadol and he said he's used it for Norco and percocet patients as well. Reviewed hysingla attributes, dosing and conversions. I asked dr if he would write it and he said he's not good with the lack of coverage. Reviewed his plans and he said 75% of his business is medicare and Medicaid. I told him I'll take the 25% commercial then for hysingla. Dr said alright he will try it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	5/15/2015	Quick discussion with dr about hysingla and Butrans and asked dr if he recalls the attributes of hysingla? Dr said he did and took the initiation and titration guide. I told him he can learn more about the product by coming to the hysingla program on Tuesday next week. Dr said he likes dr Ali but isn't sure he can make it. I asked dr if he would use Butrans for those on tramadol around the clock? Dr said he has a few patients on it NDC will keep
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/15/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER/Butrans formulary opportunities along with savings cards. Said ok will continue to consider/prescribe for appropriate patients that she can get covered.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/15/2015	Lunch-Butrans-Dawn likes butrans in caresource pts and elderly pts with severe arthritis-finds the elderly like the patches than taking more tablets-will switch them over from norco at 3 tabs; OxyContin-n/a
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/15/2015	Opened the call w the objective of visit is to identify those uncontrolled norco patients that maybe appropriate for hysingla and those uncontrolled lyrica patients for Butrans. Reviewed Phil profile. I opened it as this patient profile was created by a group of drs and I asked for his feed back if he found it to be helpful. After review I asked his thoughts in the material and he said it was helpful and well organized, I asked if he could relate to these patients. Dr said yes. Dr said he doesn't like Tramadol and gave me several reasons why, I asked what cox 2 does he like for pain control and he said lyrica or even Celebrex best. Dr said he likes Butrans and it has taken him a while to remember it but now he feels comfortable writing it. We talked about caresource coverage and med d coverage. Dr was not aware. After review of hysingla dr said he could see himself using it. He thought the free month offer for the next 3 months was a great idea and Carmen was thrilled when I told her the update too. Carmen just started using cover my meds and she thinks its super easy. I asked the dr to find one commercial patient to try next week. I told him I would come back to help him remember. He told me he would read up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	5/15/2015	Led with Norco insight and why hysingla is an excellent option for those patients on Norco around the clock and in pain. Dr said she agrees but hates writing pain medicine. I asked she writes much ER opioids and she said mostly IR. I told her it might be that she's writing IR opioids for patients that meet the ER opioid indication. Dr said I'm probably right. Discussed where and when to use hysingla and oxycotin. Invited to hysingla program and she said she will not attend.
PPLPMDL0020000001	fairview park	OH	44111	5/15/2015	Reviewed attributes of hysingla. Asked if they tried to get it thru managed care yet, they said no. Talked about theatrical card and savings program. She didn't have much to say about it. Gave leave behinds on products.

Asked what molecule were the patient changed from before going to butrans. They said norco and Tramadol. I asked about their experience. So far being positive and to continue to write it and I was here to identify a few areas you might have not thought of. Tied in managed care to caresource and the tramadol patient. Reviewed dosing and covered attributes. With the future uncontrolled norco patients you know have a once a day, reviewed attributes option called hysingla. Talked about their new month and savings program. Reviewed conversion and asked if he would be willing to offer it to his patients. I asked what his hesitations would be to write today. He said he needs to remember its an option. I told him when I come back what would remind him? He wasn't sure.

I had enough time to tell her that my purpose is to discuss ER meds for pain and when they are an appropriate choice for her patients in around the clock pain. She was interested. Asked her to think of a hydrocodone patient taking 3 or more Norco. She was able to think of some. When that patient comes in looking for more pain relief, would she consider ER med like Hysingla for that patient? She said yes, but could I come back next week and discuss it further.....

	Parma	OH	44129	5/15/2015	Asked doctor if he has found that Hysingla patient yet? The patient that might be taking 3 Norco a day and need another.....He may think that patient would be appropriate for a once daily Hysingla, no tylenol....he was signing prescriptions as I talked to him and all were on 3 Norco or 3 Percocet a day. He said not today, but he will keep looking. Reviewed one to one conversion of he finds the right patient and the new savings program. I was excited to present it to him, which made him smile and agree it seemed like a good program for patients. Reminded him that there are 5 strengths of butrans, in case it slips his mind while he searches for Hysingla

	Westlake	OH	44145	5/15/2015	Talked about what we talked about last time was his uncontrolled pain patients on lyrica or tramadol and going to Butrans. I asked if he had any recent hesitations about butrans. Dr said no. I highlighted a few areas he could utilize for Butrans. Caresource and med d plans. Dr seemed interested in hysingla and asked me how it differs from Butrans. I talked about being able to continent patient on the same hydrocodone molecule if he wanted to. Dr liked the attributes and said he really likes the once a day option. I asked if he though he would offer that to patients and he said yes and he needs to read up. I played up the free month for commercial patients and that sounded good.mdr said it wasn't a big deal it was just commercial. I said really. He said I have plenty of commercial patients too. I said exactly. Reviewed a few times how to convert. I asked what kind of dose are your patients on that you are think ing of he said 15 to 20mg total dose. I told him 20mg was the lowest dose we had, dr liked the single entity.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/15/2015	Quick call introducing the savings card program to him and his staff. They were very busy and he has not started anyone in it yet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/15/2015	Asked if he had offered hysingla to patients. He said no. I asked what was holding him back exactly. He said he just forgets its available. I reviewed the commercial and free month trial. Also talked attributes.
	Cleveland	OH	44111	5/15/2015	Talked about the molecule that the patients failed when she offered Butrans. She said Norco. I asked what made her choose Butrans over OxyContin? She said the dosing and she was trying to gain experience w Butrans. I told her what a great thing she is doing by offering it and thrilled she was having good luck. I brought up hysingla as a possible solution to the future uncontrolled norco patient. Reviewed attributes and she said she was interested. I asked what concerns she had and she stated insurance mainly. I told her about the free month and the time her staff had to work on any pa. She said she would try it. I talked about coming back next week to see

	Parma	OH	44129	5/15/2015	Had time to discuss portfolio of products and discuss Hysingla at length. Doctor likes the idea of Hysingla, dosing, abuse deterrent properties. His limiting factor is managed care. He does not have the time or enough staff to chase the prescriptions down. He will write what is the easiest and lowest cost to the patient. Pulled through best chance for coverage and new savings card information. Math at seemed to please him. He said he will try to find one patient and see how it goes. He has some patients that are on butrans for a while now. He likes that med. Talked to Marianne and staff about savings card. They will do a prior auth sometMes if patient is in med and doing well and the insurance company requests it. She said doc hates it when they are in front of computer or in the phone and not w patients. Talked about cover my meds again and she said she may try it because she knows they already have an account.

	Westlake	OH	44145	5/15/2015	Apt today. Address my objective today was to talk about her uncontrolled cox 2 or Tramadol patients to see if they bare an appropriate for Butrans c3. Also told her I wanted to introduce hysingla the once a day hydrocodone for her uncontrolled norco patients. Started w hysingla. Reviewed the basic attributes of the first page of the visual aid. I asked what she thought. She said so far good. I asked what was her experience w the hydrocodone molecule. She said she was very familiar with it. Addressed the patient appropriate for by reference the jane profile. I asked if she can relate toothed profile,e for hysingla or was something missing. She said she tends to write extended release for her older patients. I asked over 18 adults have chronic pain that she treats. She said some, but more older. I asked what she uses for those few. She said norco. We talked about maybe have a few options for hysingla in her practice. I asked how she felt about the 30 a month for hysingla. She said for her its great but her patients not so much. I said isn't the point to treating atc pain....to treat the pain, I said why is an extended release option raises so much concern where treating w immediate opioid doesn't. She said people in pain take their meds. I asked how do you really know. She said they don't complain. I reminded her abut then uncontrolled pain patient who are complaining and wanting help. Covered managed care. Also highlighted abuse potential for all opioids.

Reviewed hysingla the longest. I asked about what they knew on abuse deter properties and I have them the Oxycontin leave behind for reading. We talked about it being possible and that all opioids have risks of abuse potential. Covered the trial card...i asked if they have ever seen this before, they said yes. I asked process was involved on their end and if they run a pa and send it to the office right away or do they wait their second time they fill the script. They said it depends on how busy they are and they don't have a protocol involved. Reviewed dosing and conversion of hysingla. Covered butrans and oxycontin attributes such as dosing.

	Beachwood	OH	44122	5/19/2015	Doctor is completely on board with Hysingla. He has many appropriate patients. It is difficult for him to continue writing because he is so short on time, and writes what he wants and then has to change it when insurance doesn't cover it. He says it makes him shy away from writing it. We discussed where he can write it and what I can do to ensure the scripts make it through the pharmacy. Pulled through the savings program and the many plans with open access. He knows in about 6 months, the insurance landscape will be different. He will write it on the plans I noted were covered. He knows that butrans has good coverage now and didn't in the past.

PLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/19/2015	Dr said she doesn't like to deal with pa/s and she felt for her med d plans that she has more than she likes. I asked when was the last time she wrote oxycontin that required one. she only mentioned the one patient that is allergic to hydrocodone and needs oxycontin that she gets thru. I said is the pa hard to do or is just a pain? She said it takes time and she doesn't want to deal with it. I got her to admit that with the amount of ATC extended release opioids she writes, it must be a small percentage compared to other products. she did agree. Talked about what she likes about oxycontin and who does she write it for if anyone specific. She said she treats her chronic older over 65 pateitns with oxycontin and she won't write more than acute hydrocodone for the younger patients. I said how long is acute to you. She said under 6 months usually. I gave her the oxycodone insight and she wasn't surprised. I told her there would most likely this year be an opportunity to adjust a patietns medications to an extented release product, right. She said yes. I talked the entire time about one patient to offer it to...whether it be for butrans or hysingla. The doctor said schedule three for butrans doesn't mean much because she doesn't give out more than a month supply at once. I talked about med d coverage with butrans and oxycontin. The doctor was convinced that pa's exist more often then not. I highlighted silver schripts. Dr agreed that my products were an appropriate choice.

PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	5/20/2015	Lunch. Insight #19 delivered. Dr. Locke felt that number of 4g or more acetaminophen daily was high.. Led to my single entity, extended release products that contain NO acetaminophen! Dr Locke says he can think of a few hydrocodone patients that would be appropriate for conversion to Hysingla if pain persists. He also says he has male patient in mind, with chronic low back pain who is not doing well on low dose hydrocodone. OxyContin he's had success with in past. He agrees all 3 products have a place in his practice.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/20/2015	Doctor Said he has given Hysingla some thought and he believes it is appropriate for some of his patients. Reviewed initiation and titration again along with managed care information and savings program. Doctor sai he will find a couple patients for Hysingla. He likes Butrans for a variety of patients. Oxycontin he would prefer not to prescribe, but insurance requires it more often than he would like.
PPLPMDL0020000001	South Euclid	OH	44121	5/20/2015	Lunch. Delivered insight #19. Dr. tomm thought the 4g or more daily of acetaminophen was high. Led to my single entity, extended release products with NO acetaminophen. He says he's had success recently with elderly/Butrans. He did NOT remember Butrans was CII and liked fact it could be called or faxed in with refills. He says he's had success with OxyContin in past. He was impressed with abuse deterrent properties for both Hysingla and OxyContin. He also stated he could think of a few patients on vicodin who if pain persists and BEFORE he titrates, he will consider Hysingla ER conversion.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/21/2015	Continued the conversation from last visit. Dr shared the patients who he writes OxyContin for are typically those older who are not candidates for surgery but live in chronic pain. I asked what product does he usually use and he said OxyContin. I said are they typically being converted from Percocet. He said sometimes but not always. As we talked about hysingla, as an option for patients already on the hydrocodone molecule they had the option for hysingla if appropriate. Dr though this sounded like a great option. E office manager mentioned two patients w commercial insurance that the dr could try it on. Dr agreed. I spend some time reviewing the trial card with Beth and she said she would try it. I asked when those patient were coming in but she didn't know. I told her I would follow up next week.

I told her the information is extremely important and then proceeded to explain the trial card offer. Mary said with all the PAs they have to do this is great news because the patient can get their medicine out of the gate and admitted that it was good that I showed up today. Mary said she will explain the process with the other
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	5/26/2015	Window Call. Dr Goldner not in. Discussed with prior auth coordinator, details of the Hysingla ER free trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/26/2015	Met with owner/pharmacy mgr Warren. Let him know what we need him to do and steps he needs to take to ensure new free trial offer works properly for patients; especially Dr. Laham patients. Warren says he's been getting a few Hysingla scripts each week from Dr. Laham. Further, Warren says automatic point of sale savings has been working great. Discussed Dr Laham female patient on 30 mg Hysingla. Warren confirmed that patient has very high deductible and that's why, even after applying Hysingla ER savings card; patient will still pay $191 per month for Hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/26/2015	New approach. Spent time asking about how they feel about me coming so much. I explained how important the office is to me and trying to create a nice balance. The office manager and nurse seems receptive to my conversation.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	5/26/2015	Talked about his experience w hysingla at this point. Which was nothing. Then I asked what one thing is holding him back. He said patient. I said I would focus on norco to hysingla w commercial patients. Is that a helpful reminders I that he remembers who is appropriate and he said yes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	5/26/2015	Dr. Laham states a female patient, whom he wrote Hysingla ER 30 mg for, has a high deductible, and even WITH Hysingla ER savings card, the patient must pay $191 monthly. Dr. Laham says she's going to "bite the bullet" and pay the $191. Discussed that that patient is not the norm, and typically after using Hysingla savings, patients won't pay that much out of pocket. Reinforced free trial offer for hysingla. Met with prior auth coordinator Denise Guinto to discuss new free trial offer for Hysingla. Promised Denise we would meet with pharmacist Warren Friedman and present same free trial specifics.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	5/26/2015	Pharmacy Mgr, Diana Buch, moved to this store recently from Rite Aid Chardon. She states that this Mar's location does not dispense many extended release opioids. She has zero inventory of my products. Left Hysingla ER literature. Discussed new free trial offer for Hysingla ER with Diana.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	5/26/2015	Impromptu lunch. Met new prior auth coordinator/LPN Diana - she will complete most prior auth's. Shannon will now complete all prior auth's for Botox. Informed Dr. Reed of new free trial offer for Hysingla. Reviewed dosing and conversion. She feels new trial offer will be helpful.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	5/26/2015	Impromptu lunch. Dr. Roda states that she has never been a fan of extended release opioids. She will write Percocet or short acting, but that's where she stops. Patients who need extended release opioids will typically be referred to Dr. Reed. Found out that Shannon (med asst) is doing all prior auth's for botox procedures. Met new LPN, prior auth coordinator: Diana Collins.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/26/2015	Lunch appointment with all prescribers and detailed hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions. Detailed the mean hydrocodone concentration graph from MVA. Discussed managed care opportunities with cvs Caremark SummaCare and ESI. Reviewed trial offer specifics and how it would give them extended time to process a PA if their is one while he patient already has a 30 day supply. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions and use in patients who are in pain around the clock on tramadol. Dr said he will write it and said he has plenty of patients on Norco who he could convert and likes the 1:1 conversion and q24.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	5/26/2015	No new information learned on this call.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	5/26/2015	Impromptu lunch. Karen says she rarely refills extended release opioids; nor can she initiate any CII narcotics, as she must write under Dr. Reed. When a patient needs a schedule II or above narcotic, Karen will refer patient to Dr. Reed. I asked Karen if she can initiate a CII or CIII such as Butrans and she says yes. I asked her to keep Butrans in mind after Tramadol, since she can call/fax in Butrans with refills.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	5/26/2015	Quick explanation of hysingla ER trial offer to dr and Tina his office manager. I told dr he just needs to identify working patients who have SummaCare, Caremark and ESI. Dr said it's a good idea. Told him to continue identifying Butrans patients who are in pain around the clock on tramadol.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/26/2015	OxyContin-dr is trying to switch at 4 tabs as much as possible and sometimes difficult when coming in on 6-8 Percocets from referrals-reminded of 7 strengths to make it switch from any dose; butrans-dr said he finds he and his partners are prescribing more because it's a nice transition from tramadol-agreed and went over coverage
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/26/2015	Lunch appointment with all prescribers and detailed hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions. Detailed the mean hydrocodone concentration graph from MVA. Discussed managed care opportunities with cvs Caremark SummaCare and ESI. Reviewed trial offer specifics and how it would give them extended time to process a OA if their is one while he patient already has a 30 day supply. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions and use in patients who are in pain around the clock on tramadol. Dr said that he minks hysingla is a great idea and a lot will depend on cost and the time it takes to process the PAs.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/26/2015	Lunch appointment with all prescribers and detailed hysingla ER attributes, dosing and conversions. Detailed the mean hydrocodone concentration graph from MVA. Discussed managed care opportunities with cvs Caremark SummaCare and ESI. Reviewed trial offer specifics and how it would give them extended time to process a OA if their is one while he patient already has a 30 day supply. Discussed Butrans attributes, conversions and use in patients who are in pain around the clock on tramadol. Dr said he's just really concerned about the cost of new products and how difficult they are to get covered. I told dr to stick to cvs Caremark and ESI along with Kim said she couldn't believe I came to see her today based on how busy they are whoever said she will listen as she works. I reviewed the hysingla ER trial offer and told her its for a limited time. Kim said then it's a TRUE trial offer and I told her yes and she said that's a good move for the company and knows to run a secondary claim.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/27/2015	Used our previous conversation as part of the opening discussion. Talked about his familiarity w OxyCotin. Dr was very comfortable w the molecule and dosing. Dr also uses OxyCotin for his older older patients. I asked about his non Medicare part d patients w atc pain. Dr said he had some. I asked if he had objections to offering to his patients. He said no but they don't like once a day. We talked about doing what he felt was right and that worked with in his style. Dr agreed to offer it to his patients but he will not push it if they refuse. Reviewed trial card. Discussed Butrans too. Dr told me he got rid of 20 patients on oxycotin and other medications that were chronic. Dr said he has too many pain patients. We talked about treating patients he trusts w Purdue products and who are appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/27/2015	Talked about savings cards and tried to figure out the process they had for taking our trial cards. Unfortunately they were so busy they asked me to come back. I highlighted the products, gave my card.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	5/27/2015	Lunch-OxyContin- dr said he transitions from Percocet now at 1-2 tabs because once his patients go to higher dose counts he can't get them down-if they request more he will tell them no and go somewhere else-went over great coverage with him and dr said he's had no problems; butrans-again will switch from tramadol or low dose Percocet/Norco and even if patients are on 4-6 Norco and can't get Hysingla approved will switch to butrans

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	5/28/2015	Spoke with Ray the pharmacist and explained the new trial card process. Ray said that once the primary claim is declined that the script stops cold there and they need to call a tech support number to open up a secondary claim in order to run the trial offer and dispense the 30 days. Ray said it may take an extra 10 minutes. I told him that I was not aware of that situation and have not been told by other rite aid pharmacists. I asked Ray if he would invest the time to so that and he said yes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	5/28/2015	Doctor said he likes tablets better than patches. He likes butrans because of the scheduling and that it is something different, he likes Hysingla because of the once daily dosing. He has two patients he wants to try for Hysingla. I reviewed formulary And savings program. He wished that Hydrocodone is still a c3. Butrans he will keep in mind especially for patients he is referring to pain management, he likes the idea of referring them to pain management on butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	5/28/2015	Quickly reviewed portfolio piece and new Hysingla information and savings program. He was upset with a patient and He didn't want to be engaged. He gave no commitment, but thanked me for the information
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	5/28/2015	Reviewed w/George Hysingla ER Trial card program along with Butrans formulary opportunities. Said ok will order accordingly
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	5/28/2015	Laura got confirmation email from Doctor nickels last night that it is ok to prescribe Hysingla. She has a few patients in mind already and is excited to try it. Reviewed initiation, titration, formulary and new savings program.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/28/2015	Reviewed information with Zani and Karen also. Butrans she will use for patients before Norco ideally. Hysingla she thinks she will use if they are needing more than 30-40 Norco per day.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	5/28/2015	Told dr that I wanted to follow up on the 2 hysingla scripts she write that required PAs. Told her that there is a new trial offer available and dr said I should speak to Nay and that's she's way behind. Nay said to come back tomorrow and she will have a few minutes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	5/28/2015	Reviewed Hysingla. Dr said the reason he hasn't written it is because it doesn't come to mind. Reviewed attributes and I paused and checked in to see if he had questions or concerns at this point. He said no. Went into conversion- he thought that was easy to understand. I asked if instead of adding another short acting hydrocodone, if appropriate he could offer Hysingla instead. Dr said maybe. Covered insurance and trial card. Also talked about oxycotin and butrans...but hysingla was the man discussion today.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	5/28/2015	Quickly reviewed new saving card process. He shared with me that they have written it for Medicare patients and it was denied. Reviewed commercial patient and specific plan to target for initial success. He will stick with those, but it limits where he want to use it. He appreciated the updated information.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	5/28/2015	U -dr said he's reducing the amount of Percocet for breakthrough pain when switching to OxyContin-dr said he usually tries the switch at 3 tabs because he doesn't want to prescribe high amounts to patients-agreed good place to switch; butrans-dr said he now has 4-5 patients on it and all are caresource coverage-dr said he's had no problems with the prior authorization and I asked him to continue to look for patients on tramadol to switch-dr
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	5/28/2015	Told dr I wanted him to convert more IR oxycodone or percocet patients to q12 oxycotin. I asked him to please consider hysingla as yet another option to convert his IR opioid patients who are in pain around the clock to.
	Barberton	OH	44203	5/28/2015	Talked about his commitment to try hysingla and reviewed what happen that no one got their script filled. Turns out the doctor didn't offer it. He gave several reasons why....remembering, concern of cost, worry that the patient won't be happy with a once a day product. All in all, the dr agreed that it was himself holding himself back from offering to a patient. We reviewed indication and the changes to treating pain patietns and he kept coming back to writing butrans and oxycotin. I aske dhow different is it really than oxycotin? After he thought about it he stated it wasn't. I saidhow did you convince the several patietns tomove from tramadol to butrans? He said it wasn't so hard. I said so why do you think they will put up a bigger fight for hysingla? We reviewed several attributes and trial and savings cards. Dr agreed that for the right patient he will try again to find someone
PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	5/28/2015	Lunch. Provided updated 30 day free trial information to staff and specifically, Marianne, prior authorization coordinator. communicated to Marianne the commercial plans that do NOT require a prior auth for Hysingla ER: TriCare, Cigna Commercial, Medco, Express Scripts and CVS Caremark. She agreed to make sure to tell patients to activate their cards PRIOR to going to the pharmacy. She also agreed it's a good idea for Dr. Salama to write for a few extra days of current therapy, to hold patient over until their strength of Hysingla ER arrives at pharmacy. Dr Salama agreed to all, said he would start writing Hysingla ER for commercial plans we discussed. Reviewed dosing (Q24 h), abuse deterrent properties, no acetaminophen, strengths, focusing on 20, 30 and 40 mg. I let he and Marianne know I would follow up next week on this commitment. Provided Marianne additional green/Protect your Meads at Home brochures; she places them in each patient room. She stated they are of value to the office/continue to bring more copies.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/29/2015	followed up from previous discussion regarding their commitment to try hysingla which they didn't yet. When asked what was the problem or hesitation....the doctor told me it doesn't come to mind. I said not even with my materials I leave? He said no. Highlighted the appropriate patient and checked in with him to see his thoughts. Dr talked and said he can't think of manypatient she has but the one patient on caresource that might be appropriate. After the review, the doctor actually found Butrans to be a better fit for that caresource patient. I asked what about it he likes and doesn't like? Managed care came up and once a day came up. Highlighted coverage, reviewed the trial card. Asked him to offer it to one patient. Dr agreed to try one patient. I hande dhim a conversion card with my business card. As a reminder I asked him to set it on his desk. The doctor started to hand it back to me and say he will remember and I handed it only to him and said you just told me you keep forgetting. I asked him to use it for one patient and tell me know it goes in the next few weeks. he said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	5/29/2015	Discussed her experine with pain patients so far. She said she only has a few pain patients and she explained their disease state. I asked what she would potentially do if they said they were not controlled with their current dosing. she said she would run an ores. I said don't you already run an ores- she said no but she is supposed to check after 7 days accorid to uh. And then she said if they appear to be ok via ores she will give them something. I said what would you give them? she really didn't know she said as a resident they aren't trained on treating pain. I went back to the indication and a few limiations of use like not for acute pain. Also reviewed the primary care insight. After review the doctor was open to butrans or hysingla givin they were appropriate and not acute for it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44195	5/29/2015	Reviewed trial offer along with stocking of Hysingla ER. OxyContin utilization and savings cards. Said ok will order accordingly

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/29/2015	Reviewed butrans managed care via medical mutal and caresource coverage. I asked her what she needed to know from me regarding butrans. Rotation of the patch location was mentioned. I highlighted this informaiton and used the visual aid as reference. I asked her if she felt hesitant for any reason offering butrans and she said no. I said how about offering hysingla. She had nothing to say. She couldn't remember what hysingla is and how its dosed so I reviewed those attributes and reviewed the trial card.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	5/29/2015	Spoke with the pharmacist Galiana about hysingla attributes and conversions. Discussed the new trial offer. She said that her system may not allow her to run the trial as a secondary claim but should b able to run as primary. She said she will try it and let me know. Galiana said that it makes sense and thinks it's a great offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44107	5/29/2015	Tried to learn about their process for implementing trial cards. They said they do it all the time. I gave them the hysingla conversation and highlighted a few attributes. I asked them to stock but they said no. They didn't see any scripts come thru his week for hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	5/29/2015	Quick introduction of hysingla and discussed attributes, dosing and conversions. Dr said it wouldns like a great medicine but said he probably won't use it because Unity wants them to refer pain patients after 90 days. I told him I understand and asked if Butrans is more of a viable option for him and reminded him it's a schedule 3? Dr said it would be for sure.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	5/29/2015	Reviewed hysingla and attributes. I asked what his thoughts were regarding the once a day and they said it was good. I asked if he thought doctors would write it and he said it depends on managed care. I reviewed the trial card. I asked how it works with their store pricessing the cards since it was a trial and not a voucher. he said they do it all the time.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/29/2015	discussed butrans, which she said she was familiar with. I asked about her nursing home experine with butrans. She said she hasn't used it there yet. I asked if there was any specific reason. she said no. we overed the elderly profile of butrans and a few attributes of the product like no dose adjustment for renal or elderly. she asked about steady state, which I addressed. We covered the conversion from tramadol to butrans and managed care. Highlighted Hysingla. Dosing and attrubies. She said it seems easy. Talked trial card and managed care.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	5/29/2015	Dawn teased me about not having to come in as everything with butrans is going well-told her I needed to be there to answer any questions about butrans and/or its coverage-she said caresource patients are going through smooth
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/29/2015	Reviewed abuse detr properties of hysingla and oxycotin. Gave fair balance of abuse potential of all opioids. Talked about who might be a potential candidate for an extended release product/opioid. the residents mentioned a few different options. Most of them talked about when they need an extended release. I asked when is this? They didn't know. I said when is it not acute in your opinion. I got several different answers. I highlighted the limitation of use for acute pain patients- gave them a fpi and read the indication. Reviewed tramadol insight....I asked what they thought about this time length. They said seemed normal. I asked if this is something he thought he would do? They were unsure. covered attributies of hysingla and butrans and oxycotin. Reviewed conversion guide and trial offer of hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	5/29/2015	Spoke about what was going on at his office and that it was getting harder to see him. Dr shared with me how far behind he is with getting precerts approved for his federal insured patietns per the may 1st change. He said he is down from 24 a day to 8 a day injections and that is how he is paid. Which is why he hasn't written hysingla. The doctor said he just can't afford to put the office this far behind by choosing new products that will have pa's and get him even further behind. I asked how this affected his commercial [atietns and he said right now it didn't. I covered the trial of hysingla and getting experices with the product for just one patient to start with commercial insurance. Dr said he does like Butrans. He said he wrote 3 scripts today in the hospital. I reviewed caresource with him and the pa involved. Dr said he liked burans and it seems to be getting thru for patients so he will continue to write it with no hesitations. by close of our discussion the doctor told me he is so frustrated in general with the wait to get things approved that he is hesitent to write a new product but he will try and Elaine apologized but too busy to talk however Butrans still her number one pain med! I thanked her and asked for her continued support.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/1/2015	Short introduction to hysingla. Gave dr the attributes, dosing and conversions. Dr said he is dealing mostly with the medicare and medicad population. I told him hysingla is currently covered for private insured patients. Discussed his plans and told him about the trial offer. Dr looked over the initiation and titration guide and he likes it. I asked if he'll write and said he's going to look over everything first. I told him I'm going to follow up soon. I told him if he sees lots of CareSource patients and he said a lot along with Buckeye. I told him he needs to write Butrans for his Caresource patients who meet the indication and have pain around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Olmsted Falls	OH	44138	6/1/2015	Reviewed Hysingla trial card and provided grid approved materials. Talked about the trial and asked questions on there operating systems. They said they wouldn't have any problems running it thru. I asked if they had any patients currently and they said no. reviewed attributes and conversion of hysingla and during the conversation touched on abuse deter properties of oxycontin too. Touched on schedule three for butrans and aske dhow they addressed mail away for schedule three opioids. They said not too many do mail aways. I asked if they still could, they were uncertain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/1/2015	Lunch-introduction to new dr from Michigan-went over patients on tramadol/low dose opioids when not being controlled with pain-asked him at that point would he consider prescribing butrans here-dr said it does make sense since he doesn't like to go over 1-2 tabs of immediate release opioids-went over coverage and dr said he has no problem in prescribing butrans-asked for just I patient-dr said ok; OxyContin-doesn't prescribe spoke to Sue and Kelly (office manager) and talked about cover my meds, which I previously set them up on. sue said she doesn't like to use it and finds it confusing. I offered to set up an inservie but she said no. We talked about my conversation with dr. kabarra and how far behind they are on procedure precerts. They both talked a while on their struggles to get approvals. I asked about if they have any issues with butrans or oxyconton approvals and talked about caresource and the pa needed for this plan. She didn't seem to remember the dr writing butrans for caresource. I talked about doing an inservice on hysingla witha trained speaker at the hospital at the conference room- asked to speak to the dr about coordinating a date that he would already be at the hospital as I suggested wednesdays or fridays at 4pm, which seems to be the time he heads over to the hospital. she said she was uncertain, but didn't let me talk to the doctor directly. I will see if maybe Barry will have some influence to draw interest with the doctor and or staff.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	6/2/2015	I asked dr how he is deciding between hysingla ER and Butrans. Dr said we've had that conversation and most of his Butrans patients are BWC. Dr said his hysingla patients relight now have to be commercial insurance. I asked him if he's got a cutoff for Norco for those products? Dr said he will ask the patient if they would rather have a patch or a pill. Dr said both could be good options. Reviewed the hysingla trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	6/2/2015	Doctor said he wrote butrans, but was not approved at pharmacy. He thought maybe patient was VA? I reviewed coverage and appropriate patient. He said he will try again. At this time he is referring more severe pain to someone else so appreciates Hysingla information, but will probably. Not write that anytime soon.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/2/2015	Deana (the main nurse for dr) and I were TALKING ABOUT THE trial offer for hysingla. She thought it sounded like a great idea as she and a few others do the pa's. Reviewed the appropriat patients for Hysingla and tried to capture how to go about getting the coupons and conversion guide set aside for when the patietns come for their apt. Deana said I would have to set up a time to come back and review this information as she didn't have time today. Dr walked thru the lunch room where we were at and we discussed identifying patients for Hysingla. Dr said that would be helpful. I recaped our plan to set aside conversion and trial cards and reviewed again the appropriate patient and the conversion. Dr said he would try. I reminded him that with out him offering it, nothing happens. I asked him if he was sure he was comfortable with Hysingla to offer it. Dr said yes and that he just needs to be reminded and this extra help will help. I told him that I would come back and check his progress and encourage him to keep trying.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	6/2/2015	Roman said that he knew Hysingla was too good to be true. He and Doctor Keppeler have found at least 8 patients they have written it for just for the patient to call them with headaches. As of now he is still willing to try but doesn't have the time to find out what insurance every patient has because some days they see 60-70 patients. Let him know again that at this time med d is not covering it, which is the patient he thinks most needs it. I asked him to make sure they know that. Reminded him that for now there are a few specific commercial plans to choose i for, talked with his ma to get her support and for her to call me with any problems or successes. He will write oxycontin in stead for these patient. Told him butrans is appropriate for the med d patient for which he said they are in warm climates and thinks the patch isn't ideal for their lifestyle.
	Parma	OH	44129	6/2/2015	Butrans- dr said just put patient on who has severe osteoarthritis right after Celebrex-agreed great place and asked for another patient like that and he said he will; OxyContin-dr said he is prescribing it after 3-4 Percocet tabs-likes keeping it with the same molecule
	Parma	OH	44129	6/2/2015	Myra said she really likes butrans in severe OA patients before going to Norco-she said her son is on it for multiple pain situations-thanked her for thinking of butrans for him and she said it was a joint decision; OxyContin-null point
	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/2/2015	Short discussion about continuing his oxycontin writing. Handed him the hysingla initiation and titration guide and asked him to find one patient for the q24 hydrocodone? Dr claimed he has written it and I told him he must be thinking of The other ER Hydrocodone.
	Independence	OH	44131	6/2/2015	Didn't have too much time with him, but enough to introduce him to Hysingla, initiation, titration, formulary, savings card. He doesn't write much for ER but is good to know options and hear about ADP. he was more interested in the option of a patch and the fact that it is schedule 3. He wanted to review the PI's and will call me or have his MA Howard call me with questions.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	6/2/2015	Reviewed hysingla ER trial offer to Sara the pharmacist. Explained how she would process the trial card to dispense 30 pills. Sara had no questions.

	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/3/2015	discussed the trial of Hysingla over lunch. Dr saidhe was not writing as much opioids any more. And I talked about what we discussed at our last vist which was that the dr is trying to stay under 80mg morephine equivalent and that he has a lot of caresource patients. I addressed hysingla with commercial insured and the dr had an interest in the 20 and I spoke with Jamie about the trial card for hysingla and the pa process for caresource w/ butrans. I asked the doctor to leave the hysingla coupons on his desk andhe said yes and actually had me place it there for him to review the conversion guide. I talked about the opportunity to attend a dinner program or a lunch and learn. Dr said maybe, if he has time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	LAKEWOOD	OH	44107	6/3/2015	spoke to the pharmacist about how they run trial cards and if they have seen anything like the hysingla trial offer. He couldn't remember any like it but seemed to think it would not be a problem. I gave him the grid and the trial information. Highlighted dosing and conversion, other attributes of the product. My goal today was trial offer and to make sure they know how to process it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	6/3/2015	i asked dr if she currently has patients taking Norco who are taking it around the clock? Dr said she has some. I asked her if a q24 hydrocodone with no Tylenol and abuse deterrence would be a product she would prescribe for a patient like that who is still in pain on Norco? Dr said she would. Discussed the trial offer and asked her if she could identify just one patient? Dr said she'll look and it wounds like a good product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	6/3/2015	Discussed hysingla and his experience writing it if any. i asked him if he changes medications solo or if being a ng he needs dr. Tabbaa to approve or suggest it? He said if the patient isn't controlled he will consult with the dr first before changing medications. I asked if that was the same for a scheuldle three like butrans? He said yes. Reviewed conversion and dosages mostly of hysingla. I asked if it made sense, he said yes. reviewed the trial offer and gave him the information with the grid.Talked about butrans and asked him if he typically treats patients under 80mg's morephine equivalent daily? and he said yes. I reviewed butrans intation guide and also coverage like caresource and med d plans. I asked if he found butrans to be easy or hard? He thought pretty easy. I reminded him of a few attributes like schedule three and managed care coverage. I asked him if i could host a speaker program during a specific time for his group to understand hysingla a little more on a deeper level- he said he was unsure and would need to ask dr tabbaa and the others. I gave him my card and marketing materials.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44114	6/3/2015	Butrans-dr said even though Jon is gone he still likes butrans and will continue to prescribe it; OxyContin-reminded dr about looking for patients in his practice not in the ER-dr said he does feel better about prescribing it since we went over abuse deterrent properties i did remind him that abuse can happen it's the re formulation that makes it more difficult to chew or crush

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	6/5/2015	Dr told me a story about. Patient of his who he wants to prescribe Butrans for. Dr said the patient has a long history of opioid use and abuse and has been in and out of pain management. Dr said he wants to write Butrans because he thinks a week long patch would be a good fit after he tapers the patient down of his current opioids for his chronic thoracic pain from an auto accident. Dr asked me what starting dose he should start with and I told him 10mcg seems like a good place to start and then he can titrate from there every 3 days if necessary. Dr said he patient has UHC Community plan and dr told patient to ask his insurance. I told dr there will be a PA and it might go through based on his opioid history. Reviewed hysingla ER attributes, dosing, conversions and then discussed the trial offer. Dr said it sounds like a good deal and will look for some patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mogadore	OH	44260	6/5/2015	Quick second with dr at front counter and his MA Molly. Reviewed hysingla ER attributes and then explained the trial offer. I asked him if it will help him out? Dr said it only delays the PA and wishes he didn't have to process so many. I told him that the patient at least gets the medicine right away and it could potentially not have to write 2-3 weeks of an IR opioid until the PA gets processed. Dr said the urgency is gone but the PA still needs to be done. I told dr it depends on the plan and if he believes he has use for it in his practice. Dr said he'll start looking.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/5/2015	Review trial card- they were too busy to get into a big discussion. I covered the basics and highlighted the attributes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	6/5/2015	highlighted the trial offer for hysingla, tried to apply sense of urgency with the deadline. Highlighted conversion and commercial patients- gave grid. Will return next week
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/5/2015	Lunch-introduction to dr and staff-dr said OxyContin is his go to ER opioid when patients are approaching 3-4 tabs of Percocet-agreed perfect choice-dr said he does like the fact that OxyContin has abuse deterring properties-I let him know patients can still abuse it but it is more difficult to chew and crush-went over coverage and dr agreed very solid coverage; butrans-dr said doesn't think of it as much-went over 5 strengths and conversion slide guide focusing on tramadol patients approaching 200mg and needing to switch to ER opioid-dr asked about coverage and I gave him formulary grid-told him to focus on caresource which is a huge plan around Cleveland-asked for 1 patient and dr said he would prescribe it
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Heights	OH	44124	6/5/2015	Met with prior auth coordinator and nurse Mary regarding Hysingla ER free 30 day trial offer - has it been helpful. they both stated Dr Laham, who utilizes product, has been "in and OUT" and they don't recall any cards coming through recently. Also, this is Denise's first day back in office after being out. Reviewed Hysingla ER updated formulary grids with Denise to show which plans do NOT require a prior auth or step edit. Reviewed free trial offer again; asked Denise to call me should any issues arise. Left physician webinar invite for all hcp's in office including Josie. Left/discussed PBM, know your Tiers brochure with prior auth coordinator Denise. Asked to see Josie or PA Frank - Denise went back to ask them- they both were too busy to talk w Barry and I.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/5/2015	Spoke to both pharmacy techs Megan and Rickey. Discussed hysingla and introduced it to them for the first time. Reviewed hysingla attributes, dosing and conversions and then the trial offer review. Both techs said that it sounds like a great product, especially the abuse deterrent traits. Megan said she will relay the information to Sara.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/9/2015	Good talk in WRH about hysingla and Butrans. Reviewed the hysingla trial offer and told him it will work for commercially insured patients except UHC commercial. Told dr to please ramp up his prescribing as he needs to focus on Caremark, Medco, ESI, Cigna and SummaCare. Dr said that will help him in choosing the right patient. Dr said he's really loving Butrans as he just titrated a patient today from 5 to 10mcg and had a new start from Morphine and Norco. Dr said he's starting on 10mcg then slowly taper of the other medicines.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/9/2015	First time in office for lunch. Appointment with all three HCPs and discussed all product Butrans, hysingla and oxycontin indication, dosing, conversions and attributes for each. Reviewed Butrans dosing, conversions, profiles, application sites, and discussed using for around the clock pain. Discussed hysingla in depth and discussed using for indication as well. Discussed up trial card and copy card process for all products. Reviewed oxycontin attributes and when and where to use and reviewed reformulation in 2010 and abuse deterrent properties from MVA. Dr said he believes in Butrans and has had some good success and will look to find patients that fit hysingla because he believes it's a great product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/9/2015	First time in office for lunch. Appointment with all three HCPs and discussed all product Butrans, hysingla and oxycontin indication, dosing, conversions and attributes for each. Discussed up trial card and copy card process for all products. Reviewed oxycontin attributes and when and where to use and reviewed reformulation in 2010 and abuse deterrent properties from MVA. Dr asked me about seeing Butrans on a UDS. I told dr that doing for Butrans is low and that the values for detecting Butrans need to be lowered. I asked him to inquire with his lab service as to what that needs to be. Dr said he has tried to weed out many of his chronic pain patients however does have many where he sees Butrans working for. He inquired about cost so we discussed medicare and commercial insurance as he does not accept medicaid or BWC.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/9/2015	Reinforced Hysingla ER limited time trial card offer for those commercially insured patients, along with Butrans for those patients requiring around the clock analgesia said ok he will continue prescribe and recommend clinicians initiate PA's

PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/10/2015	Quick call with Paul, nothing new learned. Met with RN Carla Van Pelt. Discussed updated 30 day free offer for Hysingla ER, expiring Aug. 15. Discussed how trial should work, that they need to get savings card in hand of patient and it's critical for patient to activate card PRIOR to picking up rx at pharmacy. Left formulary grids, explaining that the plans on grid do NOT require a step edit or prior auth for Hysingla ER.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2015	While I was talking with the nurse practitioner Aubrey about butrans- Dr came up to say hello and i invited him to the hysingla webx at our next lunch and asked what he thought. Dr said that would be ok. I handed him some of the company approved materials, which the nurse pract found more exciting than the doctor. I highlighted my visit today was to find an appropriate patient for hysingla. norco patient- commercially insured. I asked him to offer hysingla instead of adding another norco to their atc schedule. Dr said ok. I highlighted the trial offer with the doctor and the np. Getting the np out today was a great way to see the doctor.
PPLPMDL0020000001

	Westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2015	spent some time going over abuse det properties of the Purdue line. I asked the NP if she has appropriate patient to please consider Hysingla and Oxycontin instead of adding another short acting/immediate release opioid to their atc schedule. if they are appropriate. I asked who they felt was a typical appropriate patient. she said anyone treated for more than 3 months with long term pain. I highlighted atc to make sure she knew this information. I used the Jane profile and the core visual aid to help reinforce some points. Like for Hysingla the commercially insured patient- spend time with the trial offer. And for Butrans the current tramadol patient who is not being treated successfully and is left in pain needing you to treat them differently. She said she likes Butrans cause its schedule three. We talked about the vast managed care coverage and we talked about pa's. She said sometimes she does the pa's but most of the time it's the nurses. I asked how often do they get rejections on Butrans, or Oxycontin and she said non that she can recall. I asked does she write it...she said not really but sometimes. I asked her about her pain patients and what kinds of medications do you treat them with. She talked about not opioid therapy and use of tramadol or 20mg of Norco total daily dose. I geared my presentation to this audience. she said she would try and remember our products and allowed me to set the coupons on her desk for the next few months.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2015	Talked about Hysingla with the attributes. I asked for her to consider offering this to an appropriate patient instead of adding another immediate release to their atc schedule and I asked if this is reasonable and she said yes. I talked about the trial offer, I asked if this makes sense or needs to be covered again. She said no. I played it up a bit more with the deadline trying to create urgency. I asked the last person she treated for pain, can she remember? She said yes. I asked about this person and she said it was tramadol and she stated the condition. I said it's scheduled, she said yes. I said do you check orders. she said yes. I asked what if this patient was uncontrolled what would you do next? she said consult with Dr. Wolff and then move forward. I said what would you recommend based on your patient. she said low doses of Norco, I said why? She said it's cheap. I talked about the appropriate patient and conversion to Butrans. I said why would this be a bad option for the patient. She said managed care. I said what about managed care? She said price. I said- do you usually hand out coupons. she said yes if they are close by. I showed her the area where the coupons are...and reviewed the trial offer of Hysingla and went over Butrans. She seemed to like Butrans that it was schedule three and was unsure how to convert the Norco patient. I reviewed. At the end I recapped and closed.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/10/2015	Dr Vucetic said that he had two patients last week that he had to discontinue Butrans for. Dr said he's seeing a pattern of patients who have been on Butrans for a number of months who all of a sudden develop a rash at the application site. Dr said that it must be a production issue. I told Dr to bring it up to our management and he may have an opportunity next week. Discussed his continued success with Butrans efficacy he's seeing clinically. Reviewed Hysingla trial offer and asked for his continued and expanded business for patients on Norco who have pain around the clock and have commercial insurance. Reviewed plans that provide the least resistance.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/10/2015	Met with tech & float pharmacist Jim K. PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/10/2015	Elise told me that she had an elderly man that had been on Butrans and liked it very much because it provided him so much pain relief however after 6 months or so of being on it began getting a rash at all application sites. Elise said she had to discontinue Butrans and place patient on Fentanyl which doesn't work as well. I told her I will report this issue as I know she and Dr Vucetic have had multiple patient over the last year that have had this issue. I focused her back to the success she is having with efficacy and how many patients do tolerate it well. Reminded her of insurance coverage and then transitioned to Hysingla discussing which insurance plans provide the least resistance. I reviewed the trial offer again and told her to write. Elise said it will help because she wants to write it more but has been having a hard time getting it approved. Spoke to Caci and told her about insurance coverage and the trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/10/2015	Met with newest staff pharmacist Ashley. Discussed Hysingla ER as single entity, extended release Hydrocodone, no acetaminophen, abuse deterrent properties similar to OxyContin. Discussed/ left print out that shows how to successfully run Hysingla ER free trial offer as secondary insurance. PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	6/10/2015	Laura has not written Hysingla yet. She said she hasn't found the right patient yet. I'm asked her what the patient type is that she is looking for? She said that the person is a Norco patient who isn't used to taking more than 3 pills per day. Once they are used to 4-5 pills she doesn't think they would agree to one pill per day. There are some patients on 5 Norco And tramadol which doesn't make sense to her. She might consider one of those patients and just offer 1-2 for breakthrough pain. She said that the plans that Hysingla is covered in, at this time, are not their most common plans. She is keeping Hysingla in mind and believes she will fish the right patient soon. She just found the "perfect" butrans patient, who is pleased with it when little else worked for her and came with side effects. She is having better results with butrans now than she has in the past.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	6/10/2015	discussed where we left off last time. Dr did not offer Hysingla. Dr said he forgot. I asked the doctor to place the coupons and the trial offer on his desk for the next few months thru the offer and try to remember to offer this to appropriate patients and he agreed. We talked about attributes and conversion. I asked Dr what are the signs that someone is ready for a different delivery system, the Dr had much to say. The Dr said he was unclear after all these years of treating pain when that is. I couldn't not give him direction but I did offer the limitations of use which is not acute and not pm. I asked when is it not acute. Dr said he doesn't know for pain...he said a few weeks or is it sever months. I let him ready the indication. I highlighted the butrans naive trial and that it looked at patients who were 3 months established in pain. The doctor said he might have a few patients that meet this criteria. I said im here asking that those uncontrolled pain patients have the option of Hysingla instead of adding another immediate release product to their schedule. Dr said that makes sense. I pushed the trial and the date ending the trial for urgency. The NP seemed to agree more than the doctor and the NP Sherry asked a lot of questions. We reviewed Butrans- The doctor said he likes it because its schedule three and he can do refills. I talked about the mail about patients and would that be an option for them? He said definitely yes. Dr agreed to write for appropriate p

PPLPMDL0020000001	Highland Heights	OH	44143	6/11/2015	Lunch. Sat down with prior auth coordinator Marianne. Tried to save a Hysingla 14-day script Dr. Salama wrote, while Marianne on vacation, for Medical Mutual - communicated step edit information, and Dr. and Marianne agreed to stay away from Medical mutual. Dr. Salama also stated, he does not feel comfortable writing 30 days for Hysingla ER, in case it doesn't work for patient (s) and patient will have surplus of medication. I communicated, for future prescriptions, he CAN write 14 days and patients can still get the 14 days free. Presented Marianne with 2 pages of formulary plans that do NOT require prior auth or step edit for Hysingla ER. Dr. Salama says he would like to write for Ohio Worker's Comp; or Med D or Medicaid; but product not covered. I asked he not give up on Hysingla and I'm confident he will have better luck with plans other than Medical Mutual. Reinforced Butrans for BWC and OxyContin after oxycodone. I contacted Walmart, Medina, OH where patient initially went to get script (without savings card) spoke with pharmacist Rich and communicated our Cleveland West rep would stop in within next few days to go over steps for Hysingla ER 30 days free offer.

I did check and it was an orderable item. I went thru the one I had in my bag today. And with Brian came we discussed did he want to put these with the Butrans or hysingla coupons and he thought that was a great idea. We talked about abuse deter properties of Purdue products. I asked him no matter if he treats one appropriate patient or 100- please consider Hysingla for those appropriate patients instead of adding another immediate release to their atc schedule. Brian agreed. and I asked him to keep it top of mind for the next few months while the trial was going on. I said is that reasonable and he said yes.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44319	6/12/2015	Quick hello at window and reviewed the hysingla initiation and titration guide with dosing and conversions. I asked dr if he would look at his current Norco patients as candidates as long as they are in daily around the clock pain? Dr asked about coverage. I asked him if he was sold on the efficacy and safety first and dr said yes. Reviewed the trial program and then asked him for new Butrans starts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	6/12/2015	Doctor showed me time magazine article. He believes there is a place for ER meds but that too many patients are used to IR managing their pain. He will keep Hysingla in mind for patients but doesn't anticipate writing for much of it primarily because of the insurance coverage. He has a few patients on oxycontin, but because of the extra scrutiny is trying to find alternative treatments. We revisited butrans again where I discussed butrans as patients first opioid. He thought it is a perfect option for that patient but said coverage is bad. I'm let him know that coverage for butrans has significantly improved, showed him formulary grid and discussed the med d patient. He will try it more often. He was happy to see this information.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	6/15/2015	Reviewed formulary coverage for butrans and why he should consider it as patients first opiod instead of Percocet, Norco or even tramadol. Let him know that coverage is no longer the issue with butrans because Hysingla is our new med that has limited coverage. He smiled. So as much as I want him to get experience with Hysingla, he is going to push back in coverage...but to let me know when he finds a pa tient that is appropriate for once daily Hydrocodone with ADP? He smiled again
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/15/2015	Talked the ma about hysingla and the trial offer. they were to busy to get into the fine details. I asked to see Dr. Duncan but everyone was in a room.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/15/2015	Reviewed previous conversation and brought it into todays discussion. Dr said he still is referring patients out that he doesn't want to treat on pain medications and yet is still treating atc pain. Dr agreed that caresource is a big plan for his office so we talked about Butrans coverage in this area. dr said he has not written for this insurance group but by the end of the conversation i was asking him to offer appropriate tramadol patients the atc butrans option. We talked about schedule 3 but he still will see them back monthly. We talked about dosing and conversion from tramadol to Butrans. We talked about abuse deter properties of Oxycontin which lead me to hysingla. After revieing attributes the doctor said is sounded great. I said does it sound like you would offer this to a patinet. he said yes. I asked who was coming in this week he could try it on? And the dr. started to stumple. We reviewed what dosages were avaiable and he was most interested in the under 80 mg equivalent dosages. I touched on steady state and every 24 hour dosing. I asked about when his patients come back what do they typically say when you give them a dose increase or change of meds. The doctor talked a while about this topic and those that he doesn't treat and won't continue their opiods. I asked if he asks them if they wished it lasted longer? He said no its not usually what he says. We talked about what a great sawgway to hysingla or tramadol to Butrans if they were appropriate.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	6/15/2015	I told Monique that she needs to be looking for those tramadol and Norco patients who are in pain around the clock and use Butrans for those patients. Monique said she hates writing IR opiods and it's becoming a problem. I told her the possible solution is Butrans. I reminded her again the Caresource criteria. Monique said she forgot about that and has tons of them wanting more pills. Monique told her MA Kathy to remember Butrans for CareSource and she's going to write more of it. I told her about the trial offer and copy card for commercial patients and told her I would follow up in the next few days.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/15/2015	Spoke with dr about taking a few minutes to speak with a home office marketing director for Butrans. I told dr that he has an opportunity to make any suggestions about product improvement and clinical experience. Dr said that he is just too busy on Tuesday to take the time and told me to speak with him for me? I told dr he's missing an opportunity and to reconsider. Dr said he might be able to do it before lunch tomorrow.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Berea	OH	44017	6/16/2015	Myra likes the idea of Hysingla and discussed it with a patient earlier today. What is limiting her use right now is the cost and limited coverage. Spent time reviewing the savings program and formulary. She promised to find one patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	6/16/2015	introduced hysingla and the attributes. Dr wasn't sure he would use a product because its hasn't been out long enough. Highlighted attributes and covered abuse deter properties. Dr asked me if it lasts a full 24hours and i stated that the hydrocododone was delivered over the 24hours and showed plasma level visual aids. But i told him i didn't know more than this...i asked if he would try it and see what his patient think. He said he was going to wait to hear more reviews of the product.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/16/2015	Doc said there is much confusion about opioids right now. They don't want them writing, there are limited pain management docs. I reviewed the patient type appropriate for ER opioids using portfolio piece and initiation guides. Reviewed newest option of Hysingla and who that patient might be. He thinks it's a good option but he proly doesn't have too many patients that would be appropriate. He looked into butrans after my last visit and he heard that a pain management doctor told him about QTC prolongation....we reviewed that was seen with higher doses of butrans, thus the max dose of 20mcg. reviewed butrans as patients first opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	6/17/2015	OxyContin-dr said getting patients switched sooner is key to getting them off Percocet-agreed and asked where is optimal switch time-dr said 3 and I said perfect! Asked for her continued prescribing of patients already in her practice; butrans-dr said she's looking for caresource patients and coverage is going through smooth

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/22/2015	Discussed hysingla and the uncontrolled norco patients. Reviewed conversion. Reviewed trial offer with office manager.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/22/2015	Linked Butran to Caresource- and talked about starting dosages. I left him information on hysingla. Dr said what about caresource and I told him the managed care status for the commercial patients with hysingla. Went back to butrans and made sure he remembered the coverage and worked with the staff to thank them for their hard work getting the pa's approved and I told him I would be back later in the week to see another butrans script get written for a uncontrolled tramadol or caresource patient. he said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	6/22/2015	Spoke with Kyle the pharmacist who is also at the Cedar Locust who I have already discussed the trial offer for hysingla with. Provided cards and he told me that he dispensed hysingla 30mg to a patient of dr Ali's last week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/22/2015	Spoke to the pharmacist and the tech about the hysingla trial offer today. REviewed the last few sections of the flow chart and they said they understood what need to be done. I asked if they have don'e one yet and they said no. We talked about attributes of hysingla. Also touched on oxycotin and butrans dosing and gave fair balance of potential abuse with all opioids include purdue products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/22/2015	Dr said he has not found someone yet, I tried to encourage him. Highlighted the norco patient uncontrolled and talked about instead of adding another immediate release to their atc schedule to instead offer hysingla once a day. I reminded him of the dosing, last few times he kept forgetting what the doses are so I used that to help us this visit. I did highlight butrans schedule three and caresource today.
PPLPMDL0020000001	LAKEWOOD	OH	44107	6/22/2015	Trial offer review and asked if they saw one go thru yet and they said no. He didn't want the flow chart on the shelf with the product but he said he would leave it for the techs tomorrow to review. We talk attributes and dosing. Also covered butrans and the coverage with caresouce and workers comp. Highlighted a few limitations of use like not prn and they seemed to understand this and gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including purdue products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/22/2015	Got to speak to Dr for a good amount of time today as he was between patients. Talked about hysingla and the basic attributes...dr asked what are the doses, which I reviewed. I asked what is a typical atc daily dose of norco does he write. Dr said he usually writes 5 or 10mg and he said the daily dose ranged from 15 to 30. I pointed out the lowest three doses of hysingla and reviewed twice the conversion. I asked if this seemed complicated and he said no. I asked if he was interested in offering for patients. He said maybe. I said understood. I told him how dr. elgar is putting them in patient rooms. I gave him my card and a coupon and I encouraged the saME AND highlighted the trial dead line. Dr said so its free for the first month. We talked about the trail and how it works and I checked in a few times and said how does this sound? He said good. I left him a few marketing materials and encouraged him to offer it if it makes sense and a good choice. Also worked in oxycotina nd butrans. Butrans was more about schedule three and caresource patients. And oxycotin was to get a sense how he saw this product working for his patietns that are on percocet.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/22/2015	Started off discussion with dr about his thoughts on hysingla ER and gave quick overview of its attributes and doses. Dr said that he thinks it's a good product because it's once and day and abuse deterrent. I asked dr if he would write it for a patient with commercial insurance and is on a product like Norco around the clock and in pain? Dr said he would if it's covered. I reviewed the trial off in depth and if it helps? Dr said that will help and will try to find a patient. Reviewed Butrans and oxycotin attributes, dosing and patient types with conversions. Dr said he likes all my products and I asked him to put a hysingla trial card in his lab coat.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44102	6/23/2015	Reviewed portfolio, Hysingla ER trial card, formulary opportunities, alot meicaid will stock and order accordingly

PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/23/2015	Dr told me he offered the product several times and the pharmacy tried to push the generics. The doctor told me one of the patients was on medical mutal and required a pa and explained it was confusing to him and the staff. Dr told me Hysingla was not covered and its a hassle to write. I tried to be understanding, thanked him for offering to his patients. I handed him the managed care grid, which he said has on his wall already. I pointed out that medical mutual and med d plans are not on this list. Dr said he has mostly these patients. We talked about the commercial insured patient and he mentioned a few of the plans he reconized. I told him these are the plans that for the most part don't require a pa that i'm aware of...i went into the trial offer. I talked about butrans, dr said he likes butrans. I talked about it being schedule three with refills and a faxable option. Which means if by accident you wrote hysingla for a plan that is not covered perhaps a butrans script if appropriate could be faxed over to the patient. Dr said the pharmacists want to push generic. I said what if you tell the patient you are going to try and see if it goes thru because its new and if not you have a back up plan for them. He said that was lot to think about. We talked about the pharmacist has a back up plan to every patient that doesn't have the coverage we talked about generics. Dr said he might try it again but he's not sure if he has the patients that will be a fit.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	6/23/2015	Reviewed portfolio, discussed formulary opportunities, Med Mut., Trial card offer, said ok will consider but has 1-2 patients w/Commercial. Likes Once daily dosing but only sees Med D and WOrkers CoMP.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/23/2015	Quick hysingla discussion with pharmacist Tom who is a float. Reviewed product attributes and Tom said he dispensed it two days ago for Dr Ali. I reviewed the trial card offer and asked him if the patient he dissed it to got the trial offer? Tom said the patient did and is impressed with the program. Provided him with a couple of copy cards and flow charts. Tom said he will relay the trial offer to the other pharmacists at that location.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/23/2015	The doctor came in while dr. blitz and i were talking about hysingla. I asked dr. s what her confort level was with Oxycontin. she said she will write it but she doesn't have many chronic pain patients. I asked when she writes it what the patients are usually being switched from? She mentioned percocet. We got to talking about the molecule of oxycodone and the transition to a longer deliver system like Oxycontin. I jumped into hysingla and the similarities in this regard...from the hydrocodone patient to hysingla yet once a day and reviewed the attributes. Dr said it made sense if you can get ppl to take a once a day pain medication. I asked if there should be extended release opioids in general or should they all be immediate release? she said no that extended release has a role with pain. I said then why so hesitant to turn to an extended release product if you see the value in it for the right patient. She said habit. she asked managed care. I covered the trial offer. Also talked about butrans and the s cheduling and attributes. highlighted caresource and med for butrans alot

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	6/23/2015	I told dr that we discussed last time that he currently has patients that are taking Norco around the clock and are still in pain? Dr said he does. I told dr that I expect some of those also have private insurance and dr said he does have some and wants to try to convert his patients to ER opioids. I reviewed the product attributes and discussed conversions. I reviewed the trial offer and asked him to use it. Dr said he will try it because the patient has nothing to lose because they can get 30 days for free. Dr said he will write. reminded him where and when to use Butrans.

She did state she did not treat much chronic pain patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	6/23/2015	Reviewed trial offer and attributes of trial for hysingla. talked about abuse potential for all opioids include purdue products

PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	6/23/2015	She knows she seems the right patient type for Hysingla, she is still trying to determine how best to prescribe Hysingla for patients on multiple meds. She admitted she usually isn't fast to adopt new products. She understands savings card opportunity and will find one patient for Barry. Butrans is still her favorite med.

PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	6/24/2015	Super fast....Told her if patient needs more pain relief than their NSAID or cox 2, before going to Norco or Percocet, consider butrans for that patient. It is the only c3 ER opioid on the market. She can even refer them to pAin management on butrans. She said thank you.
PLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	6/24/2015	Lunch appointment. Dr said he just wrote Butrans for a patient of his in the nursing home but there is a PA for it. Dr said the patient has a newer Anthem BC/BS medicare plan and the patient is naive to opioids but has some serious spinal issues. I looked up the plan and told him the patient won't be covered especially being opioid naive. Reviewed hysingla ER attributes, patient types and asked him to find that one private insured patient already on hydrocodone and in pain and to give them the trial offer and explained. Dr said he also has a 84 yr old patient on hydrocodone and thinks oxycontin would be the best option for an ER product. Discussed conversions and appropriate starting dose as a q12 option.
PLPMDL0020000001	CLEVELAND	OH	44195	6/24/2015	Reviewed Hysingla trial card along with OxyContin said ok will continue to support and recommend for appropriate patients that have coverage

PLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/24/2015	Talked about hysingla and the trial offer today. Today i suggested not just to identify hydrocodone immediate release but also oxycodone and reviewed the conversion just to give him more options to try hysingla. Dr doesn't write much oxycontin so i thought this might be another option for the doctor. Gave several coupons and managed card grids.

PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/24/2015	Followed up with dr about contacting medical services about their Butrans patients with rash and itching. Dr said he hasn't called yet and I told him to please do it. I told dr that I provided information to the company about it. Dr told me he's still gonna write Butrans despite their recent issues. Dr told me he wrote another hysingla this week and said the trial card is working great. I reminded him that the offer ends August 15th and the time to write is now. I also told dr to continue using Butrans in appropriate Caresource and BWC patients.
PLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/24/2015	While i was reviewing the trial offer of hysingla with the ma/front office person today i saw dr. yonan at the chair...i asked if i could tell him about the trial. Review of the trial, gave card asked for them to immediate call me if there is a complication with getting commercial patients their hysingla.d Gave managed care grid, the plans that didn't have pa's according to finger tip. highlighted butrans with caresource coverage.
PLPMDL0020000001	Strongsville	OH	44136	6/24/2015	Had a lot of time to discuss treatment of pain in his practice. He finds that he doesn't want to give a patient more than 3 pills of whatever med they are on, he will titrate dose, but leave at 3 times per day and sometimes they are in multiple meds. Reviewed portfolio piece and discussed specific patient type for each med. He thinks that based on our discussion he will write for ER meds instead of titrating dose or adding another med on board. He felt he had patients that he could think of off the top of his head whose treatment regimen he will reconsider to one ER med like Hysingla and if that isn't covered he will try oxycontin for some and only one or two breakthrough meds. He liked this way of treating the pain that is long term and around the clock. He likes the idea of butrans as patients first opioid and especially likes that it is schedule 3. He put two savings cards for Hysingla in his lab coat and will find appropriate patients.
PLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/24/2015	Thanked him for his offer of hysingla. Dr knodded his head. I have him my card and a trial offer and asked him to call me given any problems for the next patient he offers hysingla to this week. Mentioned about the trial deadfending and some of the details of the program. Talked with Jeanette a while...gave her a muffin and thanked her for all her help. I asked how her job has changed, she said the office isn't as busy, i asked why she said they can't get insurance to pay for procedures any more. I asked what is the worst plan giving her problems and she said caresource. She said almost every patient has caresource and they can't schedule procedures until over 30 days because that's how long its taking to get things approved.
PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	6/24/2015	They were very busy. Happened to see him through window and gave him updated Hysingla formulary sheets and additional savings flyers so he knows where to choose Hysingla with best outcome. He appreciated
PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	6/24/2015	Lunch-OxyContin-dr said it has its place in practice-asked where and dr said transitioning from Percocet usually at 4 tabs-still concerned about street image-went over abuse deterrent study and properties and dr said that's great he said it's not his go to for new patients-redirected to patients in his practice he trusts-let dr know patients can still abuse it but by including abuse deterrent properties it's more difficult to crush and chew-dr agreed to focus on Percocet patients in his practice and challenged him to transition earlier at 3 tabs-dr agreed to; butrans-dr said it is his go to medicine for patients in mild to moderate pain usually after lose dose Norco-discussed Scott profile and talked about his ultra patients nearing maximum dosing-dr agreed great place to transition-went over caresource coverage with dr and Marianne who does PAs-will look for patients failing tramadol
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	6/25/2015	Talked about hysingla and the attributes. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including purdue products. Highlighted managed care and trial offer. I asked the dr what are his thoughts on the coverage we have, as i handed him the grid. I asked if it was something he can work with w/ his current atc pain patients? Dr said he had a few of the plans. We talked about butrans and signing up so the office could print off the trial offer for their patients. he told me to talk to marlyn about it. I asked who was he thinking about when butrans comes to mind. What are they coming from? Dr said norco. I supported him, but asked what does he do when tramadol fails? Dr said noco. I asked if he would be open to offering butrna safer tramadol for the appropriate patient and he said yes.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/25/2015	Discussed Hysingla trial offer with Kyle the pharmacist and reviewed it with him. Kyle said it sounds like a great program and will place it on the shelf where they would put the product.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	6/25/2015	Asked him about the Norco patient that wishes his med would last longer....he said he hears it all the time. Asked if next time he hears it he thinks of Hysingla and they have Caremark or express scripts who do not have PA! That he writes it, gets patient a free month and gets experience with an ER med which is appropriate for patient the around the clock pain.? He said it is a good try but he knows what a hassle new products are to write. Reminded him that it is no longer the case with butrans....and reviewed formulary for butrans....

PLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/25/2015	Talked about converting someone from hydrocodone to hysingla today and using savings cards. The dr said most of his patients on atc opioids is on med d-i told him to save those patients for Butrans or Oxycontin for now if they need a longer acting deliver system. For now i showed him the managed care grid and said if its not on the list for now not to write for the plan not on this list. Dr said he would offer it if the managed care was not so hard. Talked about Butrans dr said that some of his med d patients said it was too expensive. We talked about the deductible patients have to meet and i asked if it was in the beginning of the year and he said it was. We talked about the over 65 patients and how many medications they usually have to pay for in a month. I highlighted the hysingla trial offer until august 15th and also talked about caresource for butrans. I ended by asking him to offer it to one of his appropriate patients like we just discussed with these plans. He allowed me to put the grid and the savings cards on his desk.

PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/25/2015	Spoke with Patrick in order to work out an order for hysingla 60 mg for a patient of Elise Leones. Patrick ordered the 60mg dose to arrive tomorrow morning. Patient came to present Rx and has Medco Rx insurance and had a PA when tried to run the trial card. Figured out that Purdue signed the patient up with the wrong program. Once that was figured out after i recommended them to call McKesson and they corrected the situation and the patient got the trial offer.
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/25/2015	Elise told me that she has a patient that she wants to start on hysingla 60mg and wants to know where the patient can get it. After some calling to pharmacies, Klein's can have it in tomorrow morning. Elise said she's sending the patient now to the pharmacy. Elise said its a Medco patient with good insurance and will use the trial card.
PLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44117	6/25/2015	Lunch. Was able to identify several plans where Dr. Nageeb can write Hysingla ER without a step edit or prior auth, and those include: Medco, Express Scripts, TriCare and CVS caremark. Discussed/left formulary grid, which he says is helpful. Reinforced trial, savings for all 3 products. Discussed OxyContin after oxycodone. Dr. Nageeb says he likes efficacy and good coverage for OxyContin. Reinforced Butrans after Tramadol.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/25/2015	Quick hello in office while placing copy cards and asked him if he's had the opportunity to use hysingla? Dr said he wrote it a couple of times and it was too expensive for the patients. I told dr for now to stick with private insurance plans like Caremark, Medco, and Cigna. Dr said ok.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/25/2015	Dr said he needed more Butrans copy cards and the trial offers included. Dr said he wants to make sure all the new patients get the first month free and he doesn't want his patients to have to print the trial offer. I told him I'm leaving them for him today the trial offer is inside each copy card kit. I asked dr for continued Prescribing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	6/25/2015	Lunch. Looked in Paul's formulary data for ER opioids; he does not have ANY commercial plans that do NOT require a prior authorization or step edit for Hysingla ER. I communicated we will eventually be on Worker's Comp formulary and since he has a large amount of Worker's comp patients - I will update him as soon as that occurs. Discussed OxyContin after oxycodone and Butrans after Tramadol. Reinforced trial, savings for all 3 products. Left formulary grid Hysingla ER, titration guide. State of Ohio with prior auth may be an option for Hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/25/2015	Told dr I need to speak with her about the hysingla trial offer and if I could get a minute? Dr said she's doesn't now but to schedule a time with Lori. I told her I will and dr said she did have a patient that got hysingla and is happy. I told her I'm aware after speaking with Nay and how glad I am as well. Reminded dr to continue using Butrans where appropriate as the schedule 3,7 day patch.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	6/25/2015	Doctor said that Hysingla patients will be starting to increase. People don't just jump out of the gate and start writing new product. Managed care is limiting. The patients he has tried for Hysingla are doing well and they are refilling their prescriptions. He is clinically pleased with the results he is seeing with his patients. He feels that butrans is cyclical. He seems to go in waves with that product but knows there is a place for it in his practice.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	6/25/2015	Asked Laura if she knew what I stopped in to ask her....she knew exactly!!!! She said that she has not written for Hysingla yet. It takes a while to talk to patients. She is looking for the patient who isn't already taking 4,5,6 Norco plus other molecule per day. Those are the patient who don't want to change their meds. She is looking for a newer patient to try Hysingla for. Discussed a possible patient as one taking 4,5,6 or more and starting with a low dose of Hysingla with one or two pills for breakthrough. She said that is a possibility. I asked if I could check in with her next week and she believes that she would have one patient by then. She asked for two weeks....she has a couple patients on butrans that are unique and perfect for the med. It is on her radar more than it used to be but many patient aren't right for it
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2015	OxyContin-dr said doesn't prescribe many ER opioids-mentioned when get to 3-4 low dose opioids will he consider OxyContin dr said yes; Butrans- care source patients on ultram approaching 200mg-dr said will consider
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2015	Discussed the appropriate patient type for hysingla that is uncontrolled and is need of atc therapy per our indication and jane profile. Reviewed the once a day dosing and straight forward conversion from norco to hysingla. Dr asked about managed care and I highlighted the trial offer with the dr and with both the office manager and pa person. Reminded that Butrans is being covered by caresource and many med d plans. I asked the dr to offer it and he said he would
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/26/2015	Talked about dosing hysingla and conversing from norco for the appropriate patient. Reviewed managed care grid and asked if anything stood out. dr said he has no idea what his patients have. I told him that if they have commercial insurance they should get a savings card and that is a first step- next I gave him a managed care grid and said these plans esi, caremark and summa care do not have pa at this time and would be a good option for your appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	6/26/2015	Quick Butrans message as his first day back from Kenya. I told him that now is the time to pull the trigger with Butrans and use it in place of refilling Tramadol and Norco for patients in pain and taking it around the clock.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44312	6/26/2015	I asked dr how the formulary grid and trial cards for Hysingla are working? Dr said he's still getting denials. I asked him if he's sticking to the plans I gave him and using the free trial offer he shouldn't have any issues. Dr said he has written it for some medicaid and Medicare patients. I told him that's where his denials must have come from. I told dr to please focus on private insurance plans I gave him. Dr said ok and I told him. Those medicare and Medicaid plans can be covered on Butrans or oxycontin.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2015	Asked if he offered hysingla to anyone yet? He said no and that he really doesn't have a lot of chronic pain patients any more. We talked about what he can keep his eye out for regarding appropriate patients increase someone comes in this afternoon that might be appropriate. Dr asked about managed care- which was covered. I showed him the grid and asked what he thought about the coverage. Dr said it was ok.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44119	6/26/2015	Lunch. Discussed with Dr. Mehta and med assts, Hysingla ER product attributes, and went through Sonia profile with Dr. Mehta. Dr. Mehta says he will rarely use an extended release product. If patient has long term pain, he refers to pain management. He is willing to use in nursing home. Discussed commercial coverage and plans where he will have the most success with access and coverage for Hysingla ER. Reinforced OxyContin after oxycodone and Butrans after Tramadol. Reviewed how OxyContin and Butrans savings cards.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	6/26/2015	Spoke to the pa coordinator and she said he has not written any more butrans yet. When I saw the doctor, I highlighted that caresource patient appropriate for a longer deliver system like butrans. Also highlighted Hysingla for his commercial patients on esi.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/26/2015	I asked dr if he had the opportunity to start a patient in hysingla his week like he said he would. Dr said he had a patient that would be good for it but had was a medicare patient and knew they would either not be able to get it or be too expensive. I told him I understand and to please continue to focus on private insurance patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/26/2015	I asked how the week went and if he had a chance to offer hysingla and he said he did not. We talked about his office and the managed care status. The dr did mentioned he has appropriate patients that he hasn't found yet. I hit on the main attributes and the trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	6/26/2015	Spoke with pharmacist Dennis and reviewed hysingla attributes, dosing and conversions. Discussed the trial offer and flow chart. Dennis said it sounds like a great plan and will continue to look for Rx's.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/26/2015	Good discussion with dr about hysingla and Butrans attributes. Dosing and conversions and then discussed who is most appropriate for hysingla. Discussed the patient on Norco around the clock and is wanting a refill. I asked dr if it makes sense for a private insured patient in that scenario to be on hysingla? Dr said it does make sense and likes that it's q24 and reviewed conversions again and said that he can also see a percpet patient to be on it. I agreed and then reviewed the trial offer. Dr said that is a great idea and likes that he has up to 30 days to process a PA. Dr said he will also continue Butrans and said that almost everyone he has put on it absolutely loves it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/29/2015	Talked about the Hysingla and who is the appropriate patient based on the uncontrolled atc patient. reviewed dosing and covered trial offer. I asked him how his patients like Butrans? I also asked how was it transitioning from immediate release to Butrans. Dr said some like it, some like their pills and he said he didn't have any complaints. I tied in managed care wins.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/29/2015	Lunch. Discussed hysingla- dosing, trial and managed care review. Dr explained that he used to work in the emergency room and treating chronic pain isn't what he is used to. I explained the indication and we reviewed a few limitations of use. I asked when was the last time he wrote an extended release opioid and he said he wrote butrans a few months ago. Using the core visual aid we talked about the initiation for butrand with patients currently treated with tramadol but are not controlled and need further assistance to help with their appropriate pain. Dr asked about titration and we covered steady state and the use of break thru medications if it appropriate to do so. Hysingla- I asked if he had patients currently on hydrocodone immediate release, he said very limited amount. We talked about their options when the patient is appropriate for a longer delivery system. Reviewed dosing and managed care. I asked if he was comfortable thus far with the product and if he felt comfortable prescribing it if he saw an appropriate patient today and he said he thoughts so. I gave him my card and a slim job along with savings card and managed care grid.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/29/2015	We were discussing the patient pieces to be handed out with the savings cards. I asked him if he had tried hysingla yet for his uncontrolled norco or percocet patients. He said no, and asked me how to dose it again. I reviewed and also showed him how the managed care grids are with each coupon to help him remember the right commercial plan so that he has as little headache as possible. I asked him if hysingla sounded like something he could offer to patients and he said yes he would give it a try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	6/29/2015	Quick hysingla message at front counter and reviewed the trial offer. Dr said he knows about the product to but didn't know about the trial offer. I asked him to write it and handed him the initiation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	6/29/2015	Dr talked about how difficult it's been getting hysingla approved on insurance and said he knows of some patients not even getting the trial offer and dr said to talk with Tera. I asked about Butrans success getting covered and he said not too much problem and when he sees a BWC patient he automatically thinks of Butrans. I told dr I will talk to Tera and look at some of the denials.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/29/2015	discussed trial offer with hysingla and discussed some of the managed care plans that don't have pa's. They told dosing me about their processing savings cards and seemed to understand how to do this offer. We talked about attributes of our products and they asked about dosing. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids include purdue products
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/29/2015	Discussed how they process the trial offer for hysingla and reminded of the aug 15th deadline. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including purdue products. highlighted attributes of portfolio products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44310	6/29/2015	Introduction to dr-OxyContin-dr said he doesn't prescribe it much because of its reputation-asked him when was the last time someone asked for it and he said not recently and then I asked him what are your patients asking for and he said Percocet-I went over abuse deterrent properties and dr said that's good but still is weary-I asked him for Percocet patients in his practice that he trusts that are approaching 3-4 tabs to transition to OxyContin and he said ok-I did remind him that OxyContin can still be abused but it's much more difficult to chew and crush
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/29/2015	Discussed how her patients on butrans are doing and she said good. I asked if she had any trouble convincing them to switch from an immediate release pill to a patch? she said no. I highlighted patch rotation and how to discard Butrans. I asked what is her biggest hurdle writing Butrans compared to another opioid. she said managed care. I highlighted managed care for butrans and it lead into a discussion for hysingla with the trial offer and a review of the managed care grid. I asked if these plans seemed to be a good start? she said yes...she asked about medical mutal and I explained the pa process. Talked about conversion from norco to hysingla. Dr said she didn't have any questions. I asked if this was something she would write or wait to write? She said she liked it had the abuse deter properties and she liked the once a day dosing feature. she asked about her nursing home patients...I highlighted managed care and tried to push Butrans in that area and highlighted the managed medical like carewouce coverage and med coverage like with aarp and carecourse.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	6/29/2015	Discussed appropriate patient for hysingla and dosing. Gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids and she shared with me her feelings regarding treating chronic pain. She said she has many chronic pain patients but is trying to treat pain without opioids. she told me that the pain doctors tell her they don't write opioids. We talked about how the dosing scheduled of butrans and hysingla sound to her and she said good but she won't write

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	6/30/2015	Doctor has a few patients on oxycontin, believes in ER meds for pain, likes the idea of Hysingla but was wondering what would happen if patient took more than one. Let him know that one is to be taken at a time, Unless doctor feels patient needs to be titrated. Patient can take two pills one after the other but one at a time if advised by doctor. but IR breakthrough can also be prescribed. Therefore, if he writes a 20mg and patient takes 2 tablets, it would be 40mg daily dose.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	6/30/2015	caresource with butrans and initiation dosing. hysingla with ESI and dosing. Limited time and his accent was pretty hard to understand him so I kept it simple today.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	6/30/2015	Lunch-OxyContin-dr said all is good-said she prescribes a lot for Medicaid patients-asked if coverage is going through smoothly and she said besides the obvious hoops and hurdles she's had good luck-went over coverage and gave her formulary grid-dr said it looks strong and will focus on commercial/part d patients; Butrans-dr said she likes it for patients after tramadol and low dose norco-I agreed great place and went over trial program-I asked her if she has taken advantage of the program since the majority of her commercial patients will get it for a very low copay-she asked for me to make copies for her and I told her I would do that
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	6/30/2015	Lunch-Butrans-went over Butrans trial program with dr and asked if a patient has already failed an nsaid and then tramadol wouldn't it make sense to prescribe a 7-day patch that for that same commercial patient that would have a low copayment? Dr said yes and I left him some with instructions; OxyContin-dr said he is down to 2-3 Percocet when switching to OxyContin-he said it's too tough to bring patients off higher counts of Percocet and if patient wants more he says no and still prescribes OxyContin! I focused him on patients in his practice already that he trusts that need that transition and he agreed great place
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	7/1/2015	Handed updated formulary grid for Hysingla through the window reviewing express scripts change. Told him to simplify Hysingla for the moment..... Will he find appropriate patient for Hysingla who has express scripts insurance. If he considered Hysingla for a patient, express scripts is the plan. He said yes. They were ok with butrans material and know he can write butrans for other plans besides express scripts...of course!
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	7/1/2015	Quick call through the window reminding her that butrans can be appropriate as patients first opioid with excellent managed care coverage. PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	7/1/2015	Spoke with dr and Tina about using oxycontin lower doses like 10mg and conversions. Dr said he agrees to use more low doses. I asked him why with the excellent coverage as Butrans has why he's not using it? Dr said its either been too expensive or has side effects. I told him to use Butrans for his CareSource patients, medicare patients and his Medical Mutual patients as a average of a $25 copay. Reviewed the doses and patients types with conversions. Dr said ok and to leave the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/1/2015	Asked if I could help to identify who might be an appropriate hysingla patient to gain experience and he said to work with beth and she thought maybe one patient. Dr talked about his caresource patients, which he has been doing the last visits. I focused his attention to Butrand for these patients who may be appropriate. I asked if he ever gets a phone call stating a product opioid isn't approved, he said yes. I said if you need medication that you can fax a prescription over and granted the patient was appropriate butrand is schedule three. I gave him my card, a butrans and hysingla coupon and asked him to offer it day for the right patients that may need it. The entire discussion lasted a few minutes.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/1/2015	The nurse practic with dr. wolf shared with me their extended release experience. It is limited but they were familiar with butrans. Reviewed the abuse deter properties of our products, gave fair blance of opioid pote ntial abuse for all opioids including purdue products. Talked about when they "think" they would convert someone from immediate release to a longer deliver system and thats when they stumbled. I reviewed the indication, and asked them if the indication was what they thought it would be for an extended release opioid and they said yes. We talked about the patient on nsaid or cox 2 or tramadol and they become uncontrolled and appropriate for a longer delivery system...we talked butrans and how to start it. Questions of managed care came up and they were surprised of the vast coverage on med d and caresource. The two plans i talked about today were caresource for butransd. And ESI for all our products. I talked about dosing of hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/1/2015	Led off lunch appointment with the slim jim portfolio piece and discussed attributes for oxycontin, Butrans and hysingla as well as the dosing, and conversions. Reviewed patient profiles for each product and focused on 2 mc plans for each product. I told dr that he is missing he boat by not using Butrans and told him I honestly can't understand why he's not using it? Dr said cost. I told him if it was covered 100% if he would seriously use it?
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/1/2015	Explained the product in depth with efficacy, safety and cost. Dr said he will try to use it and remember and that the schedule 3 makes a big difference for him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/1/2015	Led off lunch appointment with the slim jim portfolio piece and discussed attributes for oxycontin, Butrans and hysingla as well as the dosing, and conversions. Reviewed patient profiles for each product and focused on 2 mc plans for each product. She told me that she just got her DEA license a week and a half ago so for now is just seeing follow up patients. I explained to her about treating daily around the clock pain and to initiate ER opioids when the pathology shows something that will yield daily around the clock pain.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44107	7/1/2015	Discussed the trial offer offer for hysingla. I asked what happens if a patient doesn't have the card will they look it up? She said usually no. I asked about the process with our trial if it was something they would do and they reviewed the flow chart a few times and the answer was I think so. No scripts have come thru yet. I highlighted butrans and the dosing and scheduling. We talked about abuse deter properties,yet also gave fair balance that abuse potential is possible with all opioids include purdue products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/1/2015	Talked about abuse deter properties and still gave fair blance of abuse potential for all opioids include purdue products. tAlked about the existing patinet currently being treated for pain in the office. And what happens if they are uncontrolled will you treat them? They talked about butrans- she said its a schedule three and she liked that vs. a schedule 2. She also said she likes the dosing schedule of weekly patch. She was surprised to hear it was covered on some managed medicaid plans like caresource and workers comp. I asked if she ever offered it and she said no. I said have you moved from atc dosing with tramadol to hydrocodone? She said a few times. We backed up...and talked about Butrans in this patient type. if they were atc and not acute...what was the hesitation for a longer deliver system ? she said unfamiliarity of the product. Reviewed iniation process. Also talked about the opioid naive study the end point of the study and the criteria involved. Asked if she is more comfortable now or if soemthing more is needed to offer a patient butrans today? She thought she was set. Talked hysingla and she said she would leave schedule two products to dr. wolf. I asked if she makes recommendations, she said yes. We covered conversion and who is appropriate for the product and why.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/1/2015	Focused dr in on hysingla er attributes and being able to identify a Norco patient who is in around the clock pain as an ideal candidate. Reviewed doses and conversions from Norco. Told dr to start more patients on Butrans as he can call it in and refill it as a schedule 3.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/1/2015	Dr asked how he was doing and asked if the scripts went thru for the patients. I told him i was seeing the butrans scripts and how wonderful it was that his caresource patients are getting it. I told him how his nurse was so helpful and we talked about how many upcoming caresource patients are on the books. I reminded of dosing. As for Hysingla. I told him to keep an eye out for those medco/pbms prescriptions coverage and highlighted a few things about trial offer and teir status for furture copays. terra is helping me to identify patients. The problem has been the lack of patients on the books w/ patients on the right insurance plans. We only looked at this week...but she said there are always those that drop in too. The sabings cards and the managed care grids are in each room.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	7/1/2015	Dr said he hasn't written an extended release opioid in a while. I asked if he hasn't seen a patient or what does he do with the atc pain patient? Dr said he has been referring out and most patients are not appropriate because they are acute. we talked about our indication...and talked about treating patients that might be appropriate with under 80mg equivalent (as that is what he said is important to him last time). We talked about how he doses and he said he has many patients taking medications 4 or more times a day that meet the indication. The dr said these patients are usually on tramadol. I asked him to turn to Butrans as someones first ATC appropriate extended release opioid instead of adding another immediate release pain medication to their atc schedule- i asked if a longer delivery system might be a help to one patient of his currently. Dr said yes. I asked how he keeps track of managed care and dosing. Dr said he refers to approcrites if he is uncertain. I said that is perfect. I also reminded him and showed him that i stuck a slim jim conversion guide by the savings cards for reference incase he forgets. I asked him to put a few in each room along with managed care grid and he was uncertain he would comit to that because he doesn't want to clutter up the room and he doesn't see as many pain patients like he used to when he worked inElyria. Dr said many patients from elyria didn't transfer and stayed there. Dr was most interested in managed care. covered.

Elsie provided me with his empty box which I sent over to Barry Chudakoff who sent it to medical services. I told elise I will take care of it and send to medical services and to please continue trying with new patients. Discussed her use of oxycontin and hysingla. Elise said that her patient last week who I found 60mg for came back in and said she wants her Norco back. Elise said she gave the patient percocet and will be reducing her dose quickly and will try hysingla again.

	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/7/2015	Dr told me that he has written three Butrans prescriptions this week. I asked him to tell me a little about the, and he said all three wanted him to refill their short acting but each has chronic pain and two of them have osteoarthritis. Dr wanted to know more about titration and his ability to use IR opioids if necessary with Butrans. Discussed issues from MVA and reviewed AEs. I asked for continued prescribing. And told him I will follow up in a few weeks.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/7/2015	Quick review of Portfolio of products, intro to Hysingla ER, Initiation/Titration, ESI opportunity, said ok will keep it mind when discussing options with patients, said to book appt with Judy.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	7/7/2015	I-Butrans clinical trial and co-pay cards. OxyContin start principles. Dosing, managed-care and co-pay cards for Hysingla. W-will look over the information but is concerned about lack of coverage
	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/7/2015	Talked about the trial offer and discussed what code they have to enter for our trial cards. They said will have to know about the trial card and it would be helpful if the patients brought the trial flow chart with them- i gave them one to review. We talked about the process of the PA of the trial. Also talked about attributes of the products and the conversion. Talked abuse deter properties of oxycotin and hysingla
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2015	Discussed trial card with Chris and the tech. Also talked about if they are stocking any hysingla for patients yet, they said no but could get it in and i asked how long and they said 48 hours. Gave attributes and fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including purdue products.
	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/7/2015	IUNCH. DISCUSSED HYSINGLA AND ATTRIBUTES AND ESI/TRIAL OFFER WAS THE MAIN GOAL. I MADE SURE THAT THE DR UNDERSTOOD HOW TO CONVERT AND UNDERSTOOD WHO THE SAVINGS CARDS ARE FOR AND WHO THEY ARE NOT FOR. DR ASKED QUESTIONS AND I ANSWERED THEM. DR AGREED TO SET COUPONS IN HIS OFFICE, HE IS ALLOWING ME TO COME BACK AND SEE IF HE WROTE SCRIPT TO CHECK ON PATIENT AND I ASKED HIM TO CALL ME IF HE HAS THE SLIGHTEST CONCERN. TALKED WITH THE STAFF ABOUT HYSINGLA BUT IT WAS FAST, WILL RETURN TO TALK TO THE STAFF MORE. Also talked full portfolio but focus was hysingla and butrans. Got a follow up apt for next time and the dr put the trial card in his pocket.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/7/2015	Today i worked with Bridget the head RN and the doctor about a patient he just wrote hysingla for. I was in a few days ago and told the nurses to call me with any issues or concerns and i would help them anyway i could. And today they called me to come into the office and do just that. The patient had failed several products and dr is trying 20mg of hysingla. The dr would not tell me what this patient was on before..so i wasn't able to confirm the conversion. the patient has supermed insurance which i could not find, so i called kendra and she informed me it was a version of medical mutual and the pa process will be complicated. Then i contacted a few Discount drug marts to see when they could get the 20mg into the store. I personally went to the drug store and informed the tech and the pharmacist about the trial offer and upcoming patient. I worked with tracey at her ddm in lorain incase the patient goes there (i did call the pharmacist and talked with him too). Tomorrow, i will go back to drs office and confirm all my detail findings with them. if they don't get approved i will ask for them to reprocess the pa. i will also offer to assist with the pa process using cover my meds which i set them up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	7/7/2015	Quick. Handed him portfolio piece. He said that he doesn't really write opioids. I asked if he writes Norco in amounts greater than 20 mg per day. He said maybe a few patients. Told him that would be appropriate patient for Hysingla but once daily dose and ADP. Or for Percocet patients, there is oxycotin q12. Where does he think ER meds might make sense. My old me he'd think about it but had to go.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44134	7/7/2015	He was swamped. Had enough time to pull through express scripts formulary coverage. Gave quick Hysingla selling message and asked for patient taking 20 mg or greater of Norco to consider once daily Hysingla. .... But remembering butrans as patients first opioid, he agreed
PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/7/2015	Talked about ESI/Medco and Hysingla for those patients appropriate. she said that most of her patients on extended release products are older and on med d plans. We discussed that hysingla might be used limitedly in her office but it was good to keep the information fresh for when the time comes.
	Barberton	OH	44203	7/7/2015	spent time with staff making them feel special and learning about their jobs and thanking them for all the hard work that they do. Main focus is deana and anne at this office, who grant me access. Today, i brought breakfast and the dr and i discussed hysingla. dr said that he hasn't seen the right patient yet with the right insurance. I encouraged and asked if he was sure he was willing to offer this to a patient still and the dr ensured me that he will use the product given the right patient. so we focused on managed care and the trial offer- along with attributes of conversion and dosing. I asked him to set a few savings cards in each room. I spend time asking him what will help him find just one patient that we aren't already doing? Dr didn't know. I asked him what value do you see hysingla compared to other options? Dr talked about what he liked about hysingla. I asked what is the one thing you wish could change about itDr said managed care. So i recapped the managed care...had him focus on the ESI/Medco grid i gave him and the one plan. I encouraged him to ask his patient when he sees the norco or percocet patient appropriate what their prescription coverage is...dr said he would have trouble remembering to do this. I asked permission to continue to gaining extra access until we get him a few considation patients on hysingla and he said that was fine and as long as his nurses have time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/7/2015	Lunch-Butrans-dr said he loves Butrans and its his go-to pain med-he especially likes it in the nursing home going from IV to the patch-dr asked me about Medicare coverage because he wasn't sure if it was being covered-I went over formulary grid and he said he felt better with the coverage and took the grid-I also told him that his reimbursement specialist Tera knows the ins and outs of PAs and denials and can help him out a lot-I also volunteered my service if he gets in a bind; OxyContin-dr said he switches at 4 Percocet tablets and will not go beyond 4-dr said he's had no issues with coverage and also likes the abuse deterrent properties-I did let him know that it can still be abused
PPLPMDL0020000001	Waterford	OH	45786	7/7/2015	I-Butrans clinical trial and co-pay cards. OxyContin start principles. Dosing, managed-care and co-pay cards for Hysingla. W-will look over the information but is concerned about lack of coverage
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/8/2015	Worked with Tracy to verify that the patient was able to fill the hysingla with their insurance and also collected how much their future copay will be via the pharmacist information. I was able to get back and talk with Bridget (who also attended a program, she is a head RN) and we talked about this patient. The doctor was thrilled and he told me how much they like the patient and hope it works for them. I reminded them of steady state- i also reminded them they if the patient needs break thru it was approved to use immediate release opioids or nsalds or non opioid pain relievers with hysingla. We talked about tiration. the doctor said this patient has been on many products before...i reviewed the conversion and reminded them if the dose isn't right after steady state is reached he could increase to the 30 if need be. I also gave the doctor the stocking sheet and asked him to sign it so we could potentially stock future hysingla for patients. The nurses thought it was a great idea. We talked about the trial offer. and having the 30 days was something they thought was amazing for the pa's. I stressed ESI/Medco for coverage. I reminded them about caresource coverage with butrans as a possible back up for an appropriate patient until hysingla gets coverage in this area. Dr was thankful to me and i was happy to help. I told him i look forward to tomorrows prescripion and the results from the patients sucess.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/8/2015	New office manager in westlake Jess. My goal was to make her my friend and find out about her. I brought in snacks- we talked about her husband and about her new role. I said congrats on your promotion when I came in and she was all happy. Dr talked to me about hysingla said he has been writing. I encouraged and highlighted a few attributes and ESI coverage. Dr asked about caresource...I told him you should remember butrans for your caresource patients. Dr asked if it was covered on that plan and I explained. I reviewed the trial with jess and sam. They said the dr does hand out scripts at this office and they do handle the pa's. I told them how I could be a resource to them...cover my meds, stocking sheets and so forth. In encouraged them to call me the next time a script is written.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/8/2015	Today it was about the refill patient for hysingla. talked about steady state, use of break thru medications and the trial offer. For butrans it was about rotation of the patch per the fpi, schedule three...and caresource. I asked if she has had any problems in the last 6 months or so that she can remember and she said no.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/8/2015	Talked about hysingla attributes and ESI. Dr was interested in the once a day option, although he said he writes very little norco which prompted him to talk about butrans. Talked about the broad coverage for butrans. talked about dosing.Dr said he likes butrans but won't write much chronic pain medications. I said understood. Just try one appropriate patient when you get the chance to do so and he said he would try it. I offered a web ex...flat no. I tried to work on a return visit. dr went on about how busy the staff and he is and he barely had time to talk today. I thanked him for the time and told him I would find a way to let him know i'm here and remind him of these products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	7/8/2015	Reviewed the improved formulary coverage again. Gave updated formulary grid. They let me know that a patient called saying that she couldn't find Hysingla stocked anywhere. After finding out where she lived, I called some nearby pharmacies and told them where she should go for her Hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/8/2015	Talked about how many patients she has in pain that she already has on extended release products. she said very few. I asked if she treats atc patietns who are not acute with immediate release atc as an option. She said maybe a few. I focused in on the low percentage of patients that may be appropriate but understanding this hysingla product so if the time comes she is comfortable writing it for her approparte pateitns. We talked attributes we also talked about abuse potential for all opioids including our products and I asked that if they are approparte to offer hysingla instead of adding another atc immediate release. focused on esi and the plans that we have coverage and highlighted the trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/8/2015	Butrans-said was busy and said I understand-I want to let you know the trial program has been continued and I have some sheets for your patients so you don't have to print them yourself-she thanked me; OxyContin-n/a
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/8/2015	Told dr about the ESI win for hysingla and dr said that's amazing news and it will help because he's been writing a lot. I asked for continued use and dr said he wrote one today for a patient taking 10mg TID of Norco and he started the patient on a 40mg hysingla. Dr said the patient was very happy for the QD dosing. Set up appointment with dr and else for lunch next week in an effort to call the PharmD about Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/9/2015	Discussed opportunities for Butrans and hyaingla and how to identify patients for each. Dr said he's thought about hysingla a couple of times but didn't write it because the patients vicoden wasn't working. I told him those are the ideal candidates! Reviewed the conversions and told him that the patients on vicoden may need that next dose and if he won't go over 20mg of IR like he says then he can decide which hysingla dose to start on. Dr said that makes sense now and will try. Dr looked up hysingla in his E clinical works EHR and it was not populated. I spoke with Angelique and gave her the information to add it manually.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	7/9/2015	Discussed all product attributes, conversions and dosing along with appropriate patients for each. Dr said that 90% of his patients in chronic pain have either medicaid or medicare and that my products aren't covered. I told dr he is wrong because they are. Discussed medicaid and Medicare coverage for Butrans and oxycontin. I asked dr to write Butrans and oxycontin for these patients and where and when for each. Dr said he can see how he should be using more Butrans for Caresource and BWC and will do better.

Reviewed formulary updates and left her new formulary grid. Reminded her that butrans is appropriate as patients first opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/13/2015	Discussed the dinner program for hysingla and a few attributes and the trial offer. Dr was in between procedures therefore conversation was shortened this day.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	7/13/2015	Using Phil, quickly showed appropriate patient for Hysingla. Reminded of dosing and pulling through express scripts. Left managed care grid and asked him to consider abuse deterrent medication for his patients at the lowest copy on d a few plans. Asked him to review butrans material also.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	7/13/2015	Quick hello with d at counter. Showed him the oxycontin doses from the MVA and asked him to please continue to prescribe it for those already on the oxycodone molecule but in a q4-q6 dosing frequency. I gave him the hysingla initiation and conversion guide along with a ESI announcement card and asked him to try it with the trial offer. Dr said he will review the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/13/2015	the Pa does make suggestions on what to initiation a schedule 2 product however the doctors write the first script and after they are established then she is allowed to do the refills. she is allowed to write schedule three products. I asked her experience with butrans and she said she has some but i got the impression it was limited. I asked what was her direction on converting from immediate release to extended release and she said it all depends. She talked about having patients on 8 pills a day of tramadol and she thought that was fine. Talked about the apprairate butrans patient...and attributes of the product. Covered managed care. Tried to establish excitement around a dinner program in september. she said it depends on sports with her kids. next time figure out more about her kids and get to know her interests to build relationship.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/13/2015	Lunch. Discussed Hysingla ER product attributes including single entity, extended release, once daily hydrocodone with abuse deterrent properties. Discussed Norco patients not controlled; consider just changing the delivery system to once daily hydrocodone. Using initiation guide, showed how to dose, strengths; and discussed up to 30 days free trial. Dr. Krishnan says he will keep in mind the formulary updates; tier 2 preferred on ESI/Medco and tier 3 on United Health Care commercial.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/13/2015	Dr. Shared that he was in Westlake on Tuesdays and we talked about his experience with Hysingla and butrans. By the end of the lunch and before left, i was able to secure a hysingla dinner program for their entire group of doctors, pa's and key office personnel. We talked about steady state, adding break thru medication and managed care. Dr shared his idea on when someone is ready to transition from immedaate to extended release- which is to rotate the patient in most cases to a different molecule. Dr said he will write Butrans after tramadol and also stated his comfort with writing lower doses of opioids in general. We talked about the trial offer and this information was shared with the nurses who handle the offer. Work with tally the office manager for the upcoming program for hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Village	OH	44143	7/13/2015	Lunch. Discussed purdue 3 product, single entity, extended release opioid portfolio. Discussed scheduling, delivery system/dosing, scheduling and abuse deterrent properties for Hysingla ER and OxyContin. REinforced Hysingla ER up to 30 tablets free; and additional savings after. Presented formulary update on now preferred Tier 2 ESI/Medco and now Tier 3 United Health Care commercial.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44011	7/13/2015	Discussed experience with hysingla which has been limited. Reviewed trial offer of hysingla and tried to stress the benefits for the patient that the trial brings with no copay and other. I'm not sure he seems as interested in this as the nurses found this to be. We worked out the details for a September program- i tried to stress the importance of the office. Today i worked to create a return visit by establishing a hysingla dinner program for the office and working on a relationship with tally and jess the people in charge.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Barberton	OH	44203	7/14/2015	LONGEST non lunch stand up ive ever had with the doctor. We talked about hysingla and she was pretty certain that she wouldn't be writing it as she treated most of her over 65 age/med d patients with extended release products and Oxycontin being her most trusted she said. Covered ESI and her experience with oxycodone IR and Oxycontin. Talked about Butrans coverage with Med D and the option of a patch with is a different delivery system than an oral for those older patients who don't like swallowing pills. Talked about rotation of the patch and a few attributes. The doctor said she has not tried Butrans yet...but it would be an option for her because she doesn't write over 80mg morphine equivalent as she reviewed our conversion chart she liked the mcg doses and the it was a molecule not of hydrocodone or oxycodone she said. The doctor talked to me about her patient population and how she hardly has any younger patients that they are all over 50. she said she has taken on new patients lately with the recent norton offices that have closed and she said most of them are on opioids which she does not want to treat so she sends them to greene to be treated by comprehensive pain group.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/14/2015	I asked dr to please continue converting any patients on Percocet Round the clock to the q12 Oxycodone and told him about hysingla again and reviewed attributes and trial offer. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/15/2015	Coffee break today- We talked about blocking him time out for the upcoming dinner program in september that i'm working on for his group. also made sure they were aware i needed access again to follow up. We talked about ESI today and the trial offer. Butrans was basically a caresource reminder.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44224	7/15/2015	Lunch-Butrans-dr said she finds herself prescribing it more because her osteoarthritis and ankylosing spondylitis need pain relief beyond anti inflammatory drugs and she doesn't want to go beyond 3 tablets a day of norco-went over trial program and dr thanked me for explaining it-dr said she will use it for her tramadol failures with commercial insurance; OxyContin-dr said she will use it when patients need extended release opioid therapy
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/15/2015	Quick messages at counter and told her to continue finding patients on tramadol or Norco who are on it around the clock. Discussed conversions and starting doses and titration. Reviewed Caresource PA and asked her to write more Butrans. Monique said she will keep an eye out.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/15/2015	I showed dr the Butrans slide guide dosing and titration and told him he needs to be writing Butrans for patients on tramadol or Norco around the clock. I asked dr what he's waiting for? Dr then asked me where it's covered. I told him to write it for his Caresource patients, medicare and commercial patients and reviewed plans. Dr said ok and he knows he should be doing it. Told dr i would follow up next week on his Butrans new starts. Spoke with Val and discussed the Caresource PA with her.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/15/2015	Reviewed hysingla and Butrans attributes, dosing and titration along with trial offers for both. Elise said except for the rash issue with Butrans things are all good. I told her that now is the time to use hysingla while the trial offer lasts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/15/2015	Discussed the phone call dr had with medical services, specifically the PharmD about his frequent issues with patients developing rash with Butrans. Dr said that it was a waste of his time because she offered him nothing and was being patronizing. I told him that we will monitor his issues going forward and take appropriate action. Dr said these issues still will not deter him from using the product and because of this he has been using more hysingla. Reviewed the attributes, trial offers titration. Asked for continued business.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/15/2015	Lunch-Butrans-dr said she likes Butrans after NSAIDs, tramadol, and low doses of norco-dr said patients like the convenience of a 7 day patch-went over trial program and dr said she will definitely utilize them in her commercial patients; OxyContin-dr said not afraid to prescribe it for patients needing long term therapy

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/15/2015	Reviewed the trial offer and talked about abuse deter properties of opioids- asked what they knew about it. The pharmacist actually knew alot. I gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids including our products. I gave approved marking materials and we talked about dosing for hysingla and conversion. Touched on steady state and the use of medications for break thru pain.
	Westlake	OH	44145	7/15/2015	Talked about the appropriate patient for butrans and hysingla and covered dosing. She toldme about he hessiations to write any opioids but her limited experience with scheduled opioids. I asked what she felt is the time to write an extended release product in her opinion. She said when they are chronic and most likely will never get off the pain medications. I said what disease state is this you speak of? She listed a few cancer type pain and a few others. With this said...I highlighted butrans naive study- inclusion criteria and conversion and dosing. I asked if it surprised her this information? she talked about the dosing of butrans which she said she liked. I asked what patients come to mind that could use a patch technology? She listed a few, like the older patients. I asked her to start there then. I covered the med d coverage...highlighted a few attributes like no dose adjustment for elderly or renal impaired. We talked about steady state. The steady state transpired into a hysingla conversation of a 3 day steady state and dosing. spent a shorter time talking about managed care but covered trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/15/2015	dr was not in this morning like he usually is. He has odd hours the rest of the week. thursday and after 3pm on friday at his office. I will return both days to try and catch him about hysingla trying it and caresource with butrans. Spoke to the nurses today
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/15/2015	Talked about trial offer and hysingla along with attributes of products. Highlighted abuse deter properties and gave fair balance of potential abuse with all opioids include purdue products. Talked about the use of break thru medications and steady state.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/15/2015	Short message about oxycotin and hysingla. Asked dr to look for patients already on oxycodone and place them on the q12 oxycotin and yo keep hysingla on his radar for those already on hydrocodone but in the form of Norco around the clock.
	westlake	OH	44145	7/15/2015	Dr does not want to write for long term pain any more he said. he said most of his oxycotin patients from elyria he did not retain when he moved to westlake and those patients are being treated by the doctors w/ dr. gigris now the ccf in elyria. I asked about his experience with oxycotin and he confirmed he was very familiar with the product. Per the last time the doctor stays with the same molecule usually when they are being converted from ir to extended release so I asked him if Hysingla made sense and he said yes but again stressed his hesitation for writing any. I gave fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids include purdue products. We talked a bit on abuse detr properties how do products with these characteristics are preciveced. Dr knew little about this area. Talked about the uncontrolled patient that is appropriate and he is willing to treat. Reviewed dosing. We also talked butrans and caresource.

	C. Falls	OH	44223	7/16/2015	Spoke with tech Corice about hysingla ESI win and what it might mean for those patients to now have access for about $20-40 a month. Corice said they definitely have a lot of those patients and it will be nice that they can get it. She said the pharmacy will be changing to Amerisource in the fall because of some issues with Cardinal. She said that they will then be able to link up the generic Oxycotin so they can then substitute because they can't with Cardinal. Discussed Butrans copay cards and trial offer.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44109	7/16/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER trial card offer, utilization, Nickels office commitment to prescribe

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/16/2015	Reminded dr about the Butrans trial cards I printed for him and the continued use of the product. Told him about the hysingla ER ESI win and asked for more business from Norco when patients may be beyond Butrans.
	Highland Heights	OH	44143	7/16/2015	Lunch. Met with Cindy OM and Marianne (medications/savings cards) Discussed Aetna updates for Butrans and OxyContin. Left Hysingla ESI/Medco formulary flashcard; asked Marianne if we can identify today/tomorrow - patients on ESI/Medco for Hysingla ER. Asked her to discuss/remind Dr. Salama of this plan that does NOT require a prior auth or step edit. With Dr. Salama: same updates for OxyContin and Butrans (Aetna preferred coverage) and asked him to start with ESI/Medco for Hysingla ER. He agreed he would try and identify vicodin or norco patients who need change in therapy. REMinded he and staff of free tria up to 30 days of Hysingla ER. (as he stated he likes to write for 14 days first; and then follow up with patient)

	Beachwood	OH	44122	7/16/2015	She has been mentioning Hysingla to some of her patients and wants to get their support in ER meds rather than their Norco, she thinks she will have some people to convert soon but not yet. She is happy to hear that coverage is getting better and will continue to look for appropriate patients. She has some confusion about managed care plans. For example her husband has Medicare but prescription benefit from Cleveland clinic. I told her that my understanding is that the pharmacy benefits are dictated by the pharmacy benefit not the insurance because that is dictated by the employer. Reminded her that butrans is appropriate before Tramadol or before Doc was happy to report that he is finding butrans patients. He is trying to cut back on pills a bit and that makes butrans a great option. He wants to write Hysingla but insurance doesn't make it easy. He seems to want to prescribe it for Medicare patients. He asked for a dosing reminde. Gave him a slim Jim with dosing. Reviewed managed care information. He said they have a lot of express scripts patient. I'm asked that he write for Hysingla with express scripts patients and he agreed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	7/16/2015	W-OxyContin-3-4 tabs of Percocet when transitioning to OxyContin-dr agreed and tries to do; butrans-said started patient on recently-care source patient after ultram with low back pain-dr said will let me know how patient Quick message for Butrans to continue using for those patients asking for refills or titration of tramadol. Discussed the patch rotation and titration to 20mcg. To.d her about the ESI win for hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/16/2015	Told Dr Azem about the Butrans trial offer and to take advantage of it for those patients in pain on tramadol around the clock or ask for a titration. Dr said that is where she she uses it and it's going well. I told her about the ESI win for hysingla and asked for continued prescriptions from patients taking Norco around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	7/16/2015	Reviewed Hysingla ER, initiation/Titration, formulary opportunities, said ok will relay info to staff, Butrans reminder,

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	7/17/2015	Lunch appointment. Reviewed the Butrans attributes, dosing, conversions and told him he should be using this product every week for patients taking tramadol or Norco around the clock and he's refilling or titrating every day. I told him that has to stop and he needs to be writing the schedule 3 Butrans. I told him his patch of least resistance is commercial insurance and Caresource. Reviewed the PA and asked him if he will write Butrans?dr said he will try to write at least one a week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/17/2015	Quick messages in hallway and told dr to please continue using Butrans for those patients on tramadol around the clock. I asked dr why he would move a patient from tramadol to Norco? Dr said he doesn't want to but usually branded can be cost prohibitive. I told him about commercially insured patients and medicare D plans at are preferred. Reviewed hysingla as the option available when his Norco patients want a refill or titration and are taking around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	7/17/2015	Window- Commercial Esi reminder with the 20mg being the lowest dose and the one to one conversion for hysingla for the patients failing their immediate release norco. Dr said he would try again but he was frustrated by the rejections so far.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	7/17/2015	Quickly handed him information through the window about Hysingla and reviewed how formulary coverage has improved nice launch. PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/20/2015	Focused on offering hysingla for the right patient per our fpi and covered managed care with the staff. as for Butrans talked about caresource and schedule three.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/20/2015	Good discussion about Butrans and I told him he's missing many opportunities if he's not using Butrans especially for his overwhelming amount of BWC patients. Dr discussed with me how difficult it is to convert patients to ER opioids like Butrans when they come to him after being on IR opioids for 6 months or more and the psychological component of taking that IR opioids vs ER opioids. Dr discussed how opioids are overused from PCPs and interests and it makes it too hard for him to convert and to keep them on an ER opioid. Dr said if he becomes to strict and keeping them on the ER opioid the patient leaves the practice. I asked him even with all that to write more Butrans and give it another shot.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	7/20/2015	Told dr that I would like him to find one patient a week that is currently taking tramadol around the clock for at least three months and offer Butrans to that patient. Dr said he's trying but said its hard when patients simply refuse to change from their IR opioids. Told dr to just set the expectation for the patient from the get go about their care and how you are going to prescribe. Dr said he will try. Reviewed hysingla dosing and conversions and asked him to just try it.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/20/2015	Dr said he started a patient recently on Butrans 15mcg and it needed a PA and then recently titrated to 20mcg. Dr said it was the patient we discussed a month or two ago and he's now doing great on Butrans. Dr said he's slowly titrating down on all other analgesics and the patient is adapting well. I reminded dr to continue to focus on those patients taking tramadol around the clock. Discussed the option of hysingla for those taking Norco around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	7/20/2015	Reviewed portfolio, formulary opportunities along with Dinner presentation. said ok will continue to recommend and will confirm speaking engagement.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44312	7/20/2015	Dr said that he started a new patient on Butrans last week who was intolerant to tramadol. Dr said it surprised him that the patient asked for Butrans! Dr said he thinks the patients friend is taking Butrans and is doing really well. I told dr that's a great story and the tramadol patient is a perfect candidate and to keep writing. Discussed the option of hysingla and the attributes and conversions.

Reviewed with dr the importance of him and his staff ensuring the appropriate coding and patient history is in place when they write a prescription. Tera provided information to drs and staff about coding and making sure the patients complete history is in the chart. Dr said he's not worried much about the abuse deterrence with opioids because their is way to much addiction and that's the real problem and even ADP opioids can be addictive. I told him I agree however there is a place for ER opioids in patients that have real, legitimate around the clock pain.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Sagamore Hills	OH	44067	7/21/2015	Using portfolio piece discussed positioning for all three products. Discussed if patient is taking total day dose of 20mg or more of norco, they may be appropriate for ER meds like OxyContin and hysingla. He said he hasn't thought of using it yet. He does believe he might have some patients taking that amount but was unclear on conversion. Reviewed conversion, formulary and ADP. He will keep it in mind and try to find a couple of appropriate patients. Discussed butrans as patients first opioid. He said he had written in the past with push back from insurance. Reviewed formulary coverage and how that is not the case anymore.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/21/2015	Apt today- discussed dosing and a few attributes of the product. Dr hasn't offered the product and couldn't remember much about it. Review managed care, he told me to work with pat the ma about managed care and that he doesn't keep track of what his patients have typically. Unfortunately they don't take the pbm cards and the ma/pat told me it would be hard to figure out who might be a candidate. I left the grid for hysingla. Also covered a few attributes of butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	7/21/2015	Good discussion about his Butrans patients and how he's been titrating them through the doses. I reminded him about steady state and how he needs to continue looking for new patients that are on tramadol or even Norco around the clock. Discussed hysingla ESI win and how he also needs to be looking for appropriate candidates.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/21/2015	Reviewed trial card offer for hysingla. Answered questions from the pharmacist such as conversion and use of break thru medications. I addressed per the fpi. Gave fair balance on abuse potential for all opioids including purdue products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	7/21/2015	OxyContin-discussed coverage because dr said last visit concerned-dr agreed looked good and will look for Percocet patients approaching 3-4 tabs; Butrans-went over trial program and dr said he needs reminded and I told him that's my job
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	7/21/2015	Lunch. Paul says he's had to kick out several patients lately (majority asking for Percocet) who are non compliant with office policies/or those failing urine screens. Reviewed broad formulary coverage for OxyContin and Butrans. Reinforced Butrans as CII transdermal option, with ability to call/fax in with refills. Overall, Paul says he is hesitant to even refill extended release opioids. Updated on Aetna formulary wins for OxyContin, Butrans; and ESI/Medco Express Scripts, Tier 2 co pay for Hysingla ER.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Mayfield Hts	OH	44124	7/21/2015	Met with prior auth coordinator Denise Guinto first. Updated and left formulary grids for Aetna (oxyContin and Butrans) and ESI/Medco Express Scripts now Tier 2 preferred for Hysingla ER. Met with Dr Laham in hallway. He was frustrated as he communicated " I just wrote Hysingla a few hours ago" and it was a hassle - I asked him if it went through - he replied - not sure - waiting to find out. Directed him to Express Scripts. He says coverage continues to remain good for both OxyContin and Butrans. NEW POLICY for this office. NO REP VISITS ALLOWED. NO SAMPLES/FOOD/ SAVINGS CARDS ALLOWED. Reps must be fully credentialed on Vendormate and NOW go across the street to Hillcrest Hospital to leave literature for prescribers.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	7/21/2015	Lunch. Reviewed Hysingla ER pivotal trial clinical data, conversion, dosing, abuse detetter FDA labeling with Dr. showed how to write. Let him know to write for just commercially covered patients right now, with focus on ESI/Medco Express Scripts. Updated on Aetna coverage for OxyContin, Butrans. When Hysingla ER is officially on Worker's Comp - be sure to let him, Carla Van Pelt and nurse manager Yvonne know. Hysingla ER 30 days free, subsequent savings discussed. Dr says his main concern is cost, as most patients Medicare D, over age 65 and have cost restraints.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Euclid	OH	44119	7/21/2015	Asked Dr Winer, what type of patient would he write an extended release opioid for? He replied for patients with chronic issues, spine issues, "failed back" pain and diabetic neuropathy and multiple sclerosis. Would the extended release be an "add on" ? Yes replied Dr. Presented Hysingla ER for hydrocodone patients who are taking 4-6 pills daily, and pain still not controlled. He know they tolerate hydrocodone - the delivery system would be changed to 1 tablet daily. Reinforced ESI/Express Scripts Tier 2 preferred for Hysingla ER. Focused on ALL of my products being single entity - acetaminophen insight - Dr. Winer agrees he does worry about too much acetaminophen. Asked Dr. how important to him, is an extended release product that has abuse deterrent labeling. He says in the future, he believes that will be more important, but for now, he has to go with what's most

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	7/27/2015	She leaves the opioid prescribing to docs if she can help it. She said she likes to learn about them and appreciates information. Using portfolio piece discussed these are options for patient in around the clock pain. Butrans is the only ER C3 opioid on the market. Discussed that butrans is appropriate as patients first opioid before or after tramadol, initiation, doses, titration, she said that she will review information and consider it. Reviewed managed care. Touched on patient who is taking a total daily dose of IR or 20mg or more as possibly appropriate for ER because of low doses available. Reviewed conversion and ADP with fair balance. She is glad to hear the
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/27/2015	Reviewed portfolio, identified appropriate patients, said he put a few new patients on Hysingla ER, Reviewed Tria/Savings card, said ok will continue to prescribe for appropriate patients, and will expand utilization once BWC has officially" added Hysingla ER.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	7/27/2015	Had portfolio piece on table and she said she doesn't like to treat for much chronic pain. She likes to know about them but wanted to hear about butrans. Discussed butrans as patients first opioid before or after tramadol, reviewed formulary coverage, dosing, initiation and titration. Reviewed application location of patch. She said she will try it. Discussed patient taking IR of 20 mg or more of IR as possible appropriate patient for Er meds like OxyContin or hysingla. He likes the idea of once daily dosing and ADP! So he will keep that in mind. Reviewed formulary and savings program.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland Hts	OH	44118	7/27/2015	Reviewed portfolio, identified appropriate patients, Limited time trial offer, savings card, said ok will continue to recommend and prescribe for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	7/27/2015	Using portfolio piece discussed they are appropriate for patient in around the clock pain. He said he has experience with OxyContin. He typically uses it for patients who are on multiple meds and he is trying to simplify their dosing regiment and would prefer they not be taking too much Tylenol. He likes the idea of once daily dosing of hysingla. He had many questions about conversion and morphine equivalence which we discussed. Reviewed a patient taking a total daily dose of 20 mg or more of Norco as a possible appropriate patient. He was aware of ADP and think it's a good idea for opioids. Discussed butrans as patients first opioid before or after tramadol. Reviewed formulary for all three products.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	7/27/2015	Dr told me that she has written hysingla two more times since she saw me last and both required prior auths. I told dr I'm glad she is confident in the product and to keep writing as I will speak with her nurse Nay about the insurance issues. Dr said both patients were taking Norco all the time and thought it would be a great alternative. I spoke with Nay and she said that one patient they just sent an appeal to the PA and will take a couple of weeks. Nay said the patient was a UHC community plan patient. I told her I will follow back up and she asked me for patient brochures for hysingla and Butrans.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/27/2015	Discussed with all HCPs the product portfolio of oxycontin, butrans and hysingla. Explained each product attributes, doing, conversions, patient profiles and insurance coverage with copy and trial offers. Reviewed the product piece on abuse deterrence studies. Dr said he agrees that an abuse deterrent product makes a difference to him and is glad to know Purdue is up on the technology. Dr said he will begin to think more about Hysingla and Butrans and will try them.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/27/2015	Discussed with all HCPs the product portfolio of oxycontin, butrans and hysingla. Explained each product attributes, doing, conversions, patient profiles and insurance coverage with copy and trial offers. Reviewed the product piece on abuse deterrence studies. Dr said since he's been out for a number of months and just came back next week, he's still getting used to things again and learning the new EHR Epic. Dr said that it was a good refresher for him and he knows he needs to look more at his patients taking narcotics and make decisions on who he whole move to an ER opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	7/27/2015	Quick hello at counter and showed him the oxycontin dosing and told him to please evaluate those patients already on the molecule who are appropriate for q12 oxycontin and convert them. I handed him the hysingla initiation and conversion guide and told him, to use this option for his daily, around the clock Norco patients.

	Tallmadge	OH	44278	7/27/2015	Discussed with all HCPs the product portfolio of oxycontin, Butrans and hysingla. Explained each product attributes, doing, conversions, patient profiles and insurance coverage with copay and trial offers. Reviewed the product piece on abuse deterrence studies. Dr said that he will be trying Butrans soon because he has a few patients taking too much Tramadol and they are in pain around the clock. I told dr that's great to hear and to make sure he gives the patients the trial card and copay card.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	7/27/2015	Handed him portfolio piece through the window. Told him that Butrans has much improved formulary coverage Than years past. Also, wanted to introduce him to once daily hydrocodone option with ADP and not Tylenol....it's called hysingla. He said he'd take the information and maybe we can talk next time or he will call me for More information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44113	7/28/2015	Reviewed portfolio and reinforced appropriate patients, formulary coverage, said ok she continues to identify/recommend and ultimately prescribe for appropriate patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	7/28/2015	Myra said that she wants to write for hysingla but insurance is the limiting factor. We discussed who appropriate patient is in her mind? She said it is a patient taking multiple meds, multiple pills and would want to "simplify" their dosing regimen. They inherit many patients from other practices with very complicated pain management solutions that she is working to improve. Pulled through express scripts and Caremark as the pbm's to target. She said she will find hysingla patients this afternoon. She continues to have good success with butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44312	7/28/2015	God discussion with dr about hysingla snd Butrans and dr said he's been writing a lot of hysingla recently and most have been going through. I asked him where he's been using it and he said mostly in his patients on Norco and some on percocet. Discussed the ESI coverage on hysingla and Aetna for Butrans. Reminded dr about titration for each product and asked him to please continue writing. Dr said he's trying to follow the insurance grid and said 8/10 patients he sees he has their prescription insurance information. I told him that's great and keep writing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	7/28/2015	Asked doctor when he feels that ER meds are appropriate while showing him portfolio piece. He said that for sick patients like cancer patients who are on high doses of IR meds or multiple meds. He used to write more ER meds but he writes IR in such low quantities, no more than 3 pills per day and morphine equivalent of 20-40 per day. Tried to get him to think of their total daily dose of IR and if it is 20 mg or more of norco, would he consider once daily hysingla with ADP for a few patients in around the clock pain? He said he will periodically write ER! He just recently wrote for embedda. He pushed back on butrans and formulary coverage again and I gave him butrans formulary grid showing the broad coverage. Gave him hysingla savings card and asked him to find one patient. He smiled.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	7/28/2015	Reminded doctor that he said he has plenty of patients taking norco total daily dose of 20mg or more that would be appropriate for hysingl? He said he still isn't thinking of it and where is it covered? Told him with both hysingla and butrans, there is opportunity for commercial patients to get one months mess for free for both hysingla and butrans. With hysingla he can gain clinical experience with no cost to patient for a limited time. Asked him to consider express scripts or Caremark for hysingla, he wrote it down and said ok.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	7/28/2015	Lunch-introduction to office-OxyContin-dr said he typically doesn't prescribe ER opioids but since seeing abuse deterrent piece plus formulary grid he said he has been prescribing it-dr said usually switched from Percocet at 4-5-asked him if 3-4 would be better-dr agreed and said he probably should since sometimes he gets too high a count-I did let him know that abuse is still possible but with the re formulation it is much more difficult to chew or crush; butrans-dr wanted to know more about it since he's been prescribing it-went over strengths, slide conversion ruler, and placement after NSAIDs, tramadol, also went over formulary coverage and dr thanked me for such an in depth presentation-dr said he will prescribe more now that he knows more about it!

PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	7/29/2015	Doctor fully supports ER meds for around the clock pain. He is a big advocate for ADP and one of the main reasons he chooses OxyContin and hysingla. He also likes the option of butrans. His biggest problem is the fact that he chooses the meds for his patients and insurance dictates what is right for his patients. He cannot keep track of what is preferred at which plan for what price! He writes hysingla for appropriate patients but gets a lot of push back from insurance. Progressed to discuss his insurance philosophies for quite some time.

Discussed the patch makeup and how it's suited for his tramadol and Norco patients that he knows need an opioid for daily, around the clock pain. I told him to use it for his commercial, medicare D and Caresource patients. I explained the caresource criteria and dr said he knows he needs to use it. I have him the trial card and to have it on his workstation this week to remind him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	7/29/2015	Good conversation About Butrans and hysingla. Dawn said she has had a lot of experience with it when she was with Dr Nichols. Dawn said that she really likes the schedule 3, 7 day part of the patch and it makes it easier for her. She said that she uses it for tramadol all the way through percocet and likes to use it on her older patients. Reviewed its attributes, dosing and conversions as well as the trial offer. Dawn said that Mark discussed Hysingla with her and she's on board and it's just a matter of trying it. I reviewed attributes, conversions and trial offer. She said the trial offer is awesome and will give it a shot.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/31/2015	discussed the trial offer with hysingla and appropriate patient type with the nurses and the dr. The dr asked dosing questions, which was addressed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	7/31/2015	Invited the np and doctor to the program for hysingla. Dr said he might be interested- i will follow up next week. The doctor said he hasn't tried hysingla because he doesn't think of it. I really encouraged him to do put the coupons where he can see them or if he could leave a brochure in the patient room to help remind him. I asked him why would he write hysingla in the first place...i told him im trying to find out if you see value in a once a day product with these attributes. Dr said he was a creature of habit. We talked about change and how it always happens and if he would make an effort to find the appropriate patient given the opportunity and he said yes. So we covered dosing and managed care again focusing in on medco because he doesn't know esi. When speaking to the np i asked them to contract me when a script is written and i will make sure i can do whatever it takes to get it thru for the patient on my end.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Lyndhurst	OH	44124	7/31/2015	Lunch. Discussed product attributes for OxyContin including q12h dosing, extended release, single entity, and fda abuse deterrent labeling. For Hysingla ER, Dr. Reed stated that she placed a female patient, under age 65, previously on vicodin and patient had allergy to acetaminophen. She then changed patient to hydrocodone/ibuprofen combo. The patient had an allergy to ibuprofen. Dr. Reed initiated Hysingla ER 20 mg at first, since she knew patient could tolerate hydrocodone and could NOT tolerate acetaminophen or ibuprofen. Most recently, she titrated patient up to 60 mg once daily. REinforced Hysingla is preferred Tier 2 for ESI Medco - Dr. Reed replied that she doesn't pay attention to formulary plans as they are confusing, change all the time. She writes what she wants patient to have and hopes it goes through.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/31/2015	Discussed dosing and attributes of hysingla. Incuded fair balance of abuse potential for all opioids and talked about trial offer
PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	7/31/2015	i talked with the nurses for a while. Bridgette got me back and then later saw the doctor. We talked about steady state and dosing...covered managed care and then we talked about the patients currently on hysingla. So far success stories. i talked about the limited trial offer and made sure they call me when they write the next script so that i can get a request form to get the product stocked incase it's not already there to save the patient time. We talked about the program on the 26th and they are interested in attending. They have some coordinating to do but will follow up next week with them. I made sure to thank the dr for his offering this product t and also highlighted that both patients didn't need a pa and both got it free and both approx co pay cost for future scripts. Dr said he was surprised. I asked if he is willing to try again and he said yes. I told him i would like to continue to get feed back so i could report back to my manager and the company. he said that would be fine. I will use this as leverage for next visit as the patient is supposed to return to the office next weel
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	7/31/2015	Reminded doctor of er options using portfolio piece. Discussed hysingla option for patients in around the clock pain taking 20 mg or more of norco per day who might be appropriate for ER once daily hydrocodone, without Tylenol and with abuse deterrent properties. Asked him to find one patient with express scripts insurance to try for hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	7/31/2015	Doctor is choosing hysingla for a few patients because of once daily dosing and abuse deterrent properties. Reviews abuse studies for both OxyContin and hysingla
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	7/31/2015	Asked doctor if i could bring a speaker in to discuss hysingla with him, Roberta and Jennifer? Mentioned doctor Latham. PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/3/2015	Told Stephanie about the Oxycotin and Butrans coverage with Aetna. I asked her to continue to covert her IR oxycodone patients to oxycotin and tramadol for Butrans. I asked her if she has any reservations with any of that and she said no but it's the patients she needs to convince. I told her I'm sure she can be pretty convincing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	8/3/2015	Dr told me that he has a patient on Butrans who he titrated to 15mcg from 10mcg in July who complained after about two weeks of just "feeling funny" and stopped taking it on her own. Dr said he has a follow up appointment with the patient soon and will get additional information. Dr told me that this patient is also taking a low dose oxycodone. I told dr if he doesn't want to restart the Butrans he can always go to oxycotin. Dr said that's a great idea and will recommend that. Discussed hysingla opportunities, attributes, conversions, ESI coverage and Aetna for Butrans and oxycotin. I reviewed the hysingla trial offer and told him to just try it on a commercial patient and allow them to get the first 30 days free even if there is a PA. Dr said that's a great deal and will do it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Garfield Heights	OH	44125	8/3/2015	Reviewed portfolio, identified patients, initiation/titration, formulary opportunities, trial/savings cards, said ok will discuss with Dr. Samuel Abraham, majority of patients do not exceed TID dosing of an IR opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Rocky River	OH	44116	8/3/2015	Talked about the hysingla and the es/medco patient...commercial patients appropriate. Dr still said he was uncertain about trying it again. I left him managed care grid and trial offer information. There was much more I wanted to say but I was limited due to he was coming to the window to talk to a patient and I had to move out of the way so he could do his thing with the patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/3/2015	Reviewed with roman latest on insurance for hysingla since he completely believes in the medicine. Discussed with him getting patients pharmacy benefit card in the exam room and only writing it for the few plans on the formulary grid. He agreed. Reviewed that coverage for Oxycotin is more available.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/3/2015	Doctor thinks hysingla makes sense for patients because it is once daily and wanted clarification on what ADP mean. Reviewed abuse studies for hysingla. He thinks that is a reason to choose it. He wasn't aware that Oxycotin was for muted the same way.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/3/2015	Patty wasn't there today so I didn't get much time with the doctor, but I filled in the nurse (who had broken english, I can't remember her name) about hysingla she was very interested and asked lots of questions mostly attributes which I addressed. The nurse said she would pass the information over and also said she could think of many patients that he could put this product on. I will come back tuesday and try and get an apt to review the product again in person. I was only able to give a quick overview of the product to the dr while he placed something on the desk for a patient and said hello to me thru the window. I will see what I can do more tomorrow w
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/3/2015	Doc said she wrote hysingla and it was rejected at the pharmacy for Cigna she believes. I told her that I may be able to help change that outcome if I know about it. Please call me in the future. She said she needed up switching it to Oxycotin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Lakewood	OH	44107	8/4/2015	Reviewed hysingla and the doctor said he didn't know what commercial insured patients were and had no idea what Medco. I asked the doctor if he knows what any of his patients have when he gives a script...caresource, med d. And he said sometimes. I tried to explain that those patients can't use a coupon therefore commercial patients where those that would use a coupon and so forth. Reviewed the conversion. He seemed confused on how to convert. Reviewed it several times. I also just talked about the lower doses the 20 and the 30mg. And the trial offer for the patients. Dr said he would most likely write butrans before hysingla. I asked if he has gotten experience with butrans and he said no, yet he said he has several tramadol pain patients oncaresource. I talked caresource and the initiation dose for butrans. Dr agreed to write but i/m not certain he knows how to write it or
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/4/2015	Ask doctor to consider hysingla ER for patient taking total dose of norco of 20 mg or more who is looking for more analgesia. Handed him formulary for butrans and hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/4/2015	He said he doesn't prescribe opioids, he sends them to dr Gallagher. He understands positioning of portfolio and will consider butrans as patients first opioid. He doesn't anticipate prescribing ER meds at this time.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44195	8/4/2015	Reviewed portfolio, formulary challenges, trial/savings cards, said ok will continue consider when prescribing for appropriate patients.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/4/2015	Thanks Myra for finding appropriate patients for hysingla last week. After discussing with her staff and the troubles they had last week she is going to try to stick with express scripts, Medco, Caremark for now.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44111	8/4/2015	Discussed hysingla. appropriate patient type and attributes w fair balance. asked if he treats atc pain with any hydrocodone currently and he said a few. he talked about his limited hours and his dissatisfaction with the pain doctors in the area. He told me he tried to refer out. I asked those that he keeps how does he handle their atc pain currently. Dr didn't know how to answer this. I asked if any of his patients would be open to a once a day option? He said maybe a few. I asked if he could talk about those patients and he really didn't know them off the top of his head. I worked on ESI/medco managed care pull thru along with the trial offer and conversion dosing. Also talked about butrans with caresource managed care. And dosing.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/4/2015	Dr told me she wrote hysingla for a patient with UHC commercial and medicare secondary but it's A & B. Dr said that it required a PA and was sent and was still denied and wanted to know why? I told her that UHC is not covering hysingla at all and it's just not the right product for UHC commercial and she should try either Butrans or oxycotin.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/4/2015	Doctor wanted to know when to choose hysingla and when to choose butrans. He is comfortable with butrans and likes it for his aptient population. Using the portfolio page from detail aid described three specific patient types. Butrans is appropriate as patients first opioid or before or after tramadol but before norco. Hysingla is for, recited indication, and if they are 20 mg or more total daily dose of norco and asking for more analgesia. He is clear in patient type and said he now has to remember it. Left him formulary and dosing book which he is keeping in his desk. He will find an e press scripts patient that is appropriate for hysingla.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Westlake	OH	44145	8/5/2015	Got back to talk to rn Bridget, leveraged aug dinner program. She said dr is uncertain he wants to attend. I offered a program for their office later in the year. She thought that would work great. I informed about Doug coming on Tuesday and asked for time. Tuesday is procedure day so best chance would be after 2. I told her to inform the dr. I saw dr briefly. A wave, he said "your back again" I said I'm here every week doc that's how important you are and I said I was finding out about your hysingla patients. He said thank you.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/5/2015	Dr said that he's still finding a place for oxycontin because it's a good product when patients come in on percocet and taking too much. I told dr about the 1:1 conversion and the copy card for his commercial patients. Dr said he trying to find a place for Butrans but based on being in the wound care center a transdermal patch doesn't make too much sense. I told dr I agreed and to write oxycontin.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44313	8/5/2015	Dr told me that he is continuing to use oxycontin and admitted that most are refills. I asked why not many new starts and he said it's too expensive. Discussed what is too expensive for one may not be for another. Dr did tell me he's been writing more Butrans recently. I asked where and why he's been using it more? Dr said he uses Butrans now on patients he doesn't want to give an oral opioid to. I told him that's fine but it's still abusable like any other opioid. Dr said he knows but feels a patch can make a difference. I told him about the Caresource PA and medicare D coverage on AARP and silverscript.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	8/5/2015	OxyContin is q12 w ADP and widely available on formulary and now there are ER options. For hydrocodone patient with once daily hysingla, and abuse deterrent properties. If he has patient on total daily dose of norco 20mg or more, that patient might be in around the clock pain and appropriate for hysingla. He asked me to leave the information.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Bedford	OH	44146	8/5/2015	OxyContin-dr said its still his number one ER opioid and the one he reaches for when patients are referred to him on too high a count of Percocet-dr said coverage in the past was a problem but not now; butrans-trial cards-reminded him of program and he said he does use when has commercial patient
PPLPMDL0020000001	westlake	OH	44145	8/5/2015	Discussed hysingla dr said he forgets. I focused on the potential patient and insurance. Coverage. The np and pa were very interested in the dosing and Butrans. The drs said he liked Butrans. I asked why and he said it was easy to dose. I asked why didn't he like hysingla. Dr said he can't remember it. I tried a variety of suggestions to fix that problem.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Solon	OH	44139	8/6/2015	Doctor said care source is giving him a harder time approving prescriptions for butrans. Discussed patient he is choosing and what he is saying on the prior authorization. Discussed hysingla for patient taking 20 mg or more total daily dose of norco and in around the clock pain, and a possible appropriate patient type. He said that makes sense. Reviewed better formulary coverage then the last time he tried to prescribe it. He said he will keep it in mind when he finds the right patient.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/6/2015	He called to check on Cigna patient who works at JP Farley. He wanted to make sure he would get the free month and that this would be appropriate patient. I checked Cigna coverage, employer wasn't listed and told him that it looks as if the script should go through, told him to be sure to give saving card information and that patient activates it ahead of time.

Dr said he likes Butrans and just continues to struggle with coverage. I told him we will discuss next week a lunch and asked him to gain some clinical experience with hysingla and gave him the invitation and titration guide.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/6/2015	Told Linda that I just came from New Choice and that they have a patient of hers that she wrote Butrans from on 7/29 and is waiting for the prescription because there is a PA. Linda said to speak with Tera about it because it was a Humana Med D patient and it's not covered. I told her I will and asked if she's tried hysingla recently? Linda said she didn't think so but likes Butrans because it's a patch and a schedule 3. I told her that's true however for those Norco patients who may be higher up in the dose, hysingla may be a very good option. Linda said I'm right and will try it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	8/6/2015	Second week in a row, this time caught him by his car as he was leaving. Told him that as he knows, OxyContin's formulary coverage is available. Now using hysingla's is starting to be as well. For his patient in around the clock pain, needing 20 mg or more of norco, will he consider once daily hysingla with ADP?

	C. Falls	OH	44223	8/6/2015	Katherine told me that Butrans has been going through without much problem recently however does have one from Linda Armstrong that was a PA and it's still pending. Katherine said that the patient had Humana Med D.

PPLPMDL0020000001	akron	OH	44333	8/10/2015	Told dr about hysingla and Caresource. I asked dr if he would identify just one patient that meets his requirements for an ER opioid and has failed Norco or a like product for hysingla. Dr said that's good news and he will try.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/10/2015	Told Gilbert about the possible coverage with Caresource and hysingla. Gilbert ran a dummy Rx and said that it shows there is a PA but it didn't give criteria. Gilbert said it should be covered and to run with it. He said it's probably a failure of Norco. Gilbert said they have 20-40mg in stock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/10/2015	Told dr about the opportunity to try hysingla for his Caresource patients and that while I'm not positive on criteria, it's getting approved with a PA. Dr said he will try it but said he's trying to not write as many narcotics because it's causing more problems in the future. I told dr that's why he must be very selective on choosing the right patient. Dr said it doesn't matter however he will try it when he finds a good candidate.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/11/2015	Dr talked about his recent Butrans starts and told me all of them were on IR opioids tramadol and hydrocodone. Dr said he started both on 5 mcg and already titrated to 10mcg. I asked for continued use of Butrans for the tramadol patient on it around the clock. Reviewed the use of hysingla attributes, dosing, conversions and trial offer. Discussed oxycontin use for patients already on oxycodone and tolerating it.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44310	8/11/2015	Dr told me that he's got many patients back on Butrans and working very well. Dr said he's writing it for his older patients taking chronic IR opioids and is finding when they are higher up on IR opioids that he needs to titrate Butrans quickly to get an appropriate dose. I asked him for continued prescribing and discussed coverage. I discussed the possibility of getting hysingla covered on Caresource and Shar said that they just see MyCare Ohio patients. I told dr to give it a shot but i can't guarantee coverage.

	Parma	OH	44129	8/12/2015	He absolutely has appropriate patients for hysingla. He needs it to be covered in caresource and workers comp, reviewed the formulary situation and asked for his commitment to find patient with express scripts. He said that he can not write for 90 days. I told him that express scripts does. It require 90 day mail away scripts, they can get 30 days filled at the pharmacy. He said he will try to remember to write for express scripts. He knows that butrans is appropriate as patients first opioid although that's not what he usually does and he said he should think of it earlier in the treatment process.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44115	8/12/2015	Reviewed portfolio, identified appropriate patients, initiation/titration, formulary opportunities, said ok will continue to prescribe/recommend for appropriate patients that he can get covered. Reviewed with Martha.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/12/2015	Lunch appointment. Discussed both Butrans and hysingla and dr said Butrans for the most part is going through insurance but hysingla isn't. I told her I know that the most recent one was UHC commercial and she said she had another patient this morning with the same plan on Norco she wants to switch. I told her that UHC commercial has hysingla on a NOF status and is most likely won't get covered but did tell her to try it for MyCare Ohio patients as well as ESI, Caremark, and Cigna. Dr told me to talk to Nay about those plans.

Those patients typically see Julie such or dr Ryan. Reviewed ADP and when ER meds are appropriate. He was interested in butrans as patients first opioid and the fact that it was c3 and a patch. Reviewed formulary for butrans and hysingla.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/13/2015	Quick discussion while in hospital and Denise said all is going well with Butrans and is seeing great results. She said that most orients do just fine on 10mcg however there are those who must titrate to the higher doses. I asked for continued business and support and asked her if she's seen good results from Hysingla and she said she has but it's a difficult product to get covered.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/13/2015	Dr said he had a patient in yesterday that he had titrated from Butrans 15mcg to 20mcg and the patient had serious burns from the 20mcg on three different application sites. Dr said he was titrating back down to 15mcg to see if that solves the problem. I told dr I have heard of those cases before and dr said that's concerning and I need to report it. I asked for continued prescribing and to keep hysingla in mind for his Norco patients.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/13/2015	Quickly mentioned norco patient taking total daily dose of norco 20 mg or more as possibly appropriate patient for hysingla ER. He said that he should be able to find that. In that case, he can keep an eye out for oxycodone patient in around the clock pain that might be appropriate for Q12 OxyContin.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/13/2015	Reviewed Butrans and hysingla attributes, dosing and conversions and dr said he wrote a Butrans the other day for a patient asking for more tramadol. I told him that's an ideal patient and dr said the patient had good insurance. I asked him to identify just one patient for hysingla and reviewed what that patient looked like.

	Middleburg Hts	OH	44130	8/13/2015	Thorough review of portfolio and product positioning. He believes that ER meds make sense for patients who need more than 4 tablets per day. We discussed patient taking total daily dose of norco 20 mg or more as possibly appropriate for ER meds like hysingla and OxyContin, reviewed ADP. He needed clarification of butrans because there was confusion about suboxone and buprenorphine. Clarified that and explained positioning of butrans and where appropriate. He was curious about interactions with SSRI's. Reviewed formulary and where to write hysingla and butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/17/2015	Using portfolio piece reviewed product line. She said her practice is closed to new chronic pain patients. Discussed appropriate patient type for each med. she is clear on where to use them and which plans. She will try to find an appropriate patient for hysingla on express scripts.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/17/2015	Doctor knows she will find patients appropriate for hysingla. She wants to try it. Reviewed appropriate patient as person taking total daily dose of 20 mg or more of norco and in around the clock pain. She calculated some combinations in her head and how many patients are in that dose that hysingla makes sense for. Butrans is something she has tried in the past, but patients didn't want to continue it. She may give it a try for a Med d patient. She knows OxyContin patient and excellent formulary coverage.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	8/18/2015	Showed dr the Helen profile for butrans and read through it. I told him the next time he has a patient on tramadol in his exam room and is taking it around the clock to convert to Butrans. Dr said he agrees he needs to try it more often. I asked if it's realistic to find one candidate a week and. Write Butrans? Dr said he can do that.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/19/2015	Doctor said that if I keep leaving him a savings card, then one day he will remember to give it to a patient. I told him I will give him one and leave one in the sample closet. Told him that he has to find pAtient in around the clock pain, currently taking total daily dose of 20 mg or more of norco, needing more analgesia. If they are. It on norco but need pain relief, why not try butrans. He said it seems like he should find the patient
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/19/2015	Quickly told him that a patient taking total daily dose of norco of 20 mg or more might be hysingla patient. Patient will get one month free, will he find one patient on express scripts to gain some clinical experience? He said yes. And butrans is appropriate as patients first opioid before going to norco.

Reviewed copy cards and trial offers.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/20/2015	Spike with pharmacist holly and reviewed product attributes, dosing and appropriate patients. I asked her if she has had a hysingla script yet and she said no however she did get a Butrans recently from Dr Ali as a new patient. Holly said that she still has 20 and 40mg hysingla on the shelf and is expecting to see it soon.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/20/2015	Discussed patient taking total daily dose of 20 mg or more of Norco as appropriate patient for hysingla. Doctor said the only thing holding him back from writing is the coverage. He will make an effort to find appropriate express scripts patients so he can gain more clinical experience with hysingla. He likes butrans as an add on to some patients rather than more pills.

Office is instituting a opioid policy and will have pain contracts, UDS and other ways to regulate what they are providing patients in pain. Dr said he wanted more copy cards and continues to ask patients about the Butrans option. Reviewed hysingla attributes and to just give it a shot to learn how it works clinically.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/20/2015	I asked dr how she knows when a patient is in pain around the clock? Dr said it's based on a lot of factors but typically it's how often they take pain medicine and usually more than three a day. I told her when patients reach that level and they either want more, a refill or both to use ER opioids like OxyContin. Butrans or hysingla then discussed each.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/20/2015	Quick call where I tried to discuss patient taking total daily dose of 20 mg or more of IR. some of those patients are in around the clock pain and may be appropriate for ER med like hysingla or OxyContin. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/20/2015	Spoke with Rafferty and Higley at the same time about Butrans and hysingla. Discussed how to identify a patient as a candidate for an ER opioid and asked them both to use my products as viable options when they know a patient is on an opioid around the clock. Reviewed the product attributes, dosing, and conversions. Dr said that he rarely writes ER opioids because usually when he tells a patient he won't give anymore opioids he doesn't see them again. I told dr if he offers an ER opioid it may be more appropriate and he may be able to keep a patient. Dr asked about the copy card and trial offer which we discussed. PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/20/2015	Doc said that he is gaining experience with hysingla and is seeing good results. Discussed that it is nice to have ER choices like OxyContin and hysingla. Reviewed the savings program, free month and monthly savings for patients. He did say he forgot to give it the last time. Reviewed formulary coverage and which patient types would be appropriate. Reminded him that butrans is appropriate as patients first opioid and is c3 and a once weekly
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/20/2015	He said a patient asked him is their is a longer lasting Vicodin. He was more than happy to prescribe hysingla. Asked if he hears that often? He said yes. We discussed how a norco patient taking 20 mg or more total daily dose might be appropriate for hysingla if they are in around the clock pain and he said he believes in long acting meds like hysingla and OxyContin for pain. Starting to talk about where he uses butrans but was called away.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/20/2015	Roberta discussed a patient she has taking 6x10 mg norco patient. She is thinking of hysingla for this patient but the patient likes to be in control of their pain. Moshe wonders what dose I recommended. Reviewed conversion and discussed different dosing scenarios that would make sense. She said that patients didn't believe the relief lasted 24 hours. Reviewed pk chart and asked if she would share this with her patients to show plasma levels. Dr walked in and said patients should be told what to do. Mir they think this is appropriate the patient has no choice but to cooperate. She also likes butrans before or after tramadol, older patients. Moshe
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	8/21/2015	Lunch appointment. Discussed all product attributes, dosing and conversions with the portfolio piece. Discussed product profiles and discussed appropriate patient candidates and asked for the business. Dr Russ said he refilled a Butrans yesterday for a patient who has been on it for about 6 months now and is doing very well. I asked dr to please identify new patients especially those on tramadol around the clock.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Uniontown	OH	44685	8/21/2015	Discussed all products to Dennis the pharmacist along with their attributes and copy cards. Dennis said he dispensed a new Butrans this morning and knows that Kim has done a hysingla recently and could not remember who wrote them. I explained the trial offers for both products.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	8/21/2015	Lunch appointment. Discussed all product attributes, dosing and the product portfolio piece and explained appropriate candidates. I asked dr Seiple when the last time he wrote Butrans or hysingla and he said he said he wrote it last week for a patient asking for more nor I dr said he out the patient on a 5mg patch and the patient is doing well after calling in. I asked him to consider hysingla for that patient on Norco around the clock and dr said he would rather write the schedule 3 product. I asked for him to know when to identify a patient as a candidate for one of my ER opioids.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	8/21/2015	Doc has tried to write hysingla and patients say it is too expensive. He does have patients taking total daily dose of norco greater than 20 mg that are appropriate for hysingla. Reviewed formulary quickly. Discussed butrans as patients first opioid.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Hudson	OH	44236	8/21/2015	Lunch appointment. Discussed all product attributes, dosing and the product portfolio piece and explained appropriate candidates for each. Dr Tosino said that he has a few patients on Butrans who really like it and will try to remember using it for the tramadol around the clock patients. Dr said he won't use OxyContin and probably won't use hysingla but said that he will look for those around the clock norco patients.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/24/2015	Good discussion with Elise about her continued use of Butrans and told her I noticed she hasn't been using hysingla. Elise said that she hasn't because she would rather go to Butrans. Elise said that she feels that if a patient is taking 4-10mg Norco a day that she would rather just go to oxycodone if they need more. I asked why that is and she said if they are doing well on hydrocodone she would just keep them on the if opioid. Elise said it's too hard a sell to go to a QD opioid. I told her we will discuss later in the week.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Fairlawn	OH	44333	8/24/2015	Talked with Sue about Hysingla trial offer being extended and she said that they filled 2 last week. Both prescribers were not in my territory. One in Kathys.

PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/26/2015	Linda said doc is in full support of hysingla for appropriate patients. They somfar have more success with newer patients. Patients who are doing well with current regimen are not who they are looking to switch to hysingla. Butrans is a good option that they seem to be able to get insurance to cover. Reviewed formulary and prior Authorizations .
PLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	8/26/2015	She said that she has been waiting for a product like hysingla, it makes sense for patients in around the clock pain. She has mentioned it to many patients, a few are willing but insurance is prohibiting them for getting it. We discussed appropriate patient type for hysingla and butrans. She has identified patients in her practice but thinks that more will come from new patients to their practice who can take it or leave it. She still thinks patients don't like patches, but has found patients that it works very well for.

PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44320	8/26/2015	I told dr that he needs to start writing Butrans and asked him what he's waiting for? Dr said he will write it. I showed him the Helen profile and showed him the conversions from tramadol and Norco. I told him I know he has the patients for it and to just start writing it. I told him to start with his care source and Medicare patients and reviewed the caresource criteria.
PLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	8/26/2015	Told Dail that she can continue to use Butrans and to think about it for her BWC and Caresource patients and reviewed the coverages. She said that's a great reminder and she likes the product. Reviewed hysingla and explained attributes, dosing, and conversions.

PLPMDL0020000001	Fairlwan	OH	44333	8/26/2015	I told dr that Butrans is a product that he can use for patients on it opioids like tramadol and Norco around the clock who have BWC or caresource. Showed him the conversion guide and reviewed the caresource criteria. Told him to gain some clinical experience with hysingla and reviewed the initiation and titration guide as well as the copy cards.
PLPMDL0020000001	Munroe Falls	OH	44262	8/26/2015	Told dr two reasons to write OxyContin are that she can use a q12 oxycodone that is single entity when a patient is taking more than 3 oxycodone it a day and that its a abuse deterrent. Told her that she needs to write hysingla because it's also a single entity opioid with abuse deterrent. Dr said she is very glad to hear the reminders about why she needs to write.

PLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	8/27/2015	Told dr that instead of refilling or titrating Norco for a patient taking it around the clock to use hysingla which has abuse deterrent properties and is single entity and q24. Dr said he agrees it's a good option but is concerned about insurance. I told him to focus on commercial coverage like ESI and Caremark. Left him with Butrans information.
PLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	8/27/2015	Have dr the initiation and titration guides for Butrans and hysingla and told him they are two different products for two different patients. Explained Butrans for his patients on tramadol around the clock and hysingla for his Norco patients around the clock. Discussed insurance options for each and trial cards. I told dr to get back into prescribing ER opioids instead of refilling it opioids.
PLPMDL0020000001	Cleveland	OH	44130	8/27/2015	Doc knows patient to look for hysingla. He is thinking that many of them might be appropriate for hysingla. PLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/27/2015	He believes in ER dosing and ADP meds like OxyContin and hysingls. He has written for hysingla with too much trouble from patients. It is impossible for him to find only express scripts patients. Reviewed formulary and asked him to call me and I could look up coverage.
PLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	8/27/2015	Doc said he was planning to write hysingla because it is once per day and likes that dosing for his patients in pain, the formulary coverage makes it difficult for him and the patients. He knows that I have told him which plans to choose, but he has too much to remember and where to write hysingla doesn't stick in his head. I asked him if there is somewhere in his office he could out the formulary grid? OxyContin is q12 with the ADP?...
PLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	8/27/2015	Quick hello and told her to please continue writing Butrans and if there is anything I can help with? PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/8/2015	Doc said that when she has found the right patient the coverage wasn't where I told her to write it. Reviewed all the plans where it is successful being covered again so that she can have some confidence when writing hysingla. Asked for one med-d patient for butrans.
	Akron	OH	44310	9/8/2015	Lunch appointment. Dr said he placed a patient on OxyContin last week for a patient taking to much Percocet and wanted more. Dr said he put him on 30mg OxyContin and followed up and the patient said he is extremely happy. Discussed Butrans and hysingla for his Norco patients and dr said that 30mg and under he typically goes to Butrans and over 30mg for hysingla. I told him that seems like a reasonable threshold to have. Discussed titration of all products and use of it opioids for breakthrough and dr said a little more than 50% of his patients are on something for breakthrough.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44305	9/8/2015	I told dr that I know he currently has patients on Norco that are taking it around the clock. I asked dr if he would identify just one patient who he has refilled Norco for at least three times and tolerates hydrocodone are prescribe hysingla for them while I showed him the initiation and titration guide? Dr looked at it and said he will. I told him it must be someone with commercial insurance and then reviewed the plans. I then askd hi to keep his Butrans numbers coming and to look for patients on tramadol around the clock.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Parma	OH	44129	9/8/2015	Was following up on a patient situation she called about. She is finding lots of patients for hysingla but running into trouble with callbacks. Discovered in this case that the patient didn't use his insurance card at the pharmacy. She said she doesn't have this difficulty writing butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Akron	OH	44333	9/9/2015	Brittany and Elise said that there was a patient on Friday last week that she wrote Hysingla for that had Aetna and denied her current medicine Zohydro. Elise said that she didn't give the patient the trial card and then signed up for one and called the pharmacy. She said the pharmacist at Giant eagle in Wadsworth said she couldn't process the trial card and that the patient paid $25 for the first month. I told her I would call the pharmacy and work it out. I asked for continued business and to not forget the trial card for Butrans.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	9/10/2015	Thanked him for continuing to write hysingla. He said he believes in it and has been writing more of it again. Reviewed oxycotin, q12 dosing and abuse deterrent properties as well. He thinks that is important but likes hysingla for that reason and that it is once a day. He doesn't like the idea of his patients taking pills all day. One at the right dose is what makes the most sense to him.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Tallmadge	OH	44278	9/10/2015	Lunch appointment with office. Discussed with all physicians the opportunities they have with my ER products. PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/10/2015	Follow up from lunch program with Lonsdorf and Everly. Dr said he really lied them and it's good they already have found a place for the product. I reminded dr about where and when to use and insurance opportunities. Dr said ICD 10 is out which has changed all the coding. For pain management and it's taking a lot of time woo ever Tera is doing a great job getting the products covered. Reminded about using Butrans and to titrate before he would increase prn meds.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44223	9/10/2015	Saw Linda in the hospital while placing copay cards. I asked her how her Butrans patients are doing and if she's finding the need to titrate often? Linda said most patients are on 10mcg but does have some patients in more pain that need a higher dose. Linda said she's been using a lot recently. I told her to keep it up.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	9/10/2015	Doc leaves most of the choices on meds for chronic patients to Roman. He likes the idea of once daily dosing and abuse deterrent properties. For that reason he supports the use of oxycotin and hysingla. His mind is more on surgery. He may do 7 per day, spine, total....
PPLPMDL0020000001	Northfield	OH	44067	9/10/2015	Quick call, saying goodbye, using portfolio piece stressing the importance of ER meds with abuse deterrent properties for appropriate patients in around the clock pain. There are options! Used abuse folder to discuss that for a bit and she had to leave.

PPLPMDL0020000001	Beachwood	OH	44122	9/11/2015	Handed doctor a savings card for hysingla, asked if it looked familiar? He said he had one in his pocket, still has to find a patient. Handed him Sonia patient profile. Patient like this would be appropriate. He said he would take a look. He had to go but reminded him that Butrans is only C3 ER opioid on the market. ER meds are appropriate for patients in around the clock pain. He agreed.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Independence	OH	44131	9/11/2015	Using Helen profile and portfolio piece discussed the changing climate and where butrans fits in his practice. He contemplated in his head. He said that is a product he means to think of but doesn't. I asked what information he needs from me? Reviewed coverage, dosing and titration. Oxycotin works, but uses only when necessary.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Stow	OH	44224	9/11/2015	Told Jon that he can use butrans even for his patients higher up on IR opioids to 40mg of hydrocodone or oxycodone. Showed him the conversion guide and told him that he would stillness to titrate up fairly quickly. Jon said he agrees and has done that and it's worked out ok. Reminded him about BWC and Caresource coverage.
PPLPMDL0020000001	Cuyahoga Falls	OH	44224	9/11/2015	Quick call in hallway as she was coming in for the day and dr said that she has not been writing as much ER opioid recently because she can't deal with all the emblems it causes. I told her if she's specific with her patient selection it shouldn't be bad. Dr said that too many of them just want more and more and I told her that may be for IR opioids because Butrans is a week long patch and hysingla is a once a day ER hydrocodone. Dr agreed and

Opportunity to participate in the Cleveland Clinic 2015 Medical Innovations SummitThis was a 40 min panel discussion on October 27th, 2015 with 4 other physicians (Neuro) from Cleveland Clinic.The panel discussion focused on &#8216;Unraveling the Complexities in the Management of Chronic Pain.&#8217; The discussion highlighted current chronic pain care involving images, surgery, and prescription drugs, and what changes are needed in the future to promote better outcomes while removing waste and risk. Rupa's role was to talk about prescription opioids, how are they currently used, discuss the abuse of opioids, and highlight current innovation and the possibilities for future innovation (OADP). The panel discussion was in front of ~100-200 people.

CHUDAKOB's query on 04/28/2016Kathy, look at the notes under Hysingla ER. Was wondering how you answered this? Did you fill out an E-MERF? Also, please see the notes under OxyContin. Can you clarify based on your discussion, why they "often have to dose Q 8"?LARAWKA's response on 05/02/2016Yes, I did fill out an e-Mirf. Regarding oxycontin. Depending on patient pain level they find sometimes they have to dose that way for low doses of oxycontin. I clarified that it is q12 med.CHUDAKOB's query on 05/04/2016You answered one part of this regarding the EMERF. Why does the HCP often have to prescribe q8 dosing?LARAWKA's response on 05/04/2016I answered both parts. They said that depending on patients pain level, sometimes they find they have to dose q8 for low doses. I clarified with doc that it is a q12 med. do you not see that above? It seemed to not send correctly the other day and I wonder if you didn't get the complete message.CHUDAKOB added notes on 05/05/2016I do now. The learning here's that if they have to dose q8h because they did not receive relief at q12h then that needs to be reported as an AE. It is hard to tell from your explanation as to why they are doing q8h. Please keep this in mind. It is important. Thanks Kathy!

CHUDAKOB's query on 03/07/2016-Krista, please take a look at the notes you wrote for OxyContin. What do you see in what you wrote that could be cause for concern?YOUNGKR's response on 03/08/2016-Would like to take less pills daily. That is not in our fpi so if dr says that I cannot agree with him or comment on it.CHUDAKOB's query on 03/14/2016-You are correct. We cannot make any reference to "less pills" of make any comparative statements regarding pills. The reason for this is that we have no data that compares pill counts. We discussed this on our work session as well. Please do not make any reference to numbers of pills and if the HCP makes that reference, you have an obligation to correct him/her. Does this make sense and do you understand the reason for not discussing number of pills?YOUNGKR's response on 03/15/2016-YesCHUDAKOB added notes on 03/16/2016-Thank you!

CHUDAKOB's query on 07/05/2016Terri, Please look at your call notes for OxyContin. According to the FPI, how is OxyContin dosed?CONWATE's response on 07/06/2016Every 12 hours which would be twice a day.CHUDAKOB's query on 07/11/2016Terri, thank you for your response. Our FPI says every 12 hours. This is NOT the same as twice a day. Twice a day could mean at 7AM and 3 PM. Every 12 hours is 7 AM and 7PM as an example. Please make sure that you are conveying every 12 hours and not twice a day to your HCPs and capturing that accurate message in your call notes. Do these difference make sense?CONWATE's response on 07/12/2016OkCHUDAKOB added notes on 07/13/2016Thank you

OADP presentationFind out status on Hysingla and if they are going to follow ESI status. Currently have a strict PA in place. Only 22 scripts have gone through Chris Jarman and I met with Marko Blagojevic, Manager of Clinical Pharmacy Programs, and Holly Miller, Clinical Pharmacist. Provided an overview of Hysingla ER and OADP.

Sent email to Dr. Souzdalnitski to set up a meeting to discuss pain interests and OIC. He responded with the following: "I just realized that you are unlikely going to benefit from my expertise since I have no interest in clinical research of opioids, or medicines which alleviate their side effects. Most of our patients have chronic musculoskeletal pain or headaches. The best treatment for opioid-induced constipation in these patients is weaning from opioids. That is exactly what we are doing in our practice"

-Dr. Minster stated the following regarding discussion of OIC (Discussion cut short):1)Very knowledgeable about OIC and constipation in general. However, when treating patients with opioids she only addresses OIC when patients indicate it is a problem. Doesn't treat prophylactically with any OTC products.2)Would like to hear more about Symproic once the product is de-scheduled. -Most of discussion focused on pain management and opioid use.3)Treats non-cancer patients4)Supports and appreciates what Purdue has done in trying to combat the abuse epidemic.5)Really gets the patient involved in their treatment of pain. 6)Discusses with patients the risks of opioid use. Leaves decision to the patient whether they want to be treated with opioids after learning about the risks. Does drug screenings on all of her patients treated with opioids. 7)Likes Butrans and tries to use it as often as she can.8)Was not aware that OxyContin had been reformulated with OADR. We discussed the reformulation.9)Would use Hysingla ER more if there was a 10 mg dose available. Feels that when transitioning someone from IR such as Percocet 20 mg/day that 20 mg of Hysingla ER is too high. 10)When prescribing opioids, products with ADP do not influence her decision. Feels that appropriate patient education and monitoring work. 11)Touched upon our educational resources, will discuss further in the future with her and her staff.

CHUDAKOB's query on 05/12/2017Rod, while I understand how difficult this Dr. can be, how does your next call objective help you move the call forward?GRIFFRO's response on 05/12/2017Until this group gets more experience with Hysingla ER, it reminds me to basically cover everything until I find what is most important to the clinicians. The doctor's main concern is the patients ability to access the product at the pharmacy. I gave him the pharmacy locator on a previous call and my plan is to follow up on that as well.CHUDAKOB added notes on 05/17/2017I would like to see much more specific, goal oriented next call objectives. I believe you understand how important this can be to furthering the sales call.

Dr. Nickels stated the following during our discussion of OIC:1) Very knowledgeable about OIC and treatments.2) Asks patients at every visit about side effects especially constipation. Patients are well educated on this and patients will ask him about treatment because of seeing ad on TV or Movantik poster that is in the waiting room.3) Begins patients with non-pharmacologic and OTCs (ie, Miralax, Senokot) treatments.4) When using Rx medication, likes Movantik and uses often.5) Explains to patients that medication is to be taken daily and is not a "prn" medication.6) Not aware of any Drug-Drug Interactions or side effects reported by patients.7) Interested in having a follow-up discussion once Symproic is de-scheduled.8) He does see utility in opioids with abuse deterrent properties and likes Hysingla ER.9) Conducts thorough assessments of patients before prescribing opioids (UDT and vitals every visit, PDMP review quarterly).10) Refers patients with addiction issues to rehab and works with them to ensure enrollment.11) Really appreciates the non-branded educational materials that Purdue offers and spoke highly of the RxReacts programs.12) Runs a Suboxone clinic once a week.
